Self-Censorship in Contexts of Conflict Daniel Bar-Tal,Rafi Nets-Zehngut,Keren Sharvit,2017-10-30 This groundbreaking volume explores the concept of self censorship as it relates to individuals and societies and functions as a barrier to peace Defining self censorship as the act of intentionally and voluntarily withholding information from others in the absence of formal obstacles the volumes introduces self censorship as one of the socio psychological mechanisms that prevent the free flow of information and thus obstruct proper functioning of democratic societies Moreover it analyzes this socio psychological phenomenon specifically in the context of intractable conflict providing much evidence from the Israeli Palestinian conflict Moving from the micro to the macro level the collected chapters put the individual as the focal unit of psychological analysis while embedding the individual in multiple levels of context including families organizations and societies Following a firm conceptual explanation of self censorship a selection of both emerging and prominent scholars describe the ways in which self censorship factors into families organizations education academia and other settings Further chapters discuss self censorship in military contexts narratives of political violence and the media Finally the volume concludes by looking at the ways in which harmful self censorship in societies can be overcome and explores the future of self censorship research In doing so this volume solidifies self censorship as an important phenomenon of social behavior with major individual and collective consequences while stimulating exciting and significant new research possibilities in the social and behavioral sciences Conceptually carving out a new area in peace psychology Self Censorship in Contexts of Peace and Conflict will appeal to psychologists sociologists peace researchers political scientists practitioners and all those with a wish to understand the personal and societal functioning of individuals in the real world The Moral Triangle Sa'ed

Atshan,Katharina Galor,2020-05-18 Berlin is home to Europe s largest Palestinian diaspora community and one of the world s largest Israeli diaspora communities Germany s guilt about the Nazi Holocaust has led to a public disavowal of anti Semitism and strong support for the Israeli state Meanwhile Palestinians in Berlin report experiencing increasing levels of racism and Islamophobia In The Moral Triangle Sa ed Atshan and Katharina Galor draw on ethnographic fieldwork and interviews with Israelis Palestinians and Germans in Berlin to explore these asymmetric relationships in the context of official German policies public discourse and the private sphere They show how these relationships stem from narratives surrounding moral responsibility the Holocaust the Israel Palestine conflict and Germany s recent welcoming of Middle Eastern refugees They also point to spaces for activism and solidarity among Germans Israelis and Palestinians in Berlin that can help foster restorative justice and account for multiple forms of trauma Highlighting their interlocutors experiences memories and hopes Atshan and Galor demonstrate the myriad ways in which migration trauma and contemporary state politics are inextricably linked Peace Psychology in the Balkans Olivera Simić,Zala Volčič,Catherine R. Philpot,2012-03-06 The volume covers the development of peace psychology in the Balkans The Balkans is a region marked by post communist and post conflict transitional turmoil and this book provides a comprehensive introduction to research in peace psychology in this part of the world written by scholars primarily working in the Balkan area. It brings together innovative scholarship that examines interdisciplinary aspects of peace psychology researched and written by scholars from Kosovo, Serbia, Bosnia, Bulgaria, Romania, Macedonia, Croatia, and Slovenia, as well as presenting research that responds to contemporary global issues by tracking the ways in which peace psychology is developing and implementing in the Balkans. The Oxford Handbook of the Psychology of Competition Stephen M. Garcia, Avishalom Tor, Andrew J. Elliot, 2024. The Oxford Handbook of the Psychology of Competition reviews and organizes the literature on the psychology of competition and brings together leading researchers studying competition across the field of psychology. This volume is a crucial interdisciplinary investigation into the variety of perspectives and approaches to the psychology of competition, facilitating new research and integration in the field.

The Israel-Palestine Conflict Elizabeth Matthews, 2011-03-21. The Israel-Palestine conflict is frequently characterised by the violence between the two sides, beneath which lie a whole series of issues and disagreements. This book uniquely brings together Israeli and Palestinian viewpoints on key topics, providing an invaluable guide to the latest thinking on the major topics that the peace process will be based around.

Ethics in an Age of Terror and Genocide Kristen Renwick Monroe, 2012. How should Augustine, Plato, Calvin, Kant, Nietzsche, and Bonhoeffer be read today in light of postcolonial theory and twenty-first century understandings? This book offers a reader-friendly introduction to Christian liberationist ethics by having scholars from the margins explore how questions of race and gender should be brought to bear on twenty-four classic ethicists and philosophers. Each short chapter gives historical background for the thinker, describes that thinker's most important contributions, then raises issues of concern for women and persons of color.

Knowledge in Context Sandra Jovchelovitch, 2019-03-11. In this classic edition of her groundbreaking text Knowledge in Context, Sandra Jovchelovitch revisits her influential work on the societal and cultural processes that shape the development of representational processes in humans. Through a novel analysis of processes of representation and drawing on dialogues between psychology, sociology, and anthropology, Jovchelovitch argues that representation is a social psychological construct relating Self, Other, and Object world, which is at the basis of all knowledge. Exploring the dominant assumptions of western conceptions of knowledge and the quest for a unitary reason free from the impurities of person, community, and culture, Jovchelovitch recasts questions related to historical comparisons between the knowledge of adults and children, civilised and primitive peoples, scientists and lay communities, and examines the ambivalence of classical theorists such as Piaget, Vygotsky, Freud, Durkheim, and Lévy-Bruhl in addressing these issues. Featuring a new introductory chapter, the author evaluates the last decade of research since Knowledge in Context first appeared and reassesses the social psychology of the contemporary public sphere, exploring how challenges to the dialogicality of representations reconfigure both community and selfhood in this early 21st century. This book will make essential reading for all those wanting to follow debates on knowledge and
