Powerful Days Michael Schelling Durham, Charles Moore, 1991 Significant pictures of Civil rights movement in the South from 1958 to 1965 photographed by Charles Moore Advancing the Civil Rights Movement Michael DiBari Jr., 2017-02-15 Advancing the Civil Rights Movement Race and Geography of Life Magazine's Visual Representation 1954-1965 examines the way Life Magazine covered the civil rights movement visually and geographically Michael DiBari addresses Life's visual impact and representation in the struggle for equal rights Birmingham 1963 Shelley Tougas, 2010-02 In May 1963 news photographer Charles Moore was on hand to document the Children's Crusade a civil rights protest But the photographs he took that day did more than document an event they helped change history His photograph of a trio of African American teenagers being slammed against a building by a blast of water from a fire hose was especially powerful The image of this brutal treatment turned Americans into witnesses at a time when hate and prejudice were on trial It helped rally the civil rights movement and energized the public making civil rights a national problem needing a national solution And it paved the way for Congress to finally pass laws to give citizens equal rights regardless of the color of their skin Unfamiliar Streets Katherine A. Bussard, 2014-03-11 div Revolutionizing the history of street photography Unfamiliar Streets demonstrates an expanded understanding of the genre through the work of a fashion photographer a photojournalist a conceptual artist and a contemporary artist DIV When the Children Marched Robert H. Mayer, 2008-01-01 Referred to as the most segregated city in America Birmingham Alabama became a hotbed for civil rights activity in the early 1960s Great African American leaders including Dr Martin Luther King Jr and the Reverend Fred Shuttlesworth helped lead the civil rights movement in the city In Birmingham African American youth marched sang and spoke out against segregation Although they faced police dogs and fire hoses they offered non violent resistance and did not back down This book explores the civil rights leaders who organized the movement and the brave children and teens at the heart of the fight Black Enterprise, 1992-12 BLACK ENTERPRISE is the ultimate source for wealth creation for African American professionals entrepreneurs and corporate executives Every month BLACK ENTERPRISE delivers timely useful information on careers small business and personal finance Seeing through Race Martin A. Berger, 2011-05-02 Seeing through Race is a boldly original reinterpretation of the iconic photographs of the black civil rights struggle Martin A Berger's provocative and groundbreaking study shows how the very pictures credited with arousing white sympathy and thereby paving the way for civil rights legislation actually limited the scope of racial reform in the 1960s Berger analyzes many of these famous images dogs and fire hoses turned against peaceful black marchers in Birmingham tear gas and clubs wielded against voting rights marchers in Selma and argues that because white sympathy was dependent on photographs of powerless blacks these unforgettable pictures undermined efforts to enact or even imagine reforms that threatened to upend the racial balance of power Imprisoned in a Luminous Glare Leigh Raiford, 2011 In Imprisoned in a Luminous Glare Leigh Raiford argues that over the past one hundred years activists in the black freedom struggle have used photographic imagery both to gain political recognition and to develop a different visual vocabulary about American Photojournalism Claude Hubert Cookman, 2009 The traditional approach to studying American photojournalism explains the what and who of photojournalism what events and developments occurred what notable images were taken and who took them Without neglecting those concerns American Photojournalism emphasizes the why Like Andy Warhol Jonathan Flatley, 2023-01-04 There are over 30 books about Andy Warhol Jonathan Flatley's will be the first that is truly comprehensive there's so much more to Warhol than the famous silk screens of Marilyn Monroe or the Campbell's soup cans and the first to reveal the internal logic of the artist's life and his aesthetic activities showing what binds them together enabling us to see his art and life as a totality Here's a partial inventory of Warhol's doings movies this includes Warhol's affection for bad acting his collecting jewelry Art Deco furniture perfumes conversation tapes 10 000 hours snapshots 66 000 even scores of Polaroids of male genitals visitors to his studio were asked to drop their pants for the camera and in addition to the silk screens the paintings drawings prints sculptures as well as novels and memoirs there was even a monthly gossip magazine For one two year period everyone who came to his studio the Factory was obliged to take a screen test a collectivity of misfits misfitting together Warhol had an extraordinary talent for liking things Flatley appropriates liking as a central theme here showing how Warhol helps us see likeness across differences Like Andy Warhol is the best full length study of the artist and no single artist today is more representative of postmodern culture than Warhol Pet Projects Elizabeth Young, 2019-12-15 In Pet Projects Elizabeth Young joins an analysis of the representation of animals in nineteenth century fiction taxidermy and the visual arts with a first person reflection on her own scholarly journey Centering on Margaret Marshall Saunders a Canadian woman writer once famous for her animal novels and incorporating Young's own experience of a beloved animal's illness this study highlights the personal and intellectual stakes of a pet project of cultural criticism Young assembles a broad archive of materials beginning with Saunders's novels and widening outward to include fiction nonfiction photography and taxidermy She coins the term first dog voice to describe the narrative technique of novels such as Saunders's Beautiful Joe written in the first person from the perspective of an animal She connects this voice to contemporary political issues revealing how animal fiction such as Saunders's reanimates nineteenth century writing about both feminism and slavery Highlighting the prominence of taxidermy in the late nineteenth century she suggests that Saunders transforms taxidermic techniques in surprising ways that provide new forms of authority for women Young adapts Freud to analyze literary representations of mourning by and for animals and she examines how Canadian writers including Saunders use animals to explore race ethnicity and national identity Her wide ranging investigation incorporates twenty first as well as nineteenth century works of literature and culture including recent art using taxidermy and contemporary film Throughout she reflects on the tools she uses to craft her analyses examining the state of scholarly fields from feminist criticism to animal studies With a lively first person voice that

Stanton,2011-03-04 In 1963 the streams of religious revival racial strife and cold war politics were feeding the swelling river of social unrest in America Marshaling massive forces civil rights leaders were primed for a widescale attack on injustice in the South By summer the conflict rose to great intensity as Blacks and whites clashed in Birmingham Outside the massive drive Bill Moore a white mail carrier had made his own assault a few months earlier Jeered and assailed as he made a solitary civil rights march along the Deep South highways he was ridiculed by racists as a crazy man His well publicized purpose to walk from Chattanooga to Jackson and hand deliver a plea for racial tolerance to Ross Barnett the staunchly segregationist governor of Mississippi On April 23 on a highway near Attalla Alabama this lone crusader was shot dead Although he was not a nobly ideal figure handpicked by shapers of the movement inadvertently he became one of its earliest martyrs and until now part of an overlooked chapter in the history of the civil rights movement Floyd Simpson a grocer and a member of the Gadsden Alabama chapter of the Ku Klux Klan was charged with Moore s murder A week later a white college student named Sam Shirah led five Black and five white volunteers into Alabama to finish Moore s walk They were beaten and jailed Four other attempts to complete the postman s quest were similarly stymied Moore had kept a journal that detailed his goal Using it along with interviews and extensive newspaper and newsreel reports Mary Stanton has documented this phenomenal freedom walk as seen through the eyes of Moore Shirah and the gunman the three protagonists Though all shared a deep love of the South their strong feelings about who was entitled to walk its highways were in deadly conflict
