She Has No Place In Paradise:

Postmodern Utopias and Feminist Fictions Jennifer A. Wagner-Lawlor, 2013-07-31 This study examines feminist speculative fiction from the late twentieth and early twenty first century and finds within it a new vision for the future Rejecting notions of postmodern utopia as exclusionary Jennifer A Wagner Lawlor advances one defined in terms of hospitality casting what she calls imaginative sympathy as the foundation of utopian desire Tracing these themes through the works of Atwood Butler Lessing and Winterson as well as those of well known Muslim feminists such as El Saadawi Parsipur and Mernissi Wagner Lawlor balances literary analysis with innovative extensions of feminist philosophy to show how inclusionary utopian thinking can inform and promote political agency Examining these contemporary fictions reveals the rewards of attending to a community that acknowledges difference diversity and the imaginative potential of every human being

Denys Turner,2022-09-22 An understanding of Dante the theologian as distinct from Dante the poet has been neglected in an appreciation of Dante s work as a whole That is the starting point of this vital new book In giving theology fresh centrality the author argues that theologians themselves should find when they turn to Dante Alighieri a compelling resource whether they do so as historians of fourteenth century Christian thought or as interpreters of the religious issues of our own times Expertly guiding his readers through the structure and content of the Commedia Denys Turner reveals in pacy and muscular prose how Dante s aim for his masterpiece is to effect what it signifies It is this quasi sacramental character that renders it above all a theological treatise whose meaning is intelligible only through poetry Turner s Dante knows that both poetry and theology are necessary to the essential task and that each without the other is deficient The Penny Cyclopaedia of the
