Dye,1987 Power and Society Harold D. Lasswell,2017-07-05 In Power and Society Harold D Lasswell collaborates with a brilliant young philosopher Abraham Kaplan to formulate basic theoretical concepts and hypotheses of political science providing a framework for further inquiry into the political process This is a classic book of political theory written by two of the most influential social scientists of the twentieth century The authors find their subject matter in interpersonal relations not abstract institutions or organizations and their analysis of power is related to human values. They argue that revolution is a part of the political process and ideology has a role in political affairs. The importance of class both as social fact and social symbol is reflected in their detailed analysis and emphasis on merit rather than rank, skill rather than status as keystones of democratic rule. The authors note that power is only one of the values and instruments manifested in interpersonal relations; it cannot be understood in abstraction from other values. Lasswell and Kaplan call for the replacement of power politics both in theory and in practice by a conception in which attention is focused on the human consequences of power as the major concern of both political thought and political action. The basic discussions of core concepts in political science make Power and Society of continuing importance to scholars, government officials, and politicians. Power & Society IIs 50 Harold D. Lasswell, 2013-07-04. First published in 1958. The present book is a by-product of the Research Project on Wartime Communication which was organized within the framework of the Library of Congress shortly before World War II. As a guide to research and analysis, it was necessary to review the then current state of knowledge of political communication, particularly of war communication. The manuscript was finished by the end of 1945 and then within the next five years there have been many changes both in the state of research in the field and in thinking about these problems. But the task of developing a framework for inquiry contemporaneous with the state of research is an unending one. Power and Society Harold D. Lasswell, Abraham Kaplan, 2013-10-15. Produced for unit SSS312 offered by the School of Social Sciences in Deakin University's Open Campus Program.
