Shaping Flexibility in Vocational Education and Training W.J. Nijhof, Anja Heikkinen, Loek F.M.

Nieuwenhuis, 2005-12-28 Flexibility seems to be the core concept of economic and educational change in our time. The promise of solutions to many problems at the individual institutional and national level evokes as much controversy as acclaim. This might be related to the different perspectives of actors and researchers involved in problem solving in Vocational Education and Training VET where on the one hand solutions should be sought in key qualifications and transferability in changing teaching and learning processes while on the other political institutional organisational and professional conditions are seen as the key interventions to build a responsive workforce on the basis of a re engineered VET system. Consequently flexibility in connection with vocational education and training and the labour market has several divergent connotations

Labour-Market Flexibility and Individual Careers Simone R. Kirpal, 2011-01-12

With labour markets across the world and even in social democratic Europe in a state of unprecedented flux this exhaustive study addresses the problem of how to balance job market demands personal career interests and private life becomes a central issue for millions of employees. So how do modern work and employment arrangements restructure individual careers and what is required of individuals in order to manage career transitions successfully over time. This is one of very few in depth empirical studies to analyze how labour market trends organisational change and the subjective work orientations of individuals interact. The author's detailed assessment is based on a comparison of the structural contexts work orientations and employment histories of nurses and ICT technicians in Germany and the UK. These two core service occupations as well as the national contexts of the two European nations have quite different working environments and vocational traditions. Nursing is an institutionalized semi profession with clear criteria of qualification and career continuity while information and communication technology ICT is a new evolving field with varied skill backgrounds and high job mobility. To arrive at an understanding of how individual career trajectories are changing this book closely examines the interplay of labour market demands employees work and career orientations and the development of their skills. It records the ways in which employees adapt to increased labour market flexibility which on the one hand induces discontinuities of careers employment and work and on the other generates new skill requirements and learning expectations as well as unforeseen opportunities.

Supporting Workplace Learning Rob F. Poell,Marianne van Woerkom,2011-01-19 During the 1990s the workplace was rediscovered as a rich source of learning The issue of workplace learning has since received increasing attention from academics and practitioners alike but is still under researched empirically This book brings together a range of state of the art research papers addressing interventions to support learning in the workplace The authors are experienced international scholars who have an interest in making HRD and workplace learning practices more evidence based through practical relevant research Although workplace learning is largely an autonomous process many organizations want to manage it as part of their broader HRD strategy There are limits however to the extent to which the complex dynamics of learning in the workplace can be guided in pre determined desirable directions This tension between the possible strengths of workplace learning and the limits of managing it is at the heart of this volume The book is broken into three sections The first section deals with workplace learning interventions including HRD practitioners strategies training and development activities and e learning programs The second section investigates the impact of social support or lack thereof in workplace learning such as mentoring coaching and socialization practices The third section addresses collective learning in the workplace looking at teams knowledge productivity and collaborative Formazione degli adulti Formazione professionale Formazione manageriale Formazione continua Formazione a distanza Autoformazione Negli ultimi trent'anni la formazione non solo ha moltiplicato la sua presenza nei più differenti contesti organizzativi e istituzionali ma ha anche ampliato notevolmente il suo orizzonte di disciplina e di attività destinata allo sviluppo di conoscenze e competenze capaci. Lungo questo cammino la formazione ha saputo essere un luogo e un laboratorio per certi aspetti unico e privilegiato di sperimentazione e innovazione di metodologie didattiche così da mutare profondamente e arricchire significativamente i nostri modi di pensare e costruire l'apprendimento. Questo volume si propone di presentare per la prima volta nel nostro Paese un ampio panorama di metodi formativi da quelli più classici come la lezione e il role play a quelli più specificamente centrati sul gruppo e il lavoro di gruppo da quelli ispirati dalle nuove tecnologie a quelli focalizzati sul cambiamento e lo sviluppo organizzativo da quelli più personalizzati come il coaching e il counselling a quelli che coltivano l'ambizione di favorire e sostenere la conoscenza e la cura di sé dunque uno strumento indispensabile per tutti coloro che a vario titolo operano nel mondo della formazione che la utilizzano e la offrono la progettano e la realizzano.
