The Connecting Leader Zahira Jaser,2021-01-01 Previous books of the Leadership Horizon Series showed unequivocally how both leaders and followers play an equally important part in the co production of leadership outcomes and how leader and follower identities are fluid so that the same individual can enact both at different times This book stretches the notion of leadership a step further by exploring the co enactment of both roles identities and positions of leader and follower by one same individual This individual is defined as a connecting leader as in this co enactment he she functions as connector between different leadership relationships The concept of connecting leader emerges from the observation that most individuals in organizations engage in the leader follower role co enactment managers pulled between executives and reportees CEOs between the board and the head of departments or employees involved in cross functional teams leading and following in different degrees subject to their expertise Yet despite its pervasiveness this concept is at best under theorized by the literature which dominated by dyadic and romanticized views mostly presents the roles as enacted by separate individuals facing each other To advance our understanding of connecting leaders the editor proposes to shift our focus on leadership in three ways to unpack the interconnectedness and interplay of leader and follower identities to investigate the tensions arising from the co enactment and how these can be overcome to widen the way in which we study leadership through new configurations e g leadership triads and ontologies and finally to consider the similarities between leading and following The book chapters are organized to mirror these areas of exploration Understanding leadership from a perspective that acknowledges that many individuals in organizations are not just leaders or followers but both democratizes the way we theorize leadership and moves us further away from the temptation to romanticize it

The New Ecology of Leadership David K. Hurst,2014-10-07 David Hurst has a unique knowledge of organizations their function and their failure both in theory and in practice He has spent twenty five years as an operating manager often in crises and turnaround conditions and is also a widely experienced consultant teacher and writer on business This book is his innovative integration of management practice and theory using a systems perspective and analogies drawn from nature to illustrate groundbreaking ideas and their practical application It is designed for readers unfamiliar with sophisticated management concepts and for active practitioners seeking to advance their management and leadership skills Hurst's objective is to help readers make meaning from their own management experience and education and to encourage improvement in their practical judgment and wisdom His approach takes an expansive view of organizations connecting their development to humankind's evolutionary heritage and cultural history It locates the origins of organizations in communities of trust and follows their development and maturation He also crucially tracks the decline of organizations as they age and shows how their strengths become weaknesses in changing circumstances Hurst's core argument is that the human mind is rational in an ecological rather than a logical sense In other words it has evolved to extract cues to action from the specific situations in which it finds itself Therefore contexts matter and Hurst shows how passion reason and power can be used to change and sustain organizations for good and ill The result is an inspirational synthesis of management theory and practice that will resonate with every reader's experience
