

A 19th-century landscape painting. A vibrant rainbow arches from the top right corner down towards a river valley. The valley is filled with a herd of cattle grazing on a grassy slope. In the background, a large, rocky hill or mountain rises, its slopes covered in sparse vegetation. The sky is a mix of blue and soft, hazy clouds. The overall style is characteristic of 19th-century landscape art, with a focus on natural beauty and a sense of tranquility.

Sharing Traditions National Museum of American Art (U.S.),1985 Sharing Traditions National Museum of American Art (U.S.),Lynda Roscoe Hartigan,1985-02-01 The lives and work of 5 black American painters and sculptors of the nineteenth century are examined Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations for 1986 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Department of the Interior and Related Agencies,1986 Henry Ossawa Tanner Naurice Frank Woods, Jr.,2017-07-06 This book examines the life and work of artist Henry Ossawa Tanner He was one of the most celebrated American artists of his era yet largely because of his race he quickly vanished from recorded accounts of the period in which he worked This book helps restore his legacy Ebony ,1985-07 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Child of the Fire Kirsten Buick,2010-02-17 Child of the Fire is the first book length examination of the career of the nineteenth century artist Mary Edmonia Lewis best known for her sculptures inspired by historical and biblical themes Throughout this richly illustrated study Kirsten Pai Buick investigates how Lewis and her work were perceived and their meanings manipulated by others and the sculptor herself She argues against the racist art discourse that has long cast Lewis s sculptures as reflections of her identity as an African American and Native American woman who lived most of her life abroad Instead by seeking to reveal Lewis s intentions through analyses of her career and artwork Buick illuminates Lewis s fraught but active participation in the creation of a distinct American national art one dominated by themes of indigeneity sentimentality gender and race In so doing she shows that the sculptor variously complicated and facilitated the dominant ideologies of the vanishing American the notion that Native Americans were a dying race sentimentality and true womanhood Buick considers the institutions and people that supported Lewis s career including Oberlin College abolitionists in Boston and American expatriates in Italy and she explores how their agendas affected the way they perceived and described the artist Analyzing four of Lewis s most popular sculptures each created between 1866 and 1876 Buick discusses interpretations of Hiawatha in terms of the cultural impact of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow s epic poem The Song of Hiawatha Forever Free and Hagar in the Wilderness in light of art historians assumptions that artworks created by African American artists necessarily reflect African American themes and The Death of Cleopatra in relation to broader problems of reading art as a reflection of identity A Southern Collection ,1993-02-01 A Southern Collection presents select masterworks from the permanent collection of the Morris Museum of Art on the occasion of the institution s inaugural exhibition Drawn from a comprehensive survey collection of painting in the South from the late eighteenth century to the present day the museum s opening exhibit explores an artistic terrain as rich and diverse as the South itself arranged in categories that reflect critical chronological developments in the art world A survey of painting activity in the South begins with the travels of itinerant portrait artists working prior to the Civil War At the same time landscape painting encompasses a sensitive response to the swamps bayous and fertile fields of the South Late in the nineteenth century strong and vivid genre painting competes with the nostalgic effects realized by Southern impressionists whose shimmering liquid images are invested with an elusive spirit of place In this century those strains of realism and naturalism that characterize the classic body of Southern writing appear in the representational art of painters who defied the modern abstract dictum And finally the exciting compelling works of a current generation of both self taught artists and sophisticated contemporary painters complete this fascinating though sometimes neglected chapter in American art history
