Gender, Kabbalah, and the Reformation Yvonne Petry, 2004-01-01 This study examines the thought of Guillaume Postel 1510-1581 a French religious thinker who relied on Jewish Kabbalah and its mystical understanding of gender to argue that a female messiah had arrived who would heal the political and religious conflicts of sixteenth century Europe Christology and Metaphysics in the Seventeenth Century Richard Cross, 2022 Richard Cross explores the largely uncharted territory of seventeenth century Christology paying close attention to its metaphysical and semantic presuppositions and consequences He shows that theologians of all stripes develop and expand theories that are associated respectively with the medieval theologians Thomas Aquinas and Duns Scotus Italian and French Dominicans follow Aquinas closely read through the lens of Cardinal Cajetan But most Iberian Dominicans incorporate Suarez's theory of modes into their account and Suarez whose account is a modification of Scotus's is in turn followed by his fellow Jesuits Lutherans use Cajetan's account to fill explanatory gaps in their own accounts and Reformed theologians by and large adapt the position associated with Scotus The study ends with an account of Leibniz's Christology in its historical and conceptual context Human and Animal

Cognition in Early Modern Philosophy and Medicine Stefanie Buchenau, Roberto Lo Presti, 2018-10-26 From the sixteenth to the eighteenth century new anatomical investigations of the brain and the nervous system together with a renewed interest in comparative anatomy allowed doctors and philosophers to ground their theories on sense perception the emergence of human intelligence and the soul-body relationship in modern science They investigated the anatomical structures and the physiological processes underlying the rise differentiation and articulation of human cognitive activities and looked for the anatomical roots of the specificity of human intelligence when compared to other forms of animal sensibility This edited volume focuses on medical and philosophical debates on human intelligence and animal perception in the early modern age providing fresh insights into the influence of medical discourse on the rise of modern philosophical anthropology Contributions from distinguished historians of philosophy and medicine focus on sixteenth century zoological psychological and embryological discourses on man the impact of mechanism and comparative anatomy on philosophical conceptions of body and soul and the key status of sensibility in the medical and philosophical enlightenment Anatomy of Transcendence: Mental Excess and Rapture in the Thought and Life of Thomas Aquinas Peter Kwasniewski, 2025-02-12 Man is created by God for an eternal glory that surpasses his nature Even now he is called to a graced participation in divine life that draws him above and beyond himself conforming him to the one in whose image he is made In his theological writings Thomas Aquinas explored this order of excess that characterizes God's elevation of the rational creature discerning in its most extreme instances mystical transport ecstasy and rapture the essential contours of the ordering of Christian life to the transcendent union of beatific vision This same ordering is witnessed in Aquinas's own experience where toward the end of his life he was raised to a contemplative vision surpassing all language and further study In Anatomy of Transcendence Peter

A Kwasniewski examines the intersection of Aquinas's theological writings and mysticism establishing a vocabulary and topography for the Angelic Doctor's study and experience of ecstasy and excess in God's raising of the human mind to divine things. While drawing on the full scope of the saint's corpus the study pays particular attention to his engagement with Scripture especially the rapture of Paul related in 2 Corinthians thus contributing to the recovery of Aquinas not only as spiritual theologian but also as biblical theologian. Christology Joseph Pohle, 1916 Defender of the Most Holy Matriarchs Mickey Leland Mattox, 2003 A study in the history of exegesis this text examines Martin Luther's interpretation of the stories of the women of Genesis evaluating his understanding of male female relations as well as his appropriation of Christian hagiographical traditions of biblical interpretation. Renaissance Religion in Urban Scotland: The Dominican Order, 1450-1560 Janet P. Foggie, 2021-10-25 In both detail and broad perspective this is a ground breaking study. It is the first book to be written on the Dominican Order in Scotland. Set in the early modern era it opens with the place of the Dominicans within the political history of the realm arguing that the Dominicans had an independent and self consciously Scottish identity. Then various aspects of their work are covered universities law courts prayers for the dead Manuscripts of anniversary foundations reveal the urban patrons of the order from whom the friars were it is argued recruited. Fresh examination of the antifraternal literature in Scotland sets it in its historical context for the first time and is brought to bear on the works of John Knox. Emotion and Cognitive Life in Medieval and Early Modern Philosophy Martin Pickavé, Lisa Shapiro, 2012-10-04 This volume offers a much needed shift of focus in the study of emotion in the history of philosophy. Discussion has tended to focus on the moral relevance of emotions and except in ancient philosophy the role of emotions in cognitive life has received little attention. Thirteen new essays investigate the continuities between medieval and early modern thinking about the emotions and open up a contemporary debate on the relationship between emotions cognition and reason and the way emotions figure in our own cognitive lives. A team of leading philosophers of the medieval renaissance and early modern periods explore these ideas from the point of view of four key themes the situation of emotions within the human mind the intentionality of emotions and their role in cognition emotions and action the role of emotion in self understanding and the social situation of individuals. The Primacy of the Postils John M. Frymire, 2010 Drawing on an extensive collection of Catholic Lutheran and Calvinist sermon collections postils this book offers the first comprehensive systematic presentation of standard preaching texts in early modern Germany including their creation print production use and censorship. Communicatio Idiomatum Richard Cross, 2019-10-03 This study offers a radical reinterpretation of the sixteenth century Christological debates between Lutheran and Reformed theologians on the ascription of divine and human predicates to the person of the incarnate Son of God the communicatio idiomatum. It does so by close attention to the arguments deployed by the protagonists in the discussion and to the theologians metaphysical and semantic assumptions explicit and implicit. It traces the central contours of the Christological debates from the discussion between Luther and

Zwingli in the 1520s to the Colloquy of Montb liard in 1586 Richard Cross shows that Luther s Christology is thoroughly Medieval and that innovations usually associated with Luther in particular that Christ s human nature comes to share in divine attributes should be ascribed instead to his younger contemporary Johannes Brenz The discussion is highly sensitive to the differences between the various Luther groups followers of Brenz and the different factions aligned in varying ways with Melanchthon and to the differences between all of these and the Reformed theologians By locating the Christological discussions in their immediate Medieval background Cross also provides a comprehensive account of the continuities and discontinuities between the two eras In these ways it is shown that the standard interpretations of the Reformation debates on the matter are almost wholly mistaken Heresy and Orthodoxy in Sixteenth-Century Paris: Franois Le Picart and the Beginnings of the Catholic Reformation Larissa Juliet Taylor,2021-10-11 This is the story of Paris from the Reformation to the Religious Wars Through the works of Fran ois Le Picart the most popular preacher from 1530 1556 the book delineates the increasing tensions sparked by Reformation ideas Targeted by Calvin and Beza Le Picart was considered the reason Paris remained in the Catholic fold Exiled by Francis I for his incendiary preaching he would later serve as a professor and lecturer coming into close contact with the first Jesuits A fierce opponent of heresy he helped compile the Articles of Faith read heretical books lectured on scripture and presided at executions His 270 sermons the only substantial preaching source for this period offer glimpses of life during these increasingly troubled times that challenge works by Denis Crouzet suggesting that France was in the grip of eschatological anguish Church and Reform Louis Pascoe,2004-12-01 This work examines Pierre d Ailly s 1351 1420 views on bishops theologians and canon lawyers not primarily in their conciliar context but within the broader dimensions of their individual status office and authority within the Church These views also unfold in varying degrees within the apocalyptic context of his thought and result in a call for both pastoral and personal reform especially for the episcopacy This call moreover reveals strong apostolic and evangelical influences especially those of the Franciscans and the Brethren of the Common Life and adds a distinctive dimension to the wide variety of late medieval reform ideologies which while having some influence at the Council of Constance contributed heavily to the reform decrees of Trent Art and Architecture of Late Medieval Pilgrimage in Northern Europe and the British Isles ,2022-07-18 This collection includes essays on the visual experience and material culture at medieval pilgrimage shrines of northern Europe and the British Isles particularly the art and architecture created to intensify spiritual experience for visitors These studies focus on regional pilgrimage centers which flourished from the 12th 16th centuries addressing various aspects of visual imagery and architectural space which inspired devotees to value cults of enshrined saints and to venerate them in memory from afar Subjects include pilgrim dress jeweled and painted reliquaries labyrinths elaborate processions printed texts of the saint s life shrines sculpture and other architectural decoration and pilgrim souvenirs Profusely illustrated with 350 photographs this work will interest scholars and students of art history history religious studies and popular culture Contributors include
