Beyond French Feminisms R. Célestin, E. DalMolin, I. Courtivron, 2016-04-30 This volume a collection of essays by a number of high profile personalities working in philosophy literature sociology cinema theatre journalism and politics covers a number of recent and crucial developments in the field of French Feminisms that have made a reassessment necessary Beyond French Feminisms proposes to answer the question what is new in French Feminism at the beginning of the twenty first century The essays reflect the shift from the theoretical and philosophical approaches that characterized feminism twenty years ago to the more social and political questions of today Topics include the parity and PACS debates the France USA dialogue the multicultural issues and the new trends in literature and film by women

French Women in Politics: Writing Power Raylene L. Ramsay, 2003-01-01 Although more women in France have entered political life than ever before the fact remains that there are fewer women representatives in the French parliament than there were after the Second World War In a new and original approach the author presents an overview and analysis of the emerging body of text by or on women who have held high political office in France The argument is that writing about women and politics has not just described or reflected women's slow but now substantial entry into political life it has played a major part in shaping the parity debate and its outcomes Interviews with political women such as Huguette Bouchardeau Simone Veil or Edith Cresson inserted in the text demonstrate the emergence and circulation of a new common discourse focused on the issue of whether women in politics make or should make a difference A close reading of the various texts examined in this book and their connection to new public counter discourses in France suggest that a re writing of power is indeed occurring femmes ne sont pas des hommes comme les autres (Les) Janine Mossuz-Lavau, Anne de Kervasdoué, 1997-03 Les changements survenus dans la seconde partie du XX^e siècle ont considérablement éloigné les femmes du profil adopté par leurs mères Aujourd'hui les femmes ne sont plus très loin de former la moitié de la population active elles ont investi en masse l'enseignement supérieur elles ont délaissé les bancs de l'Eglise et armées de la législation sur la contraception et la dépénalisation de l'avortement elles sont devenues libres de leur corps Toutes ces transformations conduisent elles tracer le portrait d'une femme qui serait devenue le clone de l'homme On peut se poser la question si l'on se souvient des propos des féministes dans les années 1970 qui reprenaient les thèses galiléistes de Simone de Beauvoir Plus récemment certains sont allés jusqu'à annoncer la venue d'une société androgyne Mais qu'en pensent les femmes et les hommes de ce pays Comment les femmes se voient-elles par rapport aux hommes Comment se définissent-elles et décrivent-elles leurs compagnons Pour répondre ces questions Janine Mossuz-Lavau et Anne de Kervasdoué ont effectué une longue enquête auprès d'une centaine de femmes aux statuts les plus divers : géoprofession, provenance géographique, état de vie, etc. Il en ressort une prise de conscience très aiguë de ce qu'est aujourd'hui l'identité féminine

Global Exchanges and Gender Perspectives in Africa Jean-Bernard Ouedraogo, M. Achieng, 2011-12-15. The global perspectives adopted in this volume by the authors from different academic disciplines and social experiences ought not to be locked in sterile linearity which within process of globalisation would fail to perceive the irreversible opening up of the worlds of the south. There is the need within the framework of the analyses presented here to quite cogently define the sense of the notion of the market. The market here does not refer to saving or the localised exchange of goods a perspective which is imposed by normative perceptions. In fact a strictly materialistic reading of exchange would be included since every social practice and interaction implies a communitarian transaction meanwhile the exchange system under study here broadens to root out the obligation of the maximisation of mercantile profit from the cycle of exchange. Trade here would have a meaning closer to those of old one of human interaction in a way that one could also refer to bon commerce between humans. In one way trade places itself at the heart of social exchanges included the power of money and is carried along by a multitude of social interactions. The reader is called upon to take into account the major mercantile formations of the social trade system the market society without forgetting the diversity of exchange routes as well as the varying modalities of social construction at the margins and within market logics those of implicit value in trade between humans which the texts herein also seek to review. The age old project of restructuring the domestic economy the market society as it has developed in the West whence it has set out to conquer the whole wide world places at the very centre of the current capitalist expansion the challenge of imperatively reshaping gender identity inter alia in market relations.
