Aging is a public health priority that is becoming increasingly important in both developed and less developed nations with individual health care providers and law makers each facing difficult ethical and policy dilemmas. The complex issues physicians deal with include informed consent and patient decision making, capacity, use of advance care planning, and decision making by family and medical staff, and withdrawing and withholding life sustaining interventions. Broader questions include: has aging been over medicalized? Is it ethical for older patients to receive less medical care than younger ones through unspoken practice or formal rationing? Is there inevitable conflict between the generations over scarce medical resources? How should physician, patient, and family confront end of life decisions? How have different nations responded to increasing numbers of the elderly? Have social values changed as to family responsibility and individual autonomy? This volume brings together the most significant published essays in the field. The State of the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs Long-term Care Program Present and Future United States. Congress. House. Committee on Veterans' Affairs. Subcommittee on Health, 2008. Aging, Society, and the Life Course Leslie A. Morgan, Suzanne R. Kunkel, 2015-07-20.

This book's unfading preoccupation with social context, social processes, and social structures distinguishes itself and greatly contributes to the discourse in gerontology. The Gerontologist This classic text now in its fifth edition is distinguished by its emphasis on social context, social processes, and social structures as part of a broader understanding of the sociology of aging and the life course. Presenting an objective view of the realities of aging, both positive and negative, the book examines aging from micro, macro, personal, community, societal, and global perspectives. This fifth edition describes important changes in the field of social gerontology and the growth in such topics as diversity, global aging, and the life course. It addresses major shifts in public policy, social institutions, and aging-related programming initiatives. There is a strong focus on the changing landscape of aging, particularly in regard to social engagement, employment, and lifelong learning, enhanced health, and independence, and livable communities for people of all ages. Additionally, the book includes new information on the Affordable Care Act and end of life issues. The text is uniquely organized, featuring theoretical discussions in each chapter and topical essays between chapters. Critical thinking and review questions foster an in-depth understanding of the material.

Written in an engaging style the text is for graduate and upper level undergraduate students it is also used effectively in introductory gerontology classes In addition to an Instructor s Manual the fifth edition now includes Power Point slidesNEW TO THE FIFTH EDITION Provides updated data on aging and baby boomers in the United States and worldwide Presents expanded focus on baby boomers impact on the larger society Discusses major public policy changes and innovative services and programs affecting older adults Uses detailed examples to illustrate the challenges of sorting out age period and cohort effects in research on aging Covers the Affordable Care Act and up to date information on Medicare Features new information on end of life issues Presents provocative essays on positive and contemporary issues not typically covered including love sex creativity media representations LGBT aging and crime Focuses on enhanced health and independence and aging in place initiatives Provides learning objectives in each chapter and web based extracurricular activities Includes PowerPoint slides in addition to an Instructor s Manual
