Power And Poverty:

Power and Poverty Peter Bachrach, Morton S. Baratz, 1972 A new and significant study in the field of community power presenting a new approach to the analysis and correlates of power Poverty and Power Edward Royce, 2009 Poverty and Power suggests that today's poverty results from deep rooted disparities in income wealth and power The rate and severity of poverty remain high because millions of Americans are trapped in low wage jobs inadequately served by government policy excluded from mainstream policy debates and victimized by discrimination and social exclusion Power and Poverty Peter Bachrach, Morton S. Baratz, 1977 From Poverty to Power Duncan Green, 2008 Offers a look at the causes and effects of poverty and inequality as well as the possible solutions This title features research human stories statistics and compelling arguments It discusses about the world we live in and how we can make it a better place Power, Poverty, and Urban Policy Warner Bloomberg, 1968 Why Nations Fail Daron Acemoglu, James A. Robinson, 2013-09-17 NEW YORK TIMES AND WALL STREET JOURNAL BESTSELLER From two winners of the 2024 Nobel Prize in Economic Sciences who have demonstrated the importance of societal institutions for a country's prosperity A wildly ambitious work that hopscoches through history and around the world to answer the very big question of why some countries get rich and others don't The New York Times FINALIST Financial Times and Goldman Sachs Business Book of the Year Award ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR The Washington Post Financial Times The Economist BusinessWeek Bloomberg The Christian Science Monitor The Plain Dealer Why are some nations rich and others poor divided by wealth and poverty health and sickness food and famine Is it culture the weather or geography that determines prosperity or poverty As Why Nations Fail shows none of these factors is either definitive or destiny Drawing on fifteen years of original research Daron Acemoglu and James Robinson conclusively show that it is our man made political and economic institutions that underlie economic success or the lack of it Korea to take just one example is a remarkably homogenous nation yet the people of North Korea are among the poorest on earth while their brothers and sisters in South Korea are among the richest The differences between the Koreas is due to the politics that created those two different institutional trajectories Acemoglu and Robinson marshal extraordinary historical evidence from the Roman Empire the Mayan city states the Soviet Union the United States and Africa to build a new theory of political economy with great relevance for the big questions of today among them Will China's economy continue to grow at such a high speed and ultimately overwhelm the West Are America's best days behind it Are we creating a vicious cycle that enriches and empowers a small minority This book will change the way people think about the wealth and poverty of nations as ambitious as Jared Diamond's Guns Germs and Steel BusinessWeek Power and Poverty Dewi Arwel Hughes, 2008 Power and Poverty Divine and Human Rule in a World of Need The Circular Structure of Power Torben Bech Dyrberg, 1997 Few concepts in social theory have been used so extravagantly in recent years as the notion of power Yet despite its inflated presence the term is still unclear and undertheorized In The Circular Structure of Power Torben Dyrberg risers to the challenge of conceptualizing power through a philosophical examination of its uses in contemporary social theory Drawing on the insights of Michel Foucault Ernesto Laclau and Chantal Mouffe Dyrberg brings this continental tradition into a creative dialogue with the Anglo American tradition represented by figures such as Steven Lukes William Connolly Peter Bachrach and Morton Baratz Moreover Dyrberg moves from such abstract considerations to their implications for political and democratic theory through an examination of the work of thinkers as diverse as Robert Dahl John Rawls Jürgen Habermas and Nicos Poulantzas Simultaneously engaging with and defying many of the dominant definitions of power Torben Dyrberg destabilizes and undermines the conventional distinctions and polarities through which power is usually understood The new perspective offered to us by this investigation is one which goes beyond the assumption that power can be based on and derived from either agency or structure as if these categories themselves were not somehow constituted by power Power, Knowledge and Political Spaces in the Framing of Poverty Policy Karen Brock, Andrea Cornwall, John Gaventa, 2001

With Power Comes Responsibility Maeve McKeown, 2024-02-08 What is structural injustice and who ultimately bears responsibility for it In answering these questions Maeve McKeown goes beyond the widely accepted narrative of unintended consequences and blameless participation to explain how power and responsibility truly function in today's world Drawing on case studies from sweatshops to climate change McKeown identifies three types of structural injustice the pure and unintended accumulation of disparate activities the avoidable injustice that could be ameliorated by the powerful but nevertheless continues the deliberate perpetuation of structural processes that benefit powerful political and economic agents In each of these the role of power is different which changes the allocation of responsibility From this understanding we can shape a deeper more sophisticated idea of how structural injustice operates and what we as individuals can do about it What is the political responsibility of ordinary individuals How can ordinary individuals with very little power pressure morally responsible powerful agents to address structural injustice Do we have the same responsibility for historical injustice as we do for that which we see in today's world This is fundamental reassessment of the relationship between power ordinary people and responsibility for structural injustice

The Poverty of Power Barry Commoner, 1980 Poverty and Power Douglas R. Poor People's Movements Why They Succeed How They Fail An altogether exemplary work that adds much to our understanding of the links between institutional and non institutional politics Doug McAdam author of Freedom Summer During the 1980s the rich got richer while the poor got poorer In 1981 alone 70 percent of the 35 billion cut from the federal budget came from programs for the poor Although the disparity in incomes has been widely reported the efforts of antipoverty activists and groups combating the Reagan Bush agenda have largely been overlooked Poverty and Power follows the rise decline and partial resurgence of poor Americans representation from the War on Poverty to the Reagan Revolution Drawing on personal interviews and financial reports Douglas R Imig examines the political activity and organizational crises of antipoverty groups including the Center on Social Welfare Policy and Law the Food Research and Action Center the Community Nutrition Institute Bread for the World the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities and the Children's Defense Fund His findings delineate how electoral policy and economic change in the 1980s posed a direct threat to the welfare of the poor and suggest reasons why no massive mobilization for social justice emerged Still the dogged efforts of advocates and activists culminated in the passage of the 1987 McKinney Homeless Assistance Act the first positive federal intervention into domestic social policy since the Reagan inauguration Imig helps us understand the complex relationships between opportunity and action that characterize all social movements Douglas R Imig is an assistant professor of public administration at the University of Nevada Las Vegas
