African and European Readers of the Bible in Dialogue Gerald West, Hans (J.H) de Wit, 2008-07-31 Far too long the relationship between European and African biblical scholarship has been a non relationship Divergent insights into how biblical texts should be interpreted and made fruitful for the current context cultural differences colonial past and post colonial future radically different social situations this all made companionship and real interaction difficult This rich and multilayered volume result of a Stellenbosch conference 2006 attempts to disclose new modes of dialogue between readers of the Bible from those two worlds More than twenty theologians from Africa and Europe reflect together on how readers from radically different contexts professional and ordinary alike may become allies in an ethically accountable way of relating the biblical text to their current global situations and how a process of mutual learning may be established This book provides important insights in intercultural hermeneutics the relationship between classical historico literary approaches and new forms of interpretation It also gives examples of new forms of how to read the Bible in the secularised European context and the HIV Aids stricken Africa Particularly enriching is that every contribution is followed by a personal letter of response of another contributor to the book giving impulses for further dialogue and debate The book is useful for all biblical scholars and students in particular for those interested in how to do contextual exegesis in a manner that also takes into account the context of the other

Four (and a half) Dialogues on Homosexuality and the Bible Donald J. Zeyl, 2022-02-07 Four and a half Dialogues on Homosexuality and the Bible explores four different interpretive approaches to biblical texts regarding homosexuality and same sex marriage Differences of interpretation are discussed openly honestly and charitably The dialogues four characters maintain friendship with each other despite their disagreements and so the book serves as a model of how difficult potentially divisive conversations on a controversial topic might be conducted Three of the four perspectives presented for examination are well represented in the existing literature the fourth is not as familiar and is offered and developed as a proposal for bridging the divide that persists among theologically conservative Christians who honor the authority of Scripture over their thinking and their living Ongoing conflict over this issue is destructive of the unity toward which the Bible summons all believers to strive and so the book includes also a call to create space for one another both individually and institutionally for differences in theological conclusions and in community practices Each of the dialogues begins with one of the characters telling their personal story regarding their sexuality continues with that character's case for their view and concludes with a series of suggested discussion questions

Christian-Muslim Dialogue Heidi Hirvonen, 2012-11-09 Lebanon is a significant region of encounter between Muslims and Christians in the Middle East This book examines how Christian Muslim dialogue is envisioned by four present day Lebanese thinkers Great Ayatollah Muhammad Husayn Fadlallah and Doctor Mahmoud Ayoub from the Shiite tradition and Metropolitan Georges Khodr and Doctor Father Mouchir Basile Aoun from the Eastern Christian Antiochian tradition The study seeks to bring the four thinkers into dialogue on a number of topics including doctrinal themes ethical principles and the issue of political power sharing in Lebanon All four thinkers make several suggestions for facilitating mutual understanding and transcending old debates The concept of God and the principle of neighbourly love seem to have particular potential as fruitful bases for further dialogue

Common Words in Muslim-Christian Dialogue Vebjørn Horsfjord, 2017-10-23 In Common Words in Muslim-Christian Dialogue Vebjørn L. Horsfjord offers an analysis of texts from an international dialogue process between Christian and Muslim leaders. Through detailed engagement with the Muslim dialogue letter A Common Word between Us and You (2007) and a large number of Christian responses to it, the study analyses the dialogue process in the wake of the Muslim initiative and shows how the various texts gain meaning through their interaction. The author uses tools from critical discourse analysis and speech act analysis and claims that the Islamic dialogue initiative became more important as an invitation to Muslim-Christian dialogue than as theological reflection. He shows how Christian leaders systematically chose to steer the dialogue process towards practical questions about peaceful coexistence and away from theological issues. Buddhist-Christian Dialogue, U.S. Law, and Womanist Theology for Transgender Spiritual Care Pamela Ayo Yetunde, 2020-04-30 This book, written with hospital spiritual care providers in mind, investigates how to expand the field and scope of compassion within the hospital context for the spiritual care and safety of transgender patients. Written by a law-educated pastoral counselor, it advocates for chaplain legal literacy and explains the consequences of spiritual care providers not knowing more about the law. It explores the current political and legal situation transgender hospital patients find themselves in and especially how these new policies put transgender people at risk when they are in a hospital setting. Pamela Ayo Yetunde offers Buddhist-Christian activist interreligious dialogue methods to promote deeper understanding of how spiritual practices can cultivate empathy for transgender patients. The Politics of Gender in Early American Theater Leopold Lippert, Ralph J. Poole, 2022-01-05 In the late 18th and early 19th centuries, the American theater emerged as a crucial cultural space for debates around gender stereotypes, gendered conduct, sexual desire, the politics of intimacy and domesticity, female authorship, as well as the complex intersections of gender and other markers of cultural difference such as race, ethnicity, socioeconomic class, age, or nation. This collection explores the role of gender in the formation of American theatrical culture in this period. It features essays on well-known early American dramatists such as Susanna Rowson or Judith Sargent Murray, but also sheds light on anonymous authors and more obscure theatrical practices. Identity in Dialogue Didier Pollefeyt, Jan Bouwens, 2014 Situated in increasingly pluralizing cultural contexts, Catholic schools face the challenge of recontextualizing their identity in a culturally plausible and theologically legitimate way. To this end, across Victoria, Australia, the Enhancing Catholic School Identity Project (ECSIP) has developed a suite of empirical instruments that provide an in-depth analysis of a school's current as well as desired identity in a statistically reliable way. The results are discussed in this book. After describing and interpreting the results, the empirical insights lead to well-informed recommendations aimed at the identity development of Catholic schools with a normative preference for the Recontextualizing Dialogue School model as the way to enhance Catholic identity in a context of diversity. In this manner, ECSIP supports ongoing processes of self-assessment that form the basis for continuing dynamics of self-improvement of the identity of Catholic educational institutions. Series
