Nicole Moore, Christina Spittel

Power Without Glory:

Power Without Glory Francis Joseph Hardy, Frank Hardy, 2008 In the history of Australian literature few books have been so controversial than Frank Hardy's Power Without Glory. This is a tale of corruption stretching from street corner SP bookmaking to the most influential men in the land and the terrible personal cost of the power such corruption brings. John West rose from a Melbourne slum to dominate Australian politics with bribery, brutality and fear. His attractive wife and their children turned away from him in horror. Friends dropped away. At the peak of his power, surrounded by bootlickers, West faced a hate-filled nation and the terrible loneliness of his life. Was John West a real figure? For months during the post-war years, an Australian court heard evidence in a sensational libel action brought by businessman John Wren's wife. After a national uproar which rocked the very foundations of the Commonwealth, Frank Hardy was acquitted. This is the novel which provoked such intense uproar and debate across the nation. The questions it poses remain unanswered. Power Without Glory Francis Joseph Hardy, 1968

Power Without Glory, 1959

Santamaria Gerard Henderson, 2015-08-03 B A Santamaria was one of the most controversial Australians of our time. An ardent anti-Communist and devout Catholic, he was fiercely intelligent and a natural leader, polarising the community into loyal followers and committed opponents. In the 1940s Santamaria created the anti-Communist organisation The Movement. In the 1950s he was a key figure in the tumultuous split of the Australian Labor Party. He subsequently enjoyed great influence as a public commentator on his television program Point of View and in his weekly column in The Australian. Santamaria had a strong social conscience and spent much of his time helping the underprivileged. Although he began as an advocate and champion of the Catholic Church, he spent much of his last decades opposing some of its activities. Published for the 100th anniversary of Santamaria's birth, Santamaria: A Most Unusual Man is an authoritative biography from Gerard Henderson, a close colleague until a disagreement saw the two men estranged and never reconciled.

Revolutionary Industrial Unionism Verity Burgmann, 1995 A history of the International Workers of the World (IWW) in Australia, this book is both lively and scholarly.

The English Crime Play in the Twentieth Century Beatrix Hesse, 2015-08-02 This is the first comprehensive study of the English crime play, presenting a survey of 250 plays performed in the London West End between 1900 and 2000. The first part is historically orientated, while the second one establishes a tentative poetics of the genre. The third part presents an analysis of some 20 plays adapted from detective fiction.

Australian Literature in the German Democratic Republic Nicole Moore, Christina Spittel, 2016-06-19 An account of fraught and complex cross-cultural literary exchange between two highly distinct, even uniquely opposed reading contexts, Australian Literature in the German Democratic Republic has resonance for all newly global reckonings of the cultural Cold War. Working from the extraordinary records of the East German publishing and censorship regime, the authors materially track the production and reception of one country's corpus as envisioned by another. The 90 Australian titles published in the GDR form an alternative canon, revealing a shadowy literary archive that rewrites Australia's postwar cultural history from behind the iron curtain and illuminates multiple ironies for the GDR as a reading nation. This book brings together leading German and Australian scholars in the fields of book history, German and Australian cultural history, Australian and postcolonial literatures, and postcolonial and cross-cultural theory with emerging writers currently navigating between the two cultures.

Writing in Hope and Fear John McLaren, 1996. A compelling critical and historical account of politics in postwar Australian literary culture.

Power Without Glory - the Sequel Francis Joseph Hardy, 1992. The publication of Frank Hardy's semi-fictional Power without glory led to criminal libel court action in 1950. Based on the adultery of a character in that book identifiable as the wife of John Wren, Hardy explains his reasons for developing his character Nellie West in this manner, claiming that a secret agent for ASIO had planted the story, acting as an agent provocateur.

A Question of Commitment Susan Lever, 2020-07-29. In the years since the Second World War, Australia has seen a period of literary creativity which outshines any earlier period in the nation's literary history. This creativity has its beginnings in the arguments and alignments which emerged at the end of the War and the changes in perceptions of art and society which occurred during the fifties and early sixties. A Question of Commitment examines the attitudes of writers as diverse as James McAuley, Frank Hardy, Judith Wright, Patrick White, and A.D. Hope as they responded to a changing Australian society during the postwar years. Through their work and that of many others, it considers the debates about literary nationalism, the artistic politics of the Cold War, the threat of technology to art in the Atomic Age, and the nature of the writer's role in the new society. It documents the way in which the political commitments of some writers and the resistance to commitment of others were challenged by political and social changes of the late fifties. Susan McKernan's lively exploration of Australia's writers in a time of innovation provides the reader with the context needed to understand the creative choices they made, and in so doing, introduces wider intellectual and cultural issues which remain relevant to this day.

Gambling Cultures Jan McMillen, 2005-12-20. First published in 1996, Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informal company.

Dirk Bogarde John Coldstream, 2011-09-08. Biographies only tend to be definitive until the next one comes along, but there's no danger of Coldstream's erudite moving analysis ever being superseded.

INDEPENDENT ON SUNDAY As an actor, Dirk Bogarde was a Rank contract artist and matinee idol who became a giant of the intellectual cinema, working on films such as Death in Venice, The Servant, and Providence. Fiercely protective of his privacy and that of his partner of 40 years, he left England in the 1960s to live abroad, where he carved a second career for himself as a bestselling author. Although Bogarde destroyed many of his papers, John Coldstream has had unique access to his personal archives and to friends and family who knew him well. The result is a fascinating biography of a complex and intriguing personality.

How to Think Politically James Bernard Murphy, Graeme Garrard, 2019-08-08. A wonderful introduction to history's most influential scribblers: Steven Pinker. What is truly at stake in politics? Nothing less than how we should live as individuals and as communities. This book goes beyond the surface headlines, the fake news, and the hysteria to explore the timeless questions posed and answers offered by a diverse group of the 30 greatest political thinkers who have ever lived Are we political economic or religious animals Should we live in small city states nations or multinational empires What values should politics promote Should wealth be owned privately or in common Do animals also have rights There is no idea too radical for this global assortment of thinkers which includes Confucius Plato Augustine Machiavelli Burke Wollstonecraft Marx Nietzsche Gandhi Qutb Arendt Nussbaum Naess and Rawls In each brief chapter the authors paint a vivid portrait of these often prescient always compelling political thinkers showing how their ideas grew out of their own dramatic lives and times and evolved beyond them Now more than ever we need to be reminded that politics can be a noble inspiring and civilising art And if we want to understand today s political world we need to understand the foundations of politics and its architects This is the perfect guide to both      Napoleon III James F. Mcmillan,2014-06-06 In this assessment James McMillan moves away from ideologically based representations of the man to focus on his use of power He recognises the Emporer as a highly skilled operator who in the face of innumerable obstacles attempted to conduct an original policy      Beyond Civilization Harry Redner,2013-01-31 For Harry Redner the phrase beyond civilization refers to the new and unprecedented condition the world is now entering specifically the condition commonly known as globalization Redner approaches globalization from the perspective of history and seeks to interpret it in relation to previous key stages of human development His account begins with the Axial Age 700 300 BC and proceeds through Modernity after AD 1500 to the present global condition What is globalization doing to civilization In answering this question Redner studies the role played by capitalism the state science and technology He aims to show that they have had a catalytic impact on civilization through their reductive effect on society culture and individualism However Redner is not content to diagnose the ills of civilization he also suggests how they might be ameliorated by cultural conservation Above all it is to the problem of decline in the higher forms of literacy that he addresses himself for it is on the culture of the book that previous civilizations were founded This study will be of interest to sociologists historians and social and political theorists Its style makes it accessible also to general readers interested in civilization past present and future      The Modern Library Carmen Callil,Colm Toibin,2011-06-30 For Colm To b n and Carmen Callil there is no difference between literary and commercial writing there is only the good novel engrossing inspirational compelling In their selection of the best 200 novels written since 1950 the editors make a case for the best and the best loved works and argue why each should be considered a modern classic Enlightening often unexpected and always engaging this tour through the world of fiction is full of surprises forgotten masterpieces and a valuable guide to what to read next Authors in the collection include Agatha Christie Georgette Heyer Daphne du Maurier Patrick Hamilton Carson McCullers J D Salinger Bernard Malamud Flannery O Connor Mulk Raj Anand Raymond Chandler L P Hartley Amos Tutuola Sylvia Townsend Warner Samuel Beckett Patricia Highsmith Chinua Achebe Isak Dineson Alan Sillitoe Ivy Compton Burnett Grace Paley Harper Lee Olivia Manning and Mordecai Richler      So Much to

Tell You: The Play John Marsden, 2013-11-13 The stage adaptation of John Marsden's award winning bestselling novel I don't know what I'm doing here Well I do really I have been sent here to learn to talk again Sent here because my mother can't stand my silent presence at home Sent here because of my face She watches she dreams She sees more than they realise She has worries and fears hopes and desires She is troubled she is angry Above all she is lonely She may be someone you know She may be you In So Much to Tell You she tells her story With humour and insight with sensitivity and strength with painful honesty You will never forget her impressive emotional power style freshness and originality CHILDREN'S BOOK COUNCIL OF AUSTRALIA

The A to Z of Australian Radio and Television Albert Moran, Chris Keating, 2009-08-04 Australians have become increasingly visible outside of the country as speakers and actors in radio and television their media moguls have frequently bought up foreign companies and people around the world have been able to enjoy such Australian productions as The Flying Doctors Neighbours and Kath and Kim The origins early development and later adaptations of radio and television show how Australia has gone from being a minor and rather parochial player to being a significant part of the international scene The A to Z of Australian Radio and Television provides essential facts and information concerning the Australian radio and television industry This is accomplished through the use of a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on directors producers writers actors television and radio series and television and radio stations

Secularizing the Sacred John E. Webster, Ronald S. Laura, 2016-04-26 This book explores one of the great paradoxes of our era Western culture has almost imperceptibly come to secularize the sacred while at the same time sacralizing the secular The authors endeavor to show the debilitating effects that this paradox has had on the foundations of Christian worship with special reference to the history of worship and in particular the Presbyterian Church in Australia The authors show how the theological predilection for minimization has become inextricably woven into the fabric of what we call the theory of transformative subjugation which drives the rationale for religious secularization The book argues that it is necessary to consider a serious reconstruction of theological education in which its framework is located in a specific Christian theory of knowledge which engenders the Lordship of Christ and encourages a spirit of transformative love and connectedness It is only in this context that the theology of worship and the beauty and usefulness of liturgical forms can be appreciated

A Myanmar Miscellany: Selected Articles, 2007-2023 Andrew Selth, 2024-09-30 Andrew Selth has been watching Myanmar for 50 years During this time he has published 10 books and more than 400 other works about the country In 2020 he released a collection of almost 100 articles that had been posted on the Lowy Institute's Interpreter website This second anthology brings together another 72 articles written for a range of outlets between 2007 and 2023 This period saw the installation of a disciplined democracy under Aung San Suu Kyi the 2021 military coup and the country's descent into a bitter civil war Many of the articles in the book deal with international relations and security issues but there are also works on Myanmar's history politics and culture as well as some personal reminiscences Together they make a
