The New Vocal Enchantress, Containing an Elegant Selection of All the Newest Songs Lately Sung at the Theatres Royal ... A New Edition for 1789, 1788 The Contending Lovers Willard Farnham, 1920 Retired Pleasures; or the Charms of a Rural Life, in prose and verse, with occasional notes and illustrations ... A new edition, with additions George WRIGHT (Author of "The Rural Christian."), 1791 THE GENERAL MAGAZINE AND IMPARTIAL REVIEW, 1788 The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1963 The Virgin and her Lover Bo Utas, Tomas Hägg, 2004-01-01 Starting from the authors discovery that the Persian epic poem V miq and Adhr by Un ur 11th century AD derives from the ancient Greek novel of M tiokhos and Parthenop the book contains critical editions of the Greek and Persian fragments and testimonia with English translation and comments The exciting story of the modern recovery of the two texts is told and the transformations of the productive theme of The ardent lover and the virgin are traced from Greek novel to Persian poem and through later Persian and Turkish literature Of particular importance is the authors attempt to reconstruct the common plot and individual variations adding a new work to the limited corpus of ancient novels and shedding new light on the genre of Persian epic poetry Making Love in the Twelfth Century, 2016-04-29 New sparkling translations of the Letters of Two Lovers the Tegernsee Letters and selections from the Regensburg Songs Nine hundred years ago in Paris a teacher and his brilliant female student fell in love and chronicled their affair in a passionate correspondence Their 116 surviving letters some whole and some fragmentary are composed in eloquent highly rhetorical Latin Since their discovery in the late twentieth century the Letters of Two Lovers have aroused much attention because of their extreme rarity They constitute the longest correspondence by far between any two persons from the entire Middle Ages and they are private rather than institutional which means that according to all we know about the transmission of medieval letters they should not have survived at all Adding to their mystery the letters are copied anonymously in a single late fifteenth century manuscript although their style and range of reference place them squarely in the early twelfth century Can this collection of correspondence be the previously lost love letters of Abelard and Heloise And even if not what does it tell us about the lived experience of love in the twelfth century Barbara Newman contends that these teacher student exchanges bear witness to a culture that linked Latin pedagogy with the practice of ennobling love and the cult of friendship during a relatively brief period when women played an active part in that world Newman presents a new translation of these extraordinary letters along with a full commentary and two extended essays that parse their literary and intellectual contexts and chart the course of the doomed affair Included too are two other sets of twelfth century love epistles the Tegernsee Letters and selections from the Regensburg Songs Taken together they constitute a stunning contribution to the study of the history of emotions by one of our most prominent medievalists Analytical Review, 1788 Containing scientific abstracts of important and interesting works published in English a general account of such as are of less consequence with short characters notices or reviews of valuable foreign books criticisms on new pieces of music and works of art and the literary intelligence of Europe etc The Analytical Review, Or History of Literature, Domestic and Foreign, on an Enlarged Plan ,1788 The Expositor's Bible
