Martial Arts Cinema and Hong Kong Modernity Man-Fung Yip, 2017-09-05 At the core of Martial Arts Cinema and Hong Kong Modernity Aesthetics Representation Circulation is a fascinating paradox the martial arts film long regarded as a vehicle of Chinese cultural nationalism can also be understood as a mass cultural expression of Hong Kong's modern urban industrial society This important and popular genre Man Fung Yip argues articulates the experiential qualities the competing social subjectivities and gender discourses as well as the heightened circulation of capital people goods information and technologies in Hong Kong of the 1960s and 1970s In addition to providing a novel conceptual framework for the study of Hong Kong martial arts cinema and shedding light on the nexus between social change and cultural aesthetic form this book offers perceptive analyses of individual films including not only the canonical works of King Hu Chang Cheh and Bruce Lee but also many lesser known ones by Lau Kar leung and Chor Yuen among others that have not been adequately discussed before Thoroughly researched and lucidly written Yip's stimulating study will ignite debates in new directions for both scholars and fans of Chinese language martial arts cinema Yip subjects critical clichés to rigorous examination moving beyond generalized notions of martial arts cinema's appeal and offering up informed scrutiny of every facet of the genre. He has the ability to encapsulate these films' particularities with cogent examples and at the same time demonstrate a thorough familiarity with the historical context in which this endlessly fascinating genre arose. David Desser, professor emeritus, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Eschewing a reductive chronology, Yip offers a persuasive, detailed and sophisticated excavation of martial arts cinema which is read through and in relation to rapid transformation of Hong Kong in the 1960s and 1970s. An exemplar of critical genre study, this book represents a significant contribution to the discipline. Yvonne Tasker, professor of film studies and dean of the Faculty of Arts and Humanities, University of East Anglia.

Japanese Film and the Challenge of Video Tom Mes, 2023-05-19. This book explores the phenomenon of V Cinema, founded in Japan in 1989 as a distribution system for direct-to-video movies which film companies began making having failed to recoup their investment in big budget films. It examines how studios and directors worked quickly to capitalize on niche markets or upcoming and current trends and how, as a result, this period of history in Japanese cinema was an exceptionally diverse and vibrant film scene. It highlights how, although the V Cinema industry declined from around 1995, the explosion in quantity and variety of such movies established and cemented many specific genres of Japanese film. Importantly, the book argues that film scholars who have long looked down on video as a substandard medium without scholarly interest have been wrong to do so and that V Cinema challenges accepted notions of cultural value, providing insight into the formation of cinematic canons and inviting us to rethink what is meant by Japanese cinema. Japanese Idols Go to China Xiaofei Tu, Wendy Xie, 2022-10-25. This book situates the Chinese acceptance of Japanese popular culture, specifically the intriguing and sometimes awkward relationship between the idol groups AKB48 and SNH48, within the broad context of nationalist ideology and international relations in East Asia. It aims to enhance the knowledge and understanding of the reader about contemporary East Asian cultural exchanges and nationalist expressions in concrete forms. Additionally, this book attempts to discover heretofore overlooked aspects of nationalism's metamorphosis in both China and Japan and challenge the existing scholarly and popular understandings of nationalism. By interrogating the nationalism factor in popular culture in Chinese and Japanese contexts, this book concludes that popular culture fandom can both be a culprit in promoting hegemonic political ideologies and serve as a potential antidote. Japanese Cinema Alastair Phillips, Julian Stringer, 2007-12-18. From the Seven Samurai and Godzilla to the Ring, this is an outstanding collection of twenty-four articles on key films of Japanese cinema from the silent era to the present day that presents a full introduction to Japanese cinema history, culture and society.
