The Films in My Life François Truffaut, 2014-08-24 From a cinematic grand master one of the most readable books of movie criticism and one of the most instructive American Film Institute An icon A rebel A legend The films of François Truffaut defined an exhilarating new form of cinema for moviegoers the world over But before Truffaut became a great director he was a critic who stood at the vanguard pioneering an innovative way to view movies and to write about the cinematic arts Now for the first time in eBook the legendary director shares his own words as one of the most influential filmmakers of all time examines the art of movie making through engaging and deeply personal reviews about the movies he loves Truffaut writes extensively about his heroes from Hitchcock to Welles Chaplin to Renoir Buñuel to Bergman Clouzot to Cocteau Capra to Hawks Guitry to Fellini sharing analysis and insight as to what made them film legends and how their work led Truffaut and his fellow directors into classics like The 400 Blows Jules and Jim and the French New Wave movement Articulate and candid The Films in My Life is for everyone who has sat in a dark movie theater and dreamed Truffaut brings the same intelligence and grace to the printed page that he projects onto the screen The Films in My Life provides a rare knowledgeable look at movies and moviemaking Newsday A Companion to François Truffaut Dudley Andrew, Anne Gillain, 2013-02-11 A Companion to François Truffaut An unprecedented critical tribute to the director who in France wound up becoming the most controversial figure of the New Wave he helped found Raymond Bellour Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique This exciting collection breaks through the widely held critical view that Truffaut abandoned the iconoclasm of his early work for an academicism he had consistently railed against in his own film criticism Indeed if fever and fire were Truffaut's most consistent motifs the essays in this collection live up to his lifelong burning passion for the cinema Written by world famous scholars the essays exhaustively explore the themes and styles of the films as well as Truffaut's relationships to André Bazin Alfred Hitchcock and the directors of the New Wave his ground breaking and controversial film criticism and his position in the complex politics of French cultural life from the Popular Front to 1968 and after Angelo Restivo Georgia State University Although the New Wave one of the most influential aesthetic revolutions in the history of cinema might not have existed without him François Truffaut has largely been ignored by film scholars since his death almost thirty years ago As an innovative theoretician an influential critic and a celebrated filmmaker Truffaut formulated disseminated and illustrated the ideals of the New Wave with exceptional energy and distinction Yet no book in recent years has focused on Truffaut's value and his overall contribution to cinema deserves to be redefined not only to reinstate him in his proper place but to let us rethink how cinema developed during his lifetime In this new Companion thirty four original essays by leading film scholars offer new readings of individual films and original perspectives on the filmmaker's background influences and consequence Hugely influential around the globe Truffaut is assessed by international contributors who delve into the unique quality of his narratives and establish the depth of his distinctively styled work An extended interview with French filmmaker Arnaud Desplechin tracks Truffaut's controversial stature within French cinema and vividly identifies how he thinks and works as a director adding an irreplaceable perspective to this essential volume

Eric Rohmer Derek Schilling, 2019-01-04 Few filmmakers have taken the principle of the talking picture so far as Eric Rohmer the internationally renowned director of the Moral Tales Comedies and Proverbs and Tales of the Four Seasons cycles Occasionally dismissed as precious or overly literary Rohmer's features may leave the impression that there is more to listen to than to look at Yet as the secretive director b Maurice Scherer in 1920 points out dialogue is no less engaging than the best gunfights and if his characters prefer discussing love to making it they are no less the heroes of the stories they tell Charges of political conservatism aside the author of My Night at Maud's Summer and such period films as Perceval and the all digital The Lady and the Duke emerges like Hitchcock before him as a singular inventor of cinematic forms This critical overview which contains an extensive bibliography and a filmography will appeal to students of Film Studies French Studies and enthusiasts

Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1978 Silent Renoir Colin Davis, 2021-02-17 Jean Renoir 1894-1979 is widely regarded as one of the most distinguished directors in the history of world cinema In the 1930s he directed a string of films which stretched the formal intellectual political and aesthetic boundaries of the art form including works such as Le Crime de Monsieur Lange La Grande Illusion La Bête humaine and La Règle du jeu However the great director's early work from the 1920s remains almost completely unknown even to film specialists If it is discussed at all it is often seen to be of interest only insofar as it anticipates themes and techniques perfected in the later masterpieces Renoir's films of the 1920s were sometimes unfinished commercially unsuccessful or unreleased at the time of their production This book argues that to regard them merely as prefigurations of later achievements entails a failure to view them on their own terms as searching unsettled experiments in the meaning and potential of film art

A Companion to Jean Renoir Alastair Phillips, Ginette Vincendeau, 2013-04-11 A Companion to Jean Renoir An extraordinary collection of essays that more than fulfills the aims of its editors Alastair Phillips and Ginette Vincendeau The essays offer exciting original work from younger scholars as well as long established authorities all of which offer invaluable insights into the films writings and life of Jean Renoir Receiving particular attention are questions about the singularity or multiplicity of what the editors call the many Renoirs French American Indian even transnational especially from the early 1930s through the early 1960s Whether mining relatively unexplored archive materials deploying newly current methodological approaches interrogating one of a wide range of topics and issues or engaging in close textual analysis the contributors construct a tantalizing series of innovative road maps for future researchers to pursue Richard Abel University of Michigan Alastair Phillips and Ginette Vincendeau have brought together essays that bring new perspectives to both the best known and the lesser known of Renoir's films Both French cinema specialists and viewers new to Renoir's work will find much of interest in this outstanding collection Judith Mayne Ohio State University Dubbed simply the best director by François Truffaut Jean Renoir is a towering figure in world film history This exhaustive survey of his work and life features a comprehensive analysis of his films from the multiple critical perspectives of the world's leading Renoir scholars Renoir's career spanned four decades and four countries and included an extraordinary body of films some of which La Grande illusion 1937 and La Règle du jeu 1939 are universally recognized masterpieces Fathered by the celebrated painter Pierre Auguste Renoir the filmmaker lived through much of the twentieth century beginning his career in the silent era and ending it in full Technicolor His films are notable for their paradoxical combination of strong internal coherence and thematic breadth and diversity and they provide a rich source for today's scholars of film history and French culture This handbook the largest volume on Renoir ever produced in the English language ranges in scope from extreme close up analysis of individual films to long shot explorations of his aesthetics and the social and cultural contexts in which he worked The most ambitious critical study of Renoir to date this book will appeal to film enthusiasts as much as scholars and specialists

Mists of Regret Dudley Andrew, 2021-11-09 Just before World War II French cinema reached a high point that has been dubbed the style of poetic realism Working with unforgettable actors like Jean Gabin and Arletty directors such as Renoir Carné Gremillon Duvivier and Chenal routinely captured the prizes for best film at every festival and in every country and their accomplishments led to general agreement that the French were the first to give maturity to the sound cinema Here the distinguished film scholar Dudley Andrew examines the motivations and consequences of these remarkable films by looking at the cultural web in which they were made Beyond giving a rich view of the life and worth of cinema in France Andrew contributes substantially to our knowledge of how films are dealt with in history Where earlier studies have treated the masterpieces of this era either in themselves or as part of the vision of their creators and where certain recent scholars have reacted to this by dissolving the masterpieces back into the system of entertainment that made them possible Andrew stresses the dialogue of culture and cinema In his view the films open questions that take us into the culture while our understanding of the culture gives energy direction and consequence to our reading of the films The book demonstrates the value of this hermeneutic approach for one set of texts and one period but it should very much interest film theorists and film historians of all sorts

Historical Reflections, 1998 The Right to Difference Maurice Samuels, 2016-11-02 The revolution reconsidered France's Jewish star Universalism in Algeria Zola and the Dreyfus affair The Jew in Renoir's La grande illusion Sartre's Jewish question Finkelkraut Badiou and the new antisemitism Conclusion Je suis juif

Jean Gabin Joseph Harriss, 2023-01-24 When one thinks of the quintessential Frenchman one likely pictures Jean Gabin 1904-1976 The son of music hall performers the Paris born actor grew up in the entertainment business His onscreen debut in the 1930s marked the beginning of many memorable roles in films such as La Grande Illusion 1937 and mile Zola's La Bête Humaine 1938 His performances would earn him international recognition and establish his reputation as one of the greatest stars of film noir Pausing his performances on screen Gabin joined the Allied struggle of WWII Serving under General Charles De

Gaulle in the Free French Forces as a tank commander Gabin was awarded several medals for his service Upon his return to acting after the war he became the embodiment of the uniquely French spirit a persona that would define his future roles In Jean Gabin The Actor Who Was France Joseph Harriss tells the story of this French icon This well researched biography documents Gabin s life from his start as a reluctant singer and dancer in Parisian music halls to his rise to film superstardom Harriss recounts the actor s multi faceted persona including his famously fiery temper his tumultuous love affairs including a six year relationship with the German star Marlene Dietrich and his military valor With this enthralling work film enthusiasts can gain an appreciation of France s quintessential movie star and his lasting impact on world cinema during its Golden Age

Madame Bovary at the Movies Mary Donaldson-Evans,2009 Some eighteen film directors from France to the United States Germany to India have applied themselves to the task of adapting Madame Bovary to the screen Why has Flaubert s 1857 classic novel been so popular with filmmakers What challenges have they had to meet What ideologies do their adaptations serve Madame Bovary at the Movies seeks to answer these questions avoiding value judgments based on the notion of fidelity to the novel In depth analyses are reserved for the studio films of Renoir Minnelli and Chabrol and the small screen adaptation of Fywell As the first book length examination of the Madame Bovary adaptations this volume in addition to its pedagogical applications will be a useful reference for scholars of literature and film and for those interested in the burgeoning field of adaptation studies The author of A Woman s Revenge The Chronology of Dispossession in Guy de Maupassant s Fiction French Forum Monographs 1986 and Medical Examinations Dissecting the Doctor in French Narrative Prose 1857 1894 University of Nebraska Press 2000 Mary Donaldson Evans is Elias Ahuja Professor of Foreign Languages and Literatures at the University of Delaware

Jean Renoir Célia Bertin,1991 Jean Renoir A Life in Pictures is the first biography of this master of modern cinema the director of Grand Illusion Rules of the Game The River and other classics Celia Bertin tells Renoir s story from his magical childhood to his first success in films from his encounter with European fascism to his final years as the beloved Frenchman from Beverly Hills With the help of Renoir s family Bertin interviewed everyone who knew the director in Paris Provence Bourgogne and Los Angeles Using first hand accounts along with previously unpublished materials she places this colorful charming and brilliant figure in the context of his time his culture and the history of cinema Awarded the prize Therouanne by the Academie francaise in 1986 this acclaimed biography is now available in English The spectacle of real life Renoir wrote is a thousand times richer than the most beguiling inventions of our imagination And his own life makes the point He lived a privileged childhood in the luminous world of his father the famous Impressionist painter Auguste Renoir As a horseman and aircraft pilot in World War I he was badly wounded at the age of twenty After the war and his father s death he seemed destined for a life of sportscars and glamorous women he first took up filmmaking to glorify his beautiful young wife But soon movies became his passion and his work grew astoundingly original He opposed the rise of fascism in Europe yet was approached by Mussolini to direct Tosca In 1940 Renoir moved to America where he became the mentor to a younger generation of cineastes He died in Beverly Hills in 1979 For a long time people thought he was only a dilettante but Jean Renoir knew that for him movies were more than a hobby He was getting ready to devote his life to them From observing his father Jean had learned the difference between a pastime and a passion but would he ever be as passionate as his father had been Making movies is both simpler and more complex than painting You never work alone and the team carries you along and excites you That is an advantage with disadvantages You depend on others and they are not necessarily teammates whom you have chosen they can be producers distributors or ultimately the public which either accepts or rejects you Without a public you can make paintings but not films from Jean Renoir A Life in Pictures Bibliographic Guide to Theatre Arts 1991 Library of Congress, New York Public Library Theatre & Drama, 1992

Boudu Saved from Drowning Richard Boston, 2019-07-25 Boudu is one of Jean Renoir's masterpieces and features Michel Simon's performance as the disreputable tramp rescued from the river It is discussed here by Richard Boston video critic of the Guardian The book features a brief production history and detailed filmography

Film Hieroglyphs Tom Conley, 1991 At a time when traditional film theory privileged the purely visual Film Hieroglyphs introduced a new way of watching film examining the ways in which writing bears on cinema Author Tom Conley gives special consideration to the points ruptures at which story image and writing appear to be at odds with one another Conley hypothesizes that major directors Renoir Lang Walsh Rossellini tend unconsciously to meld history and ideology Graphic elements are seen as simultaneously foreign and integral to the field of the image From these contradictions hieroglyphs emerge that mark a design attesting to a hidden rhetoric and to configurations of meaning that cinema cannot always control Tom Conley is Lowell Professor of romance languages and visual and environmental studies at Harvard University Among his books is The Self Made Map 1996 as well as translations of The Fold 1992 by Gilles Deleuze and In the Metro 2002 by Marc Auger all available from the University of Minnesota Press

French Film Susan Hayward, Ginette Vincendeau, 2014-04-23 The second edition of this innovative textbook brings together leading scholars to provide detailed analyses of twenty two key films within the canon of French cinema from the 1920s to the 1990s Films discussed include masterpieces such as Renoir's La Bête Humaine and Carne's Les Enfants du Paradis popular classics such as Les Vacances de Monsieur Hulot and Ma Nuit chez Maud landmarks of the New Wave such as Les 400 Coups and A bout de souffle important films of the 1990s such as Nikita and La Haine The films are considered in relation to such issues as the history of French cinema the social and cultural contexts of their production and reception the relationship with Hollywood cinema gender politics authorship and genre Each article is accompanied with a guide to further reading and a filmography of the director and the new edition also includes a fully revised introduction and a bibliography on French cinema

Caravaggio in Film and Literature Laura Rorato, 2017-07-05 Although fictional responses to Caravaggio date back to the painter's lifetime 1571-1610 it was during the second half of the twentieth century that interest in him took off outside the world of art history In this new monograph the first book length study of Caravaggio's recent impact Rorato provides a panoramic overview of his appropriation by popular culture The extent of the Caravaggio myth and its self-perpetuating nature are brought out by a series of case studies involving authors and directors from numerous countries Italy Great Britain America Canada France and Norway and literary and filmic texts from a number of genres from straightforward tellings of his life to crime fiction homoerotic film and postcolonial literature

The Long Take John Gibbs, Douglas Pye, 2017-10-27 This is the first book in English exclusively devoted to the long take one of the key elements of film style Increasingly visible in contemporary international media the long take currently attracts a good deal of attention in criticism and commentary There are also significant strands of film theory in which duration has become a recurrent concern In keeping with the approach of Palgrave Close Readings in Film and Television this collection is devoted to the detailed critical analysis of specific long takes explored in terms of how they function within their contexts how they shape the visual field the meanings they generate and the effects they create The Long Take Critical Approaches brings together essays by established and emerging scholars all but one essay commissioned for this volume in an exciting collection that analyses works from a range of filmmaking traditions from the 1930s to the present day selected to represent varied long take practices and to explore associated debates
