Sheathing The Sword The Demilitarisation:

Sheathing the Sword Meirion Harries, Susie Harries, 1989
Harries, 1987 'Crimes against Peace' and International Law Kirsten Sellars, 2013-02-28 In 1946 the judges at the International Military Tribunal at Nuremberg declared crimes against peace the planning initiation or waging of aggressive wars to be the supreme international crime At the time the prosecuting powers heralded the charge as being a legal milestone but it later proved to be an anomaly arising from the unique circumstances of the post war period This study traces the idea of criminalising aggression from its origins after the First World War through its high water mark at the post war tribunals at Nuremberg and Tokyo to its abandonment during the Cold War Today a similar charge the crime of aggression is being mooted at the International Criminal Court so the ideas and debates that shaped the original charge of crimes against peace assume new significance and offer valuable insights to lawyers policy makers and scholars engaged in international law and international relations Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals, 1988 Japanese Defence Syed Javed Maswood, 1990 This book focuses on the defence policy of the Nakasone administration and attempts to provide an explanation for the policy measures which its administration implemented or initiated It suggests that the widening disparity between economic interests and political power forced Japan to review the traditional bases for defence policy making and prompted the search for a balance that would allow the country a more active role in the international sphere The book is organized around the central theme that Nakasone's defence policy can be understood as an attempt to rehabilitate Japan as a normal state and end the state of affairs that had relegated it to a unique and low position

Transcultural Justice at the Tokyo Tribunal, 2018-03-06 While the International Military Tribunal at Nuremberg has been at the centre of scholarly attention the Tokyo Tribunal has for decades been largely neglected This is surprising insofar as this tribunal was a well organized Allied endeavour and prefigured the international courts and tribunals of our day Eleven national teams were sent to Tokyo between 1946 and 1948 to bring about justice in the aftermath of the Pacific War This volume offers an innovative approach to the Tokyo Tribunal as an arena of transcultural engagement It contextualizes legal agents as products of transnational forces constituted through dialogues about legal concepts and processes of faction making The endeavour was challenged by different national policies divergent legal traditions and varying cultural perceptions of the task ahead Contributors are Milinda Banerjee Anja Bihler Neil Boister David M Crowe Kerstin von Lingen Narrelle Morris Hitoshi Nagai Valentyna Polunina Ann Sophie Schoepfel Lisette Schouten James Burnham Sedgwick Yuki Takatori and Urs Matthias Zachmann

Japanese Diplomacy in the 1950s Makoto Iokibe, Caroline Rose, Junko Tomaru, John Weste, 2008-02-19 This book provides a detailed examination of Japan's diplomatic relations in the 1950s an important decade in international affairs when new structures and systems emerged and when Japan established patterns in its international relationships which continue today It examines the process of Japan's attempts to rehabilitate itself and reintegrate into a changing world and the degree of success to which Japan achieved its goals in the political economic and security spheres The book is divided into three parts each containing three chapters Part I looks at Japan in the eyes of the Anglo American powers Part II at Japanese efforts to gain membership of newly forming regional and international organizations and Part III considers the role of domestic factors in Japanese foreign policy making Important issues are considered including Japanese rearmament and the struggle to gain entry into the United Nations In contrast to much of the academic literature on post war Japanese diplomacy generally presenting Japan as a passive actor of little relevance or importance this book shows that Japan did not simply sit passively by but formed and attempted to instigate its own visions into the evolving regional and global structures It also shows that whilst Japan did not always figure as highly as its politicians and policy makers may have liked in the foreign policy considerations of other nation states many countries and organizations did attach a great deal of importance to rebuilding relations with Japan throughout this period of readjustment and transformation
