In and Out of School Roger White, David Brockington, 2024-08-01 Originally published in 1978 reissued here with a new preface this book describes a project based outside the school institution but in co operation with it exploring methods and courses which might offer meaningful education for groups of fifth form leavers Though the project had been primarily concerned with developing a survival curriculum for the non academic urban adolescent the format of living experiential teaching and learning it exemplifies would be appropriate to the education of children of all ages and abilities The authors identified community resources and offer suggestions as to how these might be better employed They show how education could be taken out of the classroom to extend schooling beyond the schools and in this context they point to the vast untapped resources of both people and buildings outside the school walls which could profitably be incorporated within the existing learning framework They show also how the training of professionals particularly trainee teachers and social workers by involvement in such an experiment could constitute a fundamental preparation for their future roles Finally the authors urge for an extension of social policy with regard to education an extension of provision which they argue could be achieved largely through the re allocation of existing resources such as had already demonstrably

worked in the city of Bristol The perspective throughout is ideological as well as practical and the book is both a polemic and a procedural manual suggesting workable approaches and ideas many of which are still relevant today General Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum. Manson,Wayne K. Chapman,2018-02-15 This book describes inductively Leonard Woolf s career as a writer From novels and political studies to shorter journalism and criticism his published work is enumerated here in detail His signed and unsigned articles as literary editor of The Nation and The Athenaeum London and editor of The Political Quarterly Oxford are featured as well as an indexed selected list of political books in his library Preach the Word Myles MacBean,2019-11-11 How should we help equip the church leaders of Africa today There remains a well documented lack of theologically sound Bible centric preaching in Sub Saharan Africa The majority of sermons are preached by untrained or undertrained church leaders Following a practical theology praxis this book develops a conceptual framework for the evaluation of existing alternative approaches to grassroots preacher training It also proposes broad principles for effective preacher training and offers a practical solution The 20th century had seen the Christian church in Africa grow 36 fold to 360 million This amazing growth is arguably the largest religious change in human history in such a short period It has shifted the focus of Christianity from North to South This rapid growth is debatably considered by some missiologists and theologians to have resulted in an African church a mile wide and an inch deep That is a church of great size but lacking in spiritual depth The rapid growth has led to insufficient numbers of trained leaders being available to oversee their congregations Most leaders are unpaid Untrained or undertrained leaders have an inadequate knowledge of scripture and lack understanding of its interpretation They also lack the skills they need to communicate its truths Even so they preach up to 90% of the sermons in rural Africa Despite a tremendous hunger for training among many of those preachers traditional college based theological education cannot keep up with the demand for trained pastors and preachers in an affordable or culturally appropriate manner
