Organizational Change In Transition Societies:

ORGANIZATIONAL CHANGE IN TRANSITION SOCIETIES. JOSEF. LANGER,2017      Organizational Change in Transition Societies Josef Langer,Nikša Alfirević,Jurica Pavicic,2005 This book discusses change management paradigms with special reference to examples and cases from the transition societies in Central and Eastern Europe CEE The special advantage of the text to the potential readership is the integration of macro societal and micro organizational points of view towards understanding change      Organizational Change in Transition Societies Josef Langer,Niksa Alfirevic,J Pavicic,2017-12-04 This book discusses change management paradigms with special reference to examples and cases from the transition societies in Central and Eastern Europe CEE The first chapter analyses developments and trends in the wider societal context of Central and Eastern Europe Theoretical perspectives are applied to understand the processes of transition and EU accession in Central and Eastern Europe Following the second and third chapters the most frequently used tools and procedures of change management are analysed from the perspective of a CEE organization The special advantage of the text to the potential readership is the integration of macro societal and micro organizational points of view towards understanding change The text also provides real life examples and perspectives of understanding and managing change from Central and Eastern Europe which helps the reader to grasp the wider political economic and societal context s of the CEE region      Transition Redesigned Wojciech W. Gasparski,2017-07-28 Transition Redesigned deals with the philosophical bases of different types of transition change in the economy organizational institutional change and change in social and individual relationships The editors primary goal is to give further impetus to a much needed worldwide debate on the issue of transition towards a better future The volume reviews transitions made in different areas of human activity assesses their relevancy and analyzes their contexts During this century different organizations and institutions will undergo a level of radical and global change that has rarely been seen The expected shift must be addressed in terms of a multidimensional transition toward building a sustainable society Do we have an understanding of transition relevant to the task of meeting at least some of the challenges presented in this volume Do we need a radical innovation for redesigning the transition that may enforce real social and ethical responsibilities into organizational practice on different levels and bring to life new ideas Transition Redesigned seeks to answer these questions      Transition, Taxation and the State Gerard Turley,2017-11-30 In economic terms three of the most important and controversial issues of our times are transition taxation and the role of the state This book examines the core associated problems of tax payment and collection in the context of transition from a centrally planned economy to a market economy and the persistence of the soft budget constraint While differences between the experiences of transition states vary the attitude of the state towards the control of the tax discipline its efficiency and vulnerability to corruption is shown to be a key issue in particular when political constraints are often more pressing than tax design or economic constraints Transition Taxation and the State will prove detailed and enlightening reading for all those concerned with tax administration in transition countries from both economic and political perspectives

Education Reform in Societies in Transition Jaya Earnest, David F. Treagust, 2006 Framed against the background of educational change this book proposes to examine the relationship between curriculum change teacher professional development policy reform and the processes of educational change The main aims of the book are to 1 focus on educational changes and reconstruction in transitional societies that have undergone political economic and social change in the past two decades 2 provide a forum for the dissemination of research on education reconstruction and reform in transitional societies 3 disseminate ideas that enhance both the practical and theoretical aspects of educational changes in these societies 4 further knowledge and understanding of emerging trends and issues in education in these societies 5 reflect the realities of educational scenarios in each transitional society The book presents an in depth exploration of educational reconstruction in 15 transitional societies In each chapter the authors have provided an overview of educational processes in the country a distillation of education change or reform and or reconstruction in each transitional society Collectively the chapters in the book have attempted to contribute to a better understanding of the educational system in respective countries by identifying the challenges and obstacles the policy implications the teacher professional development needs and curriculum reform efforts

Democratic Policing in Transitional and Developing Countries Michael D. Wiatrowski, 2016-05-13 Is it possible to create democratic forms of policing in transitional and developing societies This volume argues that policing models and practices promoted by the west are often inadequate for adoption by countries making democratic transitions because they do not adequately address issues such as human rights equity co production accountability openness and organizational change Therefore police reform is often limited to a one size fits all approach The book expands the dialogue so that discussions of democratic policing around the world are more realistic comprehensive and sensitive to the local context Detailed case studies on Iraq South Africa Northern Ireland and Kazakhstan provide a realistic assessment of the current state of policing The editors use the studies to suggest how to promote democratic policing and other important goals of democratic reform around the world The volume will assist academics policy makers NGOs and others in tailoring a local democratic policing strategy within a broader framework to enhance socioeconomic development and citizen capacity build social capital reduce various forms of conflict and support human rights

Transnational Companies and Security Governance Jana Hönke,2013-08-21 This book investigates governance practiced by non state actors It analyses how multinational mining companies protect their sites in fragile contexts and what that tells us about political ordering beyond the state Based on extensive primary research in the Democratic Republic of Congo South Africa Europe and North America the book compares companies political role in the 19th and 21st centuries It demonstrates that despite a number of disturbing parallels many contemporary practices are not a reversion to the past but unique to the present The book discloses hybrid security practices with highly ambiguous effects around the sites of contemporary companies that have committed to norms of corporate social and security responsibility Companies invest in local communities and offer human rights training to security forces alongside coercive techniques of fortress protection and stability oriented clientele practice and arrangements of indirect rule The book traces this hybridity back to contradictory collective meaning systems that cross borders and structure the perceptions and choices of company managers private security officers NGO collaborators and others practitioners The book argues that hybrid security practices are not the result of an encounter between a supposed local with the liberal global Instead this hybridity is inherent in the transnational and part and parcel of liberal transnational governance Therefore more critical reflection of global governance in practice is required These issues are sharply pertinent to liberal peacebuilding as well as global governance more broadly The book will be of interest to anyone interested in business politics and human rights critical security studies peacebuilding and statebuilding African politics and ethnographic and sociological approaches to global governance and international relations more generally
