Long Term Perspective Study Of Sub Saharan Africa Vol 3 Institutional And Sociopolitical Issues:

World Bank Anne C. M. Salda,1995 Food Security Policy in Africa Between Disaster Relief and Structural Adjustment Gabriele Geier,2014-04-08 According to the FAO one person in three in sub Saharan Africa suffers from malnutrition and one in seven is in danger of dying Most African countries no longer seem capable of ensuring that their people have access to sufficient food Given the failure of past efforts the objectives of food security policies and their effectiveness have to be reconsidered This book shows that the debate on food security policies has changed with the passage of time The entitlement debate triggered by A Sen had a major influence on this change but the bearing of socio economic structures on the food security of African households and their individual members are still not fully recognised

Africa's Management in the 1990s and Beyond Mamadou Dia,1996 In 1992 the World Bank launched the Africa s Management in the 1990s research program a comprehensive study of the issues of institutional capacity building in Sub Saharan Africa and its effects on economic and social development This report focuses on the program and on how to implement its main message institutions must be both rooted in the local context and culture and open to outside challenges and influences Chapters focus on the institutional aspects of capacity building best practices in public administration indigenous private sector development and a framework for reconciliation between institutions The Paradox of Africa's Poverty Tirfe Mammo,1999 Taking Ethiopia as a case study this work examines the prevailing views on the poverty of much of Africa and argues that the current situation can be reversed by attacking the root causes of poverty once they are properly understood Ester Boserup's Legacy on Sustainability Marina Fischer-Kowalski,Anette Reenberg,Anke Schaffartzik,Andreas Mayer,2014-08-19 Arising from a scientific conference marking the 100th anniversary of her birth this book honors the life and work of the social scientist and diplomat Ester Boserup who blazed new trails in her interdisciplinary approach to development and sustainability Governance Capacity and Economic Reform in Developing Countries Leila L. Frischtak,1994-01-01 The inability to coordinate diverging interests and to promote policies that represent the public interest is one of many non economic obstacles to economic reform This paper examines the relationship between governance capacity and economic reform The Opportunities for private sector participation in agricultural water development and management F. W. T. Penning de Vries,H. Sally,A. Inocencio,2005 This study examines ways to increase food security reduce poverty and achieve economic growth in sub Saharan Africa with water through increased participation of the private sector and publicprivatepartnerships This report is a summary of the findings from a review of the literature and critical analysis thereof The private sector includes all farmers farm households and agriculture based micro small and medium enterprises MSMEs That is all entities involved in crop livestock and fish production and marketing in post harvest activities and food processing and in supply chains for the goods services and information used in the process The study examines different types of agricultural water development and management These include smallholder subsistence farming cultivation of profit oriented high value crops and peri urban agriculture as well as successful examples of private sector involvement in various functions or processes including planning design construction operations and maintenance The spotlight on water does not imply that other factors such as off farm employment market development and education are unimportant

Institutional Development Ronald McGill, 2016-07-27 This book reviews the theoretical perspectives on institutional development ID and third world city management It considers the practice of ID in city management by reviewing two related cases on organizational strengthening and building a planning capability both in local government The synthesizing chapters offer some guidelines on and tests for ID in city management practice The book therefore seeks to identify some general principles to guide the ID process in relation to third world city management Sociology, Anthropology, and Development Michael M. Cernea, April L. Adams, 1994-01-01 Environmentally Sustainable Development Studies and Monograph Series No 3 A listing of works published by World Bank sociologists and anthropologists this bibliography serves as a vehicle for exchanging experiences and promoting interdisciplinary Development Anthropology Riall W Nolan, 2018-02-06 Students will really appreciate this book It has a rare combination of humor clarity exceptional writing and above all a precision in outlining skills and knowledge for practice As a professional I learned much that will be useful to me Alexander M Ervin University of Saskatchewan At last a textbook on development anthropology that is comprehensive clearly written and up to date Nolan provides an exceptionally useful framework for analyzing development projects carefully illustrated with mini case studies Linda Stone Washington State University Nolan s book should be a backpack staple for the practitioner of grassroots development Jan Knippers Black Monterey Institute of International Studies Development Anthropology is a detailed examination of anthropology s many uses in international development projects Written from a practitioner s standpoint and containing numerous examples and case studies the book provides students with a comprehensive overview of what development anthropologists do how they do it and what problems they encounter in their work The book outlines the evolution of both applied anthropology and international development and their involvement with each other throughout the latter half of the twentieth century It focuses on how development projects work and how anthropology is used in project design implementation and evaluation The final section of the book considers how both development and anthropology must change in order to become more effective An appendix provides practical advice to students considering a career in development anthropology Governance and Economy Deborah Brautigam, 1991 An exploration of the links between development and governance that is between development and accountability including institutional pluralism and participation openness including problems such as corruption that result at least partly from lack of openness and predictability or the rule of law The Elusive Prince of Denmark Adebayo O. Olukoshi, 1998 Background context to the governance debate Tearing the Social Fabric Pádraig Risteard Carmody, 2001 As the second most industrially developed economy in Sub Saharan Africa World Bank officials argued that Zimbabwe could be the first African country to succeed with economic liberalization However the experience of structural adjustment was disastrous as it led to widespread deindustrialization In contrast to predictions a World Bank International Monetary Fund program led to the collapse of industries it was meant to promote textiles clothing and footwear This book examines the reasons behind this seeming paradox through an in depth case study of the experience of textiles clothing and footwear sub sectors in Zimbabwe under structural adjustment Economic liberalization failed because it did not relate to the local economic context This failure led to autonomous development of the trade and financial sectors to the detriment of production The economic crisis that resulted is a critical factor behind recent political instability and the current crisis of governance in Zimbabwe Padraig Carmody argues that alternatives must be based on a better understanding of the local politico economic context in Zimbabwe

African Voices on Structural Adjustment Codesria, International Development Research Centre (Canada), 2003 African Voices on Structural Adjustment presents 14 in depth studies on the history and future of structural adjustment in Africa Each study appraises the performance of structural adjustment policies SAPs with respect to a particular sector or issue Each evaluates the compatibility of SAPs with the requirements for long term development in Africa And most importantly each presents a truly African perspective The contributors represent an outstanding collection of leading African economists and development experts This volume is intended as a companion to Our Continent Our Future It will appeal to students professors academics and researchers in development economics and African studies professionals in donor organizations around the world and economic policymakers in both the governmental and non governmental sectors

Contending Issues in African Development Obioma M. Iheduru, 2001-02-28 Taking a forward looking approach this book critically examines the issues and dynamics central to Africa's problematic development and situates these issues within the continent's unique cultural, political, economic and social milieu. Moving away from a simple litany of problems bedeviling Africa's economy, the book is the culmination of several scholars' efforts to identify specific causative factors. Each chapter delineates a specific issue, demonstrates the role it plays in overall development and speculates on probable ways to meet the challenges it poses. The major conceptual and epistemological constructs considered include the tamed African State, social capacity management of change, reconceptualized gender roles and economic integration. Although the contributors' various approaches diverge and disagree, the epistemological variations contribute cumulatively to an understanding of the issues at the root of Africa's slow pace of development. While traversing the spectrum of issues that affect development, the book uniquely points out that the management of change is pivotal to fostering development. The authors' efforts provide a useful base for future research and help to chart a course of action leading to success in the 21st century. Government Reports Annual Index, 1990

Burkina Faso Pierre Englebert, 2018-02-19. Poor even by the standards of West Africa and landlocked at the edge of the Sahel, Burkina Faso, the Land of Men of Dignity, has been plagued by political instability since independence from France in 1960. The country has suffered five military coups, the last of which cost the life of the outspoken and charismatic leader Thomas Sankara, who had waged war on poverty, corruption and illiteracy. Yet Burkina's growth was surprisingly strong during the 1980s as it made the best of its meager assets in cotton, gold and livestock. The country is also fortunate in its relative lack of ethnic conflict and the several religions practiced: Islam, Christianity and animism peacefully coexist. Burkina has earned mixed reviews on the international stage, however, fighting two wars with Mali and supporting Taylor's rebels in the Liberian civil war. In this textured introduction to Burkina Faso, Pierre Englebert highlights the historical and contemporary factors that account for the country's instability, considers the ethnic, religious and social contours of the Burkinabé polity, examines in depth the country's economic policies and prospects and analyzes Burkina's external relations. Looking toward the next millennium, he concludes by assessing the chances of the apparent recent drive toward a more democratic system. Corruption, Politics and Development

H. Marquette, 2003-11-04. In 1997 the World Bank announced a strategy to help its borrowers combat corruption, despite earlier claims that work of this kind violated the Bank's non-political mandate. Despite many attempts to reshape corruption as an economic issue rather than a political one, the non-political mandate has never been satisfactorily addressed. Heather Marquette argues that the Bank should focus on its strengths and avoid the more controversial components of its anti-corruption programme which threaten its credibility. Managing

Policy Reform Derick W. Brinkerhoff, Benjamin Crosby, 2002. A toolbox for designing, managing and influencing policy reform in government and civil society. Based on experience in over 40 countries, this comprehensive book provides concepts and tools to navigate the how of policy change in order to enhance democratic governance. It teaches decision makers how to implement policy more effectively and increase the performance feasibility of these reforms. The research part of the USAID

Implementing Policy Change Project stems from work with government officials private sector entrepreneurs and civil society groups from regional to national and local levels in over 40 countries The book includes dynamic tools for designing managing and influencing policy reforms in government donor agencies NGOs civil society groups and the private sector
