binary operation that is mathematically so perfect that it is impossible to introduce a richer structure within it. The main purpose of this study is to introduce the notion of the Pythagorean neutrosophic triplet PNT which is the generalization of neutrosophic triplet NT. The PNT is an algebraic structure of three ordered pairs that satisfy several properties under the binary operation \odot . Furthermore, we used the PNTs to introduce the novel concept of a Pythagorean neutrosophic triplet group PNTG. The algebraic structure AS of PNTG is different from the neutrosophic triplet group NTG. We discussed some properties, related results, and particular examples of these novel concepts. We further studied Pythagorean neutro homomorphism, Pythagorean neutro isomorphism, etc. for PNTGs. Moreover, we discussed the main distinctions between the neutrosophic triplet group NTG and the PNTG.
