Living by Grace William Hordern, 2002-10-03 How can Protestant churches overcome their denial in actual attitudes and actions of their central belief in justification The chief paradox of Protestantism manifest in all denominations is the blurring and contradicting of the central belief in justification by grace alone through faith alone The church in America says the author has always been prone to preach that being a good Christian will result in health wealth and happiness Many church practices support a reward and punishment ethic thereby denying the heart of justification God's forgiveness No wonder the laity does not understand the doctrine or its call to a new life In this criticism of common church attitudes and actions Dr Hordern contrasts the interpretation of justification found in the teachings of Scripture and the great Reformers with the practical pursuit of works righteousness In conclusion he shows how the church could act to enhance rather than deny the doctrine of justification in particular in coping with the important matters of evangelism attendance giving to the church accepting people into the church and social service

Singing the Ethos of God Brian Brock, 2007-04-02 Noting that academic biblical scholars and Christian ethicists have been methodologically estranged for some decades now Brian Brock seeks to reframe the whole Bible and ethics discussion in terms of this question What role does the Bible play in God's generation of a holy people and how do we participate in that regeneration Brock first examines various major contemporary thinkers on the Bible and Christian ethics including John Howard Yoder Brevard Childs John Webster and Dietrich Bonhoeffer He then undertakes major discussions of Augustine and Martin Luther unpacking their interpretation of the Psalms Finally Brock articulates the processes of renewal in God s people His close study of a few individual psalms shows how we enter the world of praise in which all human life is comprehended within God s work and is thus renewed Immersion in the exegetical tradition of the Christian faith Brock argues must be the heart and soul of theology and ethics
