Practical Education For The Unimaginable:

Theatre as a Medium for Children and Young People: Images and Observations Shifra Schonmann, 2006-07-10

This book is a journey into the dual territory of educational and theatrical settings. It advances the knowledge in these settings by touching upon provocative questions by dealing with the limitations and challenging the new possibilities of theatre for young people. It is an attempt to bring intellectual rigor and some theoretical perspectives drawn from recent theatre and aesthetic theory to the field of theatre for young people.

Transforming Multicultural Education Policy and Practice James A. Banks, 2021. Join us in celebrating the 25th anniversary of James A. Banks' Multicultural Education Series published by Teachers College Press, a dynamic series consisting of more than 70 published books with many more in the pipeline. This commemorative volume features engaging incisive and timely selections from the bestselling and most influential books in the series. Together these selections address how multicultural education should be transformed for a nation and world that are becoming increasingly complex due to virulent racism, pernicious nationalism, mass migrations, interracial mixing, social class stratification, and a global pandemic.

Book Features: Informative and engaging selections from the most important and influential publications in the Multicultural Education Series. An introduction by James A. Banks that integrates and interrelates the chapters and describes how they can be used to transform multicultural education for a changing world. An afterword by Margaret Smith Crocco that synthesizes the book and describes ways to implement school reform that expands educational opportunity. Contributors: James A. Banks, Cherry A. McGee, Banks, Margaret Smith Crocco, Linda Darling-Hammond, Robin DiAngelo, Paul C. Gorski, Tyrone C. Howard, Gary R. Howard, Carol D. Lee, James W. Loewen, Sonia Nieto, Pedro A. Noguera, Zlem Sensoy, Christine E. Sleeter, Esa Syeed, Guadalupe Valdés, Miguel Zavala.

J. Krishnamurti and Educational Practice Meenakshi Thapan, 2018-07-27 First in the series on Education and Society in South Asia this volume focuses on the educational thought of a world renowned teacher thinker and writer Jiddu Krishnamurti 1895 1986 This edited volume examines Krishnamurti's work and explores his contemporary relevance in educational endeavours and practices in different parts of the country The contributors to the volume argue that Krishnamurti sought to change the way education is perceived from the mere teaching of curriculum into a life changing experience of learning from relationships and life Through a range of essays that address diverse issues and themes the contributors seek to uncover the practices and processes at some of the institutions that Krishnamurti established in different parts of rural and urban India These include essays on curriculum building inclusive education pedagogy debates on educational philosophy and practice and teacher education They help bring out the barriers and breakthroughs in the educational processes as practiced in these schools and how they may further be applied to other educational institutions

Bourdieu and Chinese Education Guanglun Michael Mu, Karen Dooley, Allan Luke, 2018-10-26 This book uses Bourdieu's sociological approach for research as a jumping off point for framing our understandings and analyses of China and Chinese education Three major themes inequality competition and change are explored across several theoretical and contextual bases Bringing together top scholars in the field the volume examines empirical studies that analyse social mobility through education for students affected by the social divides of class culture and rural urban locations teacher identity and the field of schooling in the current Chinese environment and going forward and the university as an institution for the production of knowledge about education in the globalising academy Offering insights into the historical and cultural context for China's educational landscape the contributions of this book revisit Bourdieusian concepts from a new empirical vantage point and bring together key studies that illuminate new pathways for the study of Chinese sociology of education

"Proof," Policy, and Practice Paul E. Lingenfelter, 2023-07-03 How can we fix our schools Improve graduation rates in college What works These are questions that make the headlines and vex policy makers practitioners and educational researchers While they strive to improve society there are frequently gulfs of mutual

incomprehension among them Academics longing for more influence may wrongly fault irrationality ideology or ignorance for the failure of research to inform policy and practice more powerfully Policy makers and practitioners may doubt that academics can deliver ideas that will reliably yield desirable results This book bridges the divide It argues that unrealistic expectations lead to both unproductive research and impossible standards for evidence based policy and practice and it offers promising ways for evidence to contribute to improvement It analyzes the utility and limitations of the different research methods that have been applied to policy and practice as well as the strengths and weaknesses of educational reform strategies It explains why using evidence for accountability often makes things worse rather than better Paul Lingenfelter offers educational researchers and policy makers a framework for considering such questions as What problems are important and accessible What methods will be fruitful Which help policy makers and practitioners make choices and learn how to improve What information is relevant What knowledge is valid and useful How can policy makers and practitioners establish a more productive division of labor based on their respective capabilities and limitations He cautions against the illusion that straight forward scientific approaches and data can be successfully applied to society s most complex problems While explaining why no single policy or intervention can solve complex problems he concludes that determination measurement analysis and adaptation based on evidence in specific situations can lead to significant improvement This positive even handed introduction to the use of research for problem solving concludes by suggesting emerging practices and approaches that can help scholars practitioners and policy leaders become more successful in reaching their fundamental goals

The Practice of self-inquiry. P.V.S. SURYANARAYANA RAJU, 2012-02-09 Self inquiry does not demand any faith nor does it depend on any system of thought or belief It demands integrated awareness and right effort which dissolve self centred illusions limitations and thus bring about the revelation of blissful reality If you really want to help others you must discern your own limitation We must note that self inquiry is not a theology A man protecting himself constantly through such knowledge is obviously not a truth seeker When you want to find something new the mind must be quiet If the mind is crowded filled with the facts and borrowed knowledge they act as the impediment to the new The difficulty for most of us is that the mind i e thought has become so important so predominantly significant that it interferes constantly with anything that may be new with anything that may exist simultaneously with the known Thus borrowed knowledge and learning are impediments for those who would seek for those who would try to understand that which is beyond thought

Performative Approaches in Arts Education Anna-Lena Østern,Kristian Nødtvedt Knudsen,2019-02-01 In Performative Approaches in Arts Education researchers artists and practitioners from philosophy and the arts elaborate on what performative approaches can contribute to 21st century arts education Introducing new perspectives on learning the contributors provide a central international perspective developing a paradigm in which the artist teacher and researcher s form of teaching is enmeshed with content and human agency is entangled with non human matter The book explores issues connected to both teaching and learning in the arts engaging in debates about the value of meaning making in the artistic process the way social ethos can guide performative approaches and the changes in education that performative approaches can bring Performative Approaches in Arts Education will be of great interest to academics researchers and post graduate students in the fields of arts education philosophy of education and education research methods It will also appeal to teachers and teacher educators artists and teaching artists Research and Practice in Education Cynthia E. Coburn, Mary Kay Stein, 2010-04-16 That there is a divide between research and practice is a common lament across policy oriented disciplines and education is no exception Rhetoric abounds about the role research plays or does not play in the improvement of schools and classrooms and policy makers push solutions that are rooted in assumptions about the way that research should influence practice Yet few people have studied the relationship between research and practice empirically This book presents findings from a series of interlocking case studies of nationally visible R D projects with a unique focus on how researchers and practitioners actually worked together and the policy social and institutional processes that either enabled or hindered their work The book investigates the dynamics of cross institutional collaboration and the relationship between tool design teacher learning and the implementation of research based approaches It also explores conditions for learning in schools and the role of evidence in district decision making By investigating the roles played by research and practice in these ten educational improvement efforts the book illuminates lessons for those who seek to do this kind of work in the future It concludes by suggesting implications for designers funders school and district leaders and universities

Posthuman Research Practices in Education Carol Taylor, Christina Hughes, 2016-04-08 How do we include and develop understandings of those beyond the human aspects of the world in social research Through fifteen contributions from leading international thinkers this book provides original approaches to posthumanist research practices in education It responds to questions which consider the effect and reach of posthuman research Assessment: Social Practice and Social Product Ann Filer, 2002-11-01 Assessment has become one of the most significant areas of interest in educational policy development as well as the focus of complex political economic and cultural expectations for change Increasingly governments worldwide have become aware that curricula and teachers can be indirectly controlled through programmes of assessment Opponents of centralized systems of mass assessment claim they are ill suited to the diverse and changing needs of learners and users of assessment In this text the UK and US writers take the reader beyond the obvious functions of assessment and focus upon the roles it performs in the social structuring of society They examine the myths and assumptions that underpin assessment and testing and draw attention to its cultural context This collection is devoted explicitly to socio cultural studies of assessment and attempts to map the terrain of some 30 years of study in the field Chapters are organized thematically with background text providing comparative perspectives key issues and further reading The book provides a wide ranging structured and accessible approach to the study of socio cultural origins and impacts of assessment

Improving Academic Performance and Achievement With Inclusive Learning Practices Charamba, Erasmios, Ndhlovana, Shalom Nokuthula, 2025-06-06 Improving academic performance and achievement requires educational systems to adopt inclusive learning practices that recognize and accommodate the diverse needs of all students Inclusive education emphasizes equitable access to learning opportunities tailored instructional methods and supportive environments that value each learner's background abilities and learning style. By implementing strategies such as differentiated instruction, collaborative teaching, and assistive technologies, educators can foster engagement and enhance outcomes for students from various socioeconomic, linguistic, and ability backgrounds. Further research into inclusive learning practices may promote academic success, social cohesion, and lifelong learning.

Improving Academic Performance and Achievement With Inclusive Learning Practices explores the integration of inclusive education into academic practices. It examines the use of new curricula, teaching methods, and achievement parameters for improved academic performance across education sectors. This book covers topics such as gamification, multilingualism, and open distance learning and is a useful resource for educators, academicians, researchers, and scientists.
