Pharmacology and Medicines Management for Nurses E-Book George Downie, Jean Mackenzie, Arthur Williams, Caroline Milne, 2007-12-28. This title is directed primarily towards health care professionals outside of the United States. An understanding of medicines and their effects on patients remains a crucial area of nursing knowledge. This book provides a thorough foundation upon which nurses can build their clinical experience to achieve competence. It not only provides information on the actions of drugs on the body but also gives clear guidance on the practical aspects of medicines management in both hospital and community. Organisation of the text broadly follows the British National Formulary for ease of use. Management of medicines linked to their therapeutic use. Medicine administration linked with relevant care of patients where possible. Basic principles of clinical pharmacology underpin the therapeutic chapters. A chapter on the role of patients and carers is included. All content revised in the light of changes in drug therapy, clinical practice and medicines management including nurse prescribing. Key objectives for each chapter. Self-assessment exercises with answers. More detail relating to palliative care nurse prescribing. A new section on Intensive Therapy. Totally redesigned in two colours with improved design and page layout and better illustrations.

Independent Prescribing for General Practice Nurses Amanda Blaber, Hannah Morris, Jennifer Gorman, Donna Goddard, 2021-10-06. General Practice Nurses play an essential role in delivering care through general practice, taking on a spectrum of different responsibilities within patient care to support the ever-increasing workload within GP surgeries, clinics and health centres. Often working autonomously as part of a multidisciplinary team, general practice nurses assess, advise and treat patients of all different ages and backgrounds and therefore may encounter almost every aspect of patient care during their work. This book is specifically aimed at GP Nurses undertaking independent prescribing within the complexity of contemporary primary healthcare. It offers a complete overview for those taking on an independent nurse prescribing course as well as those nurses who have already qualified as independent prescribers. Case studies written for the general practice setting will help nurses build on the skills and practice they have already developed as they take on the independent prescribing role and will also be of value to more experienced or advanced nurses hoping to refresh their existing knowledge. Written by a range of specialist authors, the book also covers the theoretical knowledge and context associated with independent prescribing, enabling GP nurses to practise competently and confidently and deliver clinically effective, person-centred care.
