Getting Started , , Global Nutrition Report 2016 International Food Policy Research Institute (IFPRI), 2016-06-14 Few challenges facing the global community today match the scale of malnutrition a condition that directly affects 1 in 3 people Malnutrition manifests itself in many different ways as poor child growth and development as individuals who are skin and bone or prone to infection as those who are carrying too much weight or whose blood contains too much sugar salt fat or cholesterol or those who are deficient in important vitamins or minerals Malnutrition and diet are by far the biggest risk factors for the global burden of disease every country is facing a serious public health challenge from malnutrition The economic consequences represent losses of 11 percent of gross domestic product GDP every year in Africa and Asia whereas preventing malnutrition delivers 16 in returns on investment for every 1

Tackling nutrition in Odisha: Looking back, looking forward Avula, Rasmi, Nguyen, Phuong Hong, Mishra, Nihar, Mitra, Devjit, Kohli, Neha, Menon, Purnima, 2020-12-23. This report explores the state of nutrition in Odisha, assesses how nutrition outcomes changed in the state, and more importantly, examines the road that lies ahead of Odisha on the journey to support better nutrition for the state. Nutrition progress in Odisha: Odisha has made more rapid progress in reducing child undernutrition than many other richer states. Particularly between 2006 and 2016, nutrition and health outcomes improved significantly in the state. The prevalence of stunting declined from 45 percent to 34.1 percent, although there was a marginal increase in wasting from 19.6 to 20.4 percent and in severe wasting from 5.2 to 6.4 percent. In 2018, a further decline was noted in the prevalence of stunting (28.9 percent) and wasting (12.9 percent). Although anemia among women of reproductive age declined by 10 percentage points between 2006 and 2016, it is still high, with over half the women in the state suffering from anemia. Exclusive breastfeeding for children under 6 months of age is an area of progress, improving from 50.8 percent in 2006 to 65.6 percent in 2016. The prevalence of low birth weight, however, remained nearly unchanged during this period. Kohli et al. (2017) Emerging nutritional challenges such as noncommunicable diseases are likely to create new challenges in coming years.

Nutrition in Vulnerable Groups Enbo Ma, Yukiko Wagatsuma, 2024-09-19. Nutrition requirements vary in children, pregnancy, and the elderly for the physiological difference in the body. To maintain good health and prevent diseases, the adequacy of nutrients is essential, and adherence to healthy diets recommended needs to be monitored. Uncertain physical, social, cultural, and economic situations limit access to nutritious intake and impact health, both in the developing e.g. wasting, stunting, underweight, and mineral/vitamin-related malnutrition and developed e.g. obesity worlds. However, a healthy diet is not only determined by food safety and quality but also by food education, nutritional practice during the life stages, and food availability and accessibility to the population. This is true in developing countries but also in developed ones where vulnerable groups, including people living in conditions of poverty, unemployment, lack of schooling, people with forms of addiction, and ethnic minorities, struggle to adhere to healthy diets and choose cheaper and often unhealthy options. As a consequence, excessive consumption of limited nutrients and inappropriate supplementation becomes as unhealthy as not consuming enough. In the past three years, the pandemic of COVID-19 has put significant troubles on human society, exacerbating hard life conditions in vulnerable groups and worsening their adherence to healthy lifestyles and food choices. Therefore, the nutrition and diet-related health issues in vulnerable people must be highlighted and followed up.
