Maani Ja Kansani:

The Triumph of the Innocents William Holman Hunt, The flight into Egypt I have assumed to have occurred about sixteen months after the birth of Jesus Guided by Christian tradition and holding the birth of our Lord to have taken place in December it follows that the period which I have assigned to the Flight into Egypt is the second April in His life During the spring time rich in flowers and first fruits the Holy Travellers are represented as passing across the Philistine plain on the road to Gaza at a distance of about thirty miles from their point of departure The night is far spent While the declining moon sheds its last rays on the natural objects in the picture unearthly light reveals the embodied spirits of the martyred Innocents advancing in procession The Virgin is seated on a she ass of the breed now known as the Mecca race and the foal follows its mother as is seen to this day in the East Signal fires still lit in Syria in time of trouble are burning on the slope looking down from the tableland St Joseph is watching these fires intent on discovering any signs that may present themselves of a movement of soldiery upon the road Of the trees that enrich the landscape the nearest ones shelter a water wheel used for the irrigation of the land The more remote group clusters round a village with its few huts visible by the lights that burn within Having left the colder climate of the high country then thickly populated and well cultivated the fugitives have descended into the rich and more balmy atmosphere of the plain As they advance nearer and nearer to a place of safety they feel the blessed relief of a sense of peace after disturbance and terror

My Heart and my Flesh Elizabeth Madox Roberts, As a child Luce was running to the store to get a small can of oil for it was growing dark and she had the lamp to fill Across the street the lamp lighter was lifting a burning swab of waste to the street lamp a gasoline lamp on the top of a high post The lamp lighter stood on a ladder to lift the brand and when the lamp was lit he would take the ladder on his shoulder and walk away at an even step the same yesterday and the same tomorrow When he had new shoes the step was marked with crying leather She ran past the lamp lighter hardly giving a moment to look at him for she knew all his ways and all his motions all the rhythms of his feet The street lamp made a thin feeble light when there was any day left in the air but the lighter had to start on his rounds early to have all the lamps ready by the time the dark came to the last one at the end of Hill Street The lamp flickered dimly in the light of day that was left in the air but after a little a passer would be glad for the glow it showed the way to the pump and helped one over the well curb and over the stones at the crossing On dark nights when there was a wind the mules in the livery stable cried out with great cries There would be a wind that night making little wells of feeling pool up in one s chest and a thought of Mome the city came to her mind There in Mome all the lights were electric and there was one great light over all the place a high great light like a sun It shone down on the streets and on the tall house where Mr Preston the richest man in the world kept his money the money house and on the fountains in the square It made a great sheet of light that spread over Mome as a sunset would spread over a hill But there were dark alleyways for all that and dark doorways and at the thought deep wells of feeling would pool up in one s chest dark roadways and deep doorways and dark lanes where wheels had cut deep tracks There would be houses standing high above lanes and late wagons going down into the dark There would be a little light at the corner electric but very little blinking in the fog A thief would be slipping down a dark lane with what one could never think what in his hand In the store the boy with thin arms took her oil can and said A dime s worth and set the can aside to wait until the man came with the key to the oil house She stood beside the old black man who was buying a nickel s worth of meal and a dime s worth of bacon her eyes on the hurrying clerk whose arms reached here and there above the barrels and weighed the sugar as it poured in a stream into a sack She enjoyed the crowding of the store and the pageant of buying A heroic freedom surrounded the man old Anthony Bell who bought lavishly never asking the price calling over the heads of the others A hundred pounds of sugar Send it up tomorrow He had stepped lightly in at the doorway a lifted head the large gesture of shouting and the lifted cane Send it up tomorrow and then his exit while the piece went forward the play enhanced Moll Peters the negress came heavily in at the door and stood beyond Luce waiting her turn She was large and fat and the belt of her apron sank into the rolls of her body and was lost from sight She would buy freely as long as her money lasted buying for her children on Hill Street she cooked at the hotel and had no need to buy food for herself Ol Hog Mouth what all you a buyen she said to a tall man who stood beyond her a tall yellow man whose clothes were white with plaster You ain t treated Moll this whole endure year Her voice came from her mouth with a clatter of low half musical squawks and softly blurred vowels delicately stressed
