Face Image Analysis by Unsupervised Learning Marian Stewart Bartlett, 2001-06-30 Face Image Analysis by Unsupervised Learning explores adaptive approaches to image analysis. It draws upon principles of unsupervised learning and information theory to adapt processing to the immediate task environment. In contrast to more traditional approaches to image analysis in which relevant structure is determined in advance and extracted using hand engineered techniques, Face Image Analysis by Unsupervised Learning explores methods that have roots in biological vision and/or learn about the image structure directly from the image ensemble. Particular attention is paid to unsupervised learning techniques for encoding the statistical dependencies in the image ensemble. The first part of this volume reviews unsupervised learning information theory, independent component analysis, and their relation to biological vision. Next, a face image representation using independent component analysis (ICA) is developed, which is an unsupervised learning technique based on optimal information transfer between neurons. The ICA representation is compared to a number of other face representations, including eigenfaces and Gabor wavelets, on tasks of identity recognition and expression analysis. Finally, methods for learning features that are robust to changes in viewpoint and lighting are presented. These studies provide evidence that encoding input dependencies through unsupervised learning is an effective strategy for face recognition. Face Image Analysis by Unsupervised Learning is suitable as a secondary text for a graduate level course and as a reference for researchers and practitioners in industry.

Physically Based Rendering Matt Pharr, Greg Humphreys, 2004-09-28 Physically Based Rendering: Second Edition describes both the mathematical theory behind a modern photorealistic rendering system as well as its practical implementation. A method known as literate programming combines human-readable documentation and source code into a single reference that is specifically designed to aid comprehension. The result is a stunning achievement in graphics education. Through the ideas and software in this book, you will learn to design and employ a full-featured rendering system for creating stunning imagery. This new edition greatly refines its best-selling predecessor by streamlining all obsolete code as well as adding sections on parallel rendering and system design, animating transformations, multispectral rendering, realistic lens systems, blue noise, and adaptive sampling patterns, and reconstruction, measured BRDFs, and instant global illumination as well as subsurface and multiple scattering integrators. These updates reflect the current state of the art technology and, along with the lucid pairing of text and code, ensure the book's leading position as a reference text for those working with images whether it is for film video photography digital design visualization or gaming The book that won its authors a 2014 Academy Award for Scientific and Technical Achievement from the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences New sections on subsurface scattering Metropolis light transport precomputed light transport multispectral rendering and much more Includes a companion site complete with source code for the rendering system described in the book with support for Windows OS X and Linux visit www.pbrt.org Code and text are tightly woven together through a unique indexing feature that lists each function variable and method on the page that they are first described

Computational and Information Science Jun Zhang, Ji-Huan He, Yuxi Fu, 2005-01-18 The 2004 International Symposium on Computational and Information Sciences CIS 2004 aimed at bringing researchers in the area of computational and formation sciences together to exchange new ideas and to explore new ground The goal of the conference was to push the application of modern computing technologies to science engineering and information technologies to a new level of sophistication and understanding The initial idea to organize such a conference with a focus on computation and applications was originated by Dr Jun Zhang during his visit to China in August 2003 in consultation with a few friends including Dr Jing Liu at the Chinese Academy of Sciences Dr Jun Hai Yong at Tsinghua University Dr Geng Yang at Nanjing University of Posts and Communications and a few others After several discussions with Dr Ji Huan He it was decided that Donghua University would host CIS 2004 CIS 2004 attempted to distinguish itself from other conferences in its phasis on participation rather than publication A submitted paper was only reviewed with the explicit understanding that if accepted at least one of the authors would attend and present the paper at the conference It is our lief that attending conferences is an important part of one's academic career through which academic networks can be built that may bene t one's academic life in the long run We also made every e ort to support graduate students in attending CIS 2004 In addition to set reduced registration fees for full time graduate students we awarded up to three prizes for to the Best Student Papers at CIS 2004 Students whose papers were selected for awards were given cash prizes plus a waiver of registration fees
