Sheer Fiction Paul West, 1987 In this second volume of collected essays and reviews Sheer Fiction Volume Two Paul West examines the subtleties of Djuna Barnes almost devilish wit the Aeschylean tones of Broadway's Les Misérables and the ideas binding Dickens and Dostoevsky to Faulkner On the briefer side West reviews some 50 novels by such diverse authors as Turgenev J R R Tolkien Cortázar Amado Marie Claire Blais Janet Frame Anthony Burgess Anita Desai Katherine Dunn George Garrett Kurt Vonnegut J R Salamanca Stanley Elkin and more Many of the books reviewed are currently available in paperbacks and more attention is given in this volume to American and other English language authors than in Volume One His writing style is supple invigorating intelligent generous by intention and clearly the result of nothing less than complete engagement with his subject whether it is the latest European novels or the clinical implications of heart attack or the true nature of atrocity He is as unstinting in his praise of what he admires as he is devastating in his criticism of pretense and ineptitude

Final Drafts Mark Seinfeld, 1999-12 Some of the greatest writers in the history of the art Hart Crane Ernest Hemingway Jerzy Kosinski Sylvia Plath Anne Sexton and Virginia Woolf all chose to silence themselves by suicide leaving their families and friends with heartbreak and the world of literature with gaping holes Their reasons for killing themselves when known were varied and quite often unreasonable Some were plagued by depression or self doubt and others by frustration and helplessness in a world they could neither change nor tolerate Profoundly moving and morbidly attractive Final Drafts is a necessary historical record biographical treatment and psychological examination of the authors who left this cruel world by their own hands either instantly or over long periods of relentless self destructive behavior It is also a devoted examination of references to suicide in literature both by those who took their own lives and those who decided to live Mark Seinfeld has selected many well known mostly fiction writers from those whose work dates to over a century ago when the medical community was ill equipped to deal with substance abuse and depression to more recent writers such as Kosinski Michael Dorris and Eugene Izzie who have left a puzzled literary community with a sad legacy Seinfeld reveals that many authors contemplated ending their lives in their work were obsessed with destroying themselves were unable in the case of the Holocaust to live with the fact that their contemporaries had been killed believed death to be a freedom from the horrors that forced them to create and sometimes were simply unable to withstand rejection or criticism of their work Other noted authors discussed in this volume include John Berryman Ambrose Bierce Harry Crosby John Davidson William Inge Randall Jarrell Arthur Koestler T E Lawrence Primo Levi Jack London Jay Anthony Lukas Tom McHale Yukio Mishima Henry de Montherlant Seth Morgan George Sterling Sara Teasdale Ernst Toller John Kennedy Toole Sergey Yesenin and many others

This edition makes available an entirely new version of Hegel's lectures on the development and scope of world history. Volume II presents Hegel's surviving manuscripts of his introduction to the lectures and the full transcription of the second series of lectures 1830-31. Hegel lectured several times on the philosophy of world history. His manuscripts of the introduction and transcriptions by Griesheim and Hotho of the Lectures of 1822-23 were published by OUP in 2011 based on critical editions prepared by Walter Jaeschke. Now the Lectures of 1831 from a transcription made by Karl Hegel, the philosopher's son, also edited by Jaeschke, are appearing in English. Brown and Hodgson's new translation is an essential resource for the English reader and provides a fascinating account of the world as it was conceived by one of history's most influential philosophers. The Editorial Introduction surveys the history of the texts and provides an analytic summary of them, and editorial footnotes introduce readers to Hegel's many sources and allusions. For the first time, an edition of these lectures is made available that permits critical scholarly study, one which translates to the needs of the general reader.
