Olsen, 2008-06-30 Based on the author s research in Ho Chi Minh City Hanoi and other urban areas in Vietnam this study of contemporary Vietnamese popular music explores the ways globalization and free market economics have influenced the music and subcultures of Vietnamese youth focusing on the conflict between the politics of remembering nurtured by the Vietnamese Communist government and the politics of forgetting driven by the capitalist interests of the music industry Vietnamese youth at the end of the second and beginning of the third millennium are influenced by the challenges generated by a number of seemingly opposite ideologies and realities such as the past versus the present socialism versus capitalism and cultural traditionalism versus globalization Vietnam has undergone a radical demographic shift with a very pronounced youth movement and consequently Vietnamese popular culture has been radically reshaped by a young population coming of age in the twenty first century As Olsen reveals the way Vietnamese young people cope with these opposing and contrasting forces is often expressed in their active and passive music making

Vietnam David G. Marr, 2013-04-15 Amidst the revolutionary euphoria of August 1945 most Vietnamese believed that colonialism and war were being left behind in favor of independence and modernization The late September British French coup de force in Saigon cast a pall over such assumptions Ho Chi Minh tried to negotiate a mutually advantageous relationship with France but meanwhile told his lieutenants to plan for a war in which the nascent state might have to survive without allies In this landmark study David Marr evokes the uncertainty and contingency as well as coherence and momentum of fast paced events Mining recently accessible sources in Aix en Provence and Hanoi Marr explains what became the largest most intense mobilization of human resources ever seen in Vietnam
