Nursing Older People Sally J. Redfern, Fiona Ross, 2006 Nursing Older People focuses on evidence based care and the effectiveness of interventions that support independence It takes a person centred approach to understanding and meeting the needs and problems that nurses and other practitioners deal with every day such as the need to reduce the difficulties faced by problems of pain immobility breathlessness eating and drinking and eliminating for example The accessible evidence based information in this book will help to give practitioners the confidence to challenge the status quo and look for ways to improve the quality of care

BOOK JACKET Caring for Older People Christine Brown Wilson, 2012-11-19 Caring for Older People is a timely and welcome addition to the nursing and health care literature The book introduces and describes collaborative ways of working with older people ensuring that students and practitioners are better equipped to provide consistently high quality care that can make a positive difference to the lives of older people and their families Providing an accessible evidence based framework and a wealth of practical strategies which can be implemented on a daily basis Christine Brown Wilson takes the reader step by step through different approaches to nursing care and shows clearly how that care can move from being a task focused to a person focused experience Case based scenarios threaded throughout the book also illustrate how the quality of care can be enhanced and how students and practitioners can work effectively with older people while balancing the competing demands of the health and social care system The author also shows how nurses can influence current practice equipping the reader with key skills that can be used to challenge poor ways of working and to identify methods through which inadequate provision can be turned around This book will be indispensable reading for all nursing and healthcare students and practitioners who want to improve the quality of life for older people

EBOOK: Working With Older People And Their Families Mike Nolan, Nolan Davies, Gordon Grant, 2001-02-16 Addressing the needs of older people and their carers is an essential element of both policy and practice in the fields of health and social care Recent developments promote a partnership and empowerment model in which the notion of person centred care figures prominently However what person centred care means and how it can be achieved is far from clear Working with Older People and their Families combines extensive reviews of specialist literatures with new empirical data in an attempt at a synthesis of themes about making a reality of person centred care Uniquely it seeks to unite the perspectives of older people family and professional carers in promoting a genuinely holistic approach to the challenges of an ageing society Working with Older People and their Families is recommended reading for students on health related courses such as nursing medicine and the therapies It is also of relevance to students of social work and social gerontology researchers managers and policy makers
