Governance in Modern Society Oscar van Heffen, Walter J.M. Kickert, Jacques J.A. Thomassen, 2013-03-09 This book is the immediate result of the co operation of a great number of scholars in the Netherlands Institute of Government NIG NIG is an interuniversity research school As such it has a double task In addition to offering a Ph D program to students in Public Administration it also is a research institute in which a great number of scholars from seven Dutch universities participate and work on a common research program The chapters in this book are all products of the research program that started in 1995 This program had the ambition to explore the frontiers of the discipline in two respects First by studying a number of recent developments in society and their consequences for the functioning of government These consequences can be summarised as the development of a system of multi level and multi actor governance Second by contributing to the knowledge of institutions both by studying what factors are most important in the formation and change of institutions and by studying the effects of institutions on the behaviour of actors in different political and administrative settings Most contributions to this volume either have their origin in conferences organized by the NIG or were published as an NIG working paper We are grateful to Marcia Clifford and Connie Hoekstra who prepared the final version of the manuscript to Ian Priestnall who took care of the language editing and to an anonymous reviewer whose comments were gratefully used

Public Administration, Sixth Edition, A Comparative Perspective. Ferrel Heady, 2001-02-13 Continuing in the standard of excellence set by previous editions this sixth edition assesses the bureaucracies and development of governments around the world providing helpful and revealing analyses of the relationships between bureaucracies and political regimes

With over 1000 literature references tables and drawings the book has been updated to reflect changes in the political systems of the former Soviet Union Eastern Europe and the developing world The editor clearly articulates recent developments in the shifting global political landscape and discusses how conditions in development administration and comparative public policy affect nation states Public Sector Reform in Developing and Transitional Countries Christopher Rees, Farhad Hossain, 2013-09-13 Over recent decades decentralization has emerged as a key Public Sector Reform strategy in a wide variety of international contexts Yet despite its emergence as a ubiquitous activity that cuts across disciplinary lines in international development decentralization is understood and applied in many different ways by parties acting from contrary perspectives This book offers a fascinating insight into theory and practice surrounding decentralization activities in the Public Sectors of developing and transitional countries In drawing on the expertise of established scholars the book explores the contexts achievements progress and challenges of decentralization and local governance Notably the contributions contained in this book are genuinely international in nature the chapters explore aspects of decentralization and local governance in contexts as diverse as Ghana Hong Kong India Indonesia Kazakhstan Morocco Tanzania Uganda and Viet Nam In summary by examining the subject of decentralization with reference to specific developing and transitional Public Sector contexts in which it has been practiced this book offers an excellent contribution towards a better understanding of the theory and practice of decentralization and local governance in international settings This book was published as a special double issue of the International Journal of Public Administration Moving Beyond the Crisis : Reclaiming and Reaffirming our Common Administrative Space Demetrios Argyriades, Gérard Timsit, 2013-03-14 With the financial meltdown and the economic crisis in their fifth year already no one can any longer be in doubt about their exceptional gravity their truly global impact and their profound effects hurting vulnerable groups and the very poor especially As the world looks for an exit from this economic crisis the worst in eight decades the focus of attention is naturally on the causes the factors that account for its wide reach and severity as well as on strategies that might bring it to a closure The quest for exit strategies is at the very centre of the issues and concerns explored in the present volume produced by the IIAS Like the preceding volumes but even more emphatically this volume representing a collective endeavour of scholars and practitioners from many parts of the globe finds cause to lay the blame for our difficult predicament on the institutional deficit the policies the practices and values that have followed in the trail of a highly misleading and erroneous model of governance The Market Model of Governance as it is known sought to reform the structures and culture of administration and government in private sector ways While instrumental values like efficiency and effectiveness were raised and praised profusely those of democratic governance were discounted by comparison In particular integrity the rule of law and due process equity legality and public service professionalism suffered a steep decline in several parts of the world Likewise the invasion and the capture of public space inevitably led to an unprecedented surge of greed abuse and corruption that contributed directly to the crisis which is upon us Looking for exit strategies as its title aptly suggests the present volume offers a rich menu of ideas drawn from the current experience of all the world's main regions Not surprisingly two concepts stand out throughout the book as necessary correctives as well as pressing remedies to the world's ongoing malaise They call for the recapture of our common administrative space and the reaffirmation of the values and virtues appropriate for democratic governance To the IIAS none perhaps are more important than public service professionalism and none other can contribute more effectively to the reform and consolidation of sound institutions for national sub national global and regional governance For these reasons at this juncture the new volume like the others should be featured in every public library and become a vademecum of all scholars and practitioners of public administration and politics around the world public administration reflects its historical roots as well as contemporary ideas about how the public bureaucracy should be organized and function This book argues that there are administrative traditions that have their roots centuries ago but continue to influence administrative behaviour Further within Western Europe North America and the Antipodes there are four distinctive administrative traditions Anglo American Napoleonic Germanic and Scandinavian These are not the only traditions however and the book also explores administrative traditions in Central and Eastern Europe Latin America Asia and the Islamic world In addition the book contains a discussion of how administrative traditions of the colonial powers influenced contemporary administration in Africa and how they continue to interact with traditional forms of governance These discussions of tradition and persistence are also discussed in light of the numerous attempts to reform and change public administration Some administrative traditions have been more capable than others of resisting attempts at reform especially those associated with the New Public Management Contradictions of Neoliberal Planning Tuna Taşan-Kok, Guy Baeten, 2011-09-24 This book argues that the concepts of neoliberalism and neoliberalisation while in common use across the whole range of social sciences have thus far been generally overlooked in planning theory and the analysis of planning practice Offering insights from papers presented during a conference session at a meeting of the Association of American Geographers in Boston in 2008 and a number of commissioned chapters this book fills this significant hiatus in the study of planning What the case studies from Africa Asia North America and Europe included in this volume have in common is that they all reveal the uneasy cohabitation of planning some kind of state intervention for the betterment of our built and natural environment and neoliberalism a belief in the superiority of market mechanisms to organize land use and the inferiority of its opposite state intervention Planning if anything may be seen as being in direct contrast to neoliberalism as something that should be rolled back or even annihilated through neoliberal practice To combine neoliberal and planning in one phrase then seems awkward at best and an outright oxymoron at worst To admit to the very existence or epistemological possibility of neoliberal planning may appear to be a total surrender of state planning to market superiority or in other words the simple acceptance that the management of buildings transport infrastructure parks conservation areas etc beyond the profit principle has reached its limits in the 21st century Planning in this case would be reduced to a mere facilitator of market forces in the city be it gentle or authoritarian Yet in spite of these contradictions and outright impossibilities planners operate within contribute to resist or temper an increasingly neoliberal mode of producing spaces and places or the revival of profit driven changes in land use It is this contradiction between the serving of private profit seeking interests while actually seeking the public betterment of cities that this volume has sought to describe explore analyze and make sense of through a set of case studies covering a wide range of planning issues in various countries This book lays bare just how spatial planning functions in an age of market triumphalism how planners respond to the overruling profit principle in land allocation and what is left of non profit driven developments
