The Romance of Culture in an Urban Civilisation Barbara Ballis Lal,2017-10-12 In this book originally published in 1990 the author presents a general critical overview of Robert E Park and the Chicago school of American sociology Lal concentrates on the contribution that Park and those working within the Chicago school tradition have made to the area of urban race and ethnicity and suggests how the current thinking among sociologists anthropologists social historians and social geographers might usefully be amalgamated with the ongoing tradition originating with Park at Chicago This book should be of interest to students and teachers of sociology urban studies and race relations

Urban Confrontations in Literature and Social Science, 1848-2001 Edward J. Ahearn,2016-02-11 In an innovative contribution to the challenging of disciplinary boundaries Edward J Ahearn juxtaposes works of literature with the writings of social scientists to discover how together they illuminate city life in ways that neither can accomplish separately Ahearn s argument spans from the second half of the nineteenth century in Western Europe to the present day United States and encompasses a wide range of literary genres and sociological schools For example Charles Baudelaire s essays on the city are viewed alongside the work of Emile Durkheim and Georg Simmel Bertolt Brecht s Jungle of Cities heightens the arguments of Louis Wirth and Robert Park Richard Wright s Native Son and Saul Bellow s The Adventures of Augie March are re visioned in tandem with works by William Julius Wilson and others Herman Melville s Bartleby the Scrivener poses a challenge to James Q Wilson s Bureaucracy Toni Morrison s historical novel Jazz is buttressed by the career of Robert Moses and the revisionist work of historians Hilary Ballon and Kenneth T Jackson and Don DeLillos s Cosmopolis comes into brilliant focus in the light of arguments on world cybercities by David Harvey Saskia Sassen and Manuel Cassels Resisting the temptation to ignore contradictions for the sake of interpretation Ahearn instead offers the reader a view of the modern city as complex as his subject matter Here the methodologies and knowledge generated by the social sciences are both complemented and subverted by the experience of city life as portrayed in literature With its diverse narrative tactics and shifting points of view which can be as disorienting to the reader as a foreign city is to an arriving immigrant literature reinforces the importance of method and outlook in the social sciences Ultimately Ahearn suggests neither literature nor the social sciences can capture the experience of urban misery

Speaking of Diversity Philip Gleason,2019-12-01 Originally published in 1992 In this collection of essays Philip Gleason explores the different linguistic tools that American scholars have used to write about ethnicity in the United States and analyzes how various vocabularies have played out in the political sphere In doing this he reveals tensions between terms used by academic groups and those preferred by the people whom the academics discuss Gleason unpacks words and phrases such as melting pot and plurality used to visualize the multitude of ethnicities in the United States And he examines debates over concepts such as assimilation national character oppressed group and people of color Gleason advocates for greater clarity of these concepts when discussed in America's national political arena. Gleason's essays are grouped into three parts: Part 1 focuses on linguistic analyses of specific terms; Part 2 examines the effect of World War II on national identity and American thought about diversity and intergroup relations; Part 3 discusses discourse on the diversity of religions. This collection of eleven essays sharpens our historical understanding of the evolution of language used to define diversity in twentieth-century America.

The City Reader Richard T. LeGates, Frederic Stout, 2015-07-16 The sixth edition of the highly successful The City Reader juxtaposes the very best classic and contemporary writings on the city to provide the comprehensive mapping of the terrain of Urban Studies and Planning old and new. The City Reader is the anchor volume in the Routledge Urban Reader Series and is now integrated with all ten other titles in the series. This edition has been extensively updated and expanded to reflect the latest thinking in each of the disciplinary areas included and in topical areas such as compact cities, urban history, place making, sustainable urban development, globalization, cities and climate change, the world city network, the impact of technology on cities, resilient cities, cities in Africa and the Middle East, and urban theory. The new edition places greater emphasis on cities in the developing world, globalization, and the global city system of the future. The plate sections have been revised and updated. Sixty generous selections are included: forty-four from the fifth edition and sixteen new selections, including three newly written exclusively for The City Reader. The sixth edition keeps classic writings by authors such as Ebenezer Howard, Ernest W. Burgess, LeCorbusier, Lewis Mumford, Jane Jacobs, and Louis Wirth, as well as the best contemporary writings of, among others, Peter Hall, Manuel Castells, David Harvey, Saskia Sassen, and Kenneth Jackson. In addition to newly commissioned selections by Yasser Elshestawy, Peter Taylor, and Lawrence Vale, new selections in the sixth edition include writings by Aristotle, Peter Calthorpe, Alberto Camarillo, Filip DeBoeck, Edward Glaeser, David Owen, Henri Pirenne, The Project for Public Spaces, Jonas Rabinovich, and Joseph Lietman. Doug Saunders and Bish Sanyal. The anthology features general and section introductions, as well as individual introductions to the selected articles, introducing the authors, providing context relating the selection to other selections, and providing a bibliography for further study. The sixth edition includes fifty plates in four plate sections, substantially revised from the fifth edition.

Multicultural Education in Colleges and Universities Howard Ball, Mbulelo Vizikhu Mzamane, Stephen D. Berkowitz, 2014-01-09 This book provides both an overview of the core dilemma in America: racism and the deadly impact it has had on American society, and an account of the ways in which the book's contributors have attempted to deal with this dilemma in their own teaching practice. Two core essays explore the theoretical and historical issues involved in defining races and ethnic groups in the West and issues of racial and ethnic inequality in American society. The volume then examines a variety of strategies for teaching the conflicts in comparative literature and politics, African American literature, law, history, and political science, sociology, religion, economics, anthropology, and art and music. A premise of this book is that multicultural education in colleges and universities must be transdisciplinary, based on the perspectives offered by a multiplicity of interrelated disciplines Clearly scholars across the disciplines have a great deal to learn from one another about issues of race and ethnicity in American society This book shares such knowledge in order to provide relevant accurate information about these issues and their consequences for individuals living in America It also encourages university educators to understand the challenges we face as a society and to be idealistic enough to want to draw upon the various strengths of our culture to assist in the remaking of American democracy      On Cities and Social Life Louis Wirth,1964      Dynamics of Ethnic Identity Jae-Hyup Lee,2018-10-24 This comparative study of the Chinese Korean and Vietnamese American communities in Philadelphia shows that each Asian American community maintains its own internal cultural boundaries which are used to cultivate differences that become institutionalized over time Socially constructed boundaries such as ethnicity gender class and generation intersect within and among ethnic groups Based on a social anthropological framework this study describes the mechanism of ethnic and class identity formations and shows how identities are institutionalized through various organizations By unraveling the complexity of Asian American communities and their boundary strategies this study provides a look at the new political processes which Asian Americans are creating in a variety of social settings Also includes maps Ph D dissertation University of Pennsylvania 1994 revised with new preface introduction thought The contents of the book range in a systematic way across the major traditions of social theory prominent today Among the topics covered are the relationships between modern social theory and the classics of the late eighteenth and nineteenth centuries the connections between social theory and mathematical social science and the logical status of generalizations in the social sciences Traditions of thought discussed include behaviourism symbolic interactionism Parsonian theory analytical theory structuralism and post structuralism ethnomethodology structuration theory world systems theory Marxism and critical theory

Sowing the American Dream David Blanke,2000 From 1840 to 1900 midwestern Americans experienced firsthand the profound economic cultural and structural changes that transformed the nation from a premodern agrarian state to one that was urban industrial and economically interdependent Midwestern commercial farmers found themselves at the heart of these changes Their actions and reactions led to the formation of a distinctive and particularly democratic consumer ethos which is still being played out today By focusing on the consumer behavior of midwestern farmers Sowing the American Dream provides illustrative examples of how Americans came to terms with the economic and ideological changes that swirled around them From the formation of the Grange to the advent of mail order catalogs the buying patterns of rural midwesterners set the stage for the coming century Carefully documenting the rise and fall of the powerful purchasing cooperatives David Blanke explains the shifting trends in collective consumerism which ultimately resulted in a significant change in the way that midwestern consumers pursued their own regional identity community and independence

Reengaging the Prospects of Rhetoric Mark J. Porrovecchio,2010-02-25 Reengaging the Prospects of Rhetoric reanimates the debate over the function and scope of rhetoric Providing a contemporary response to the volume The Prospect of Rhetoric 1971 this volume reconceptualizes that classic work to address the challenges facing the study of rhetoric today With contributions from today s leading rhetorical scholars Reengaging tje Prospects of Rhetoric offers response essays to each chapter of the original work Each scholar uses his her essay as a forum in which to address three questions As a historical document why is this essay important In terms of contemporary theory and or practice what is the significance of the essay How can the issues raised therein be profitably addressed in the future These provocative engagements suggest that while the study of rhetoric has gained much ground in the intervening decades there is more work to be done to reestablish the primacy of rhetoric in contemporary society This volume provides students and scholars of rhetoric with a strong foundation in the issues that have shaped contemporary rhetorical theory and criticism It offers them an accessible introduction to the challenges facing future iterations of rhetorical theory and criticism As a standalone text or a supplemental resource for undergraduate and graduate courses in the history theory and criticism of rhetoric or contemporary rhetorical theory it will help to shape rhetoric s future role in communication studies and will foster interdisciplinary dialogues about the topic

Whose Public Space? Ali Madanipour,2010-01-21 Public spaces mirror the complexities of urban societies as historic social bonds have weakened and cities have become collections of individuals public open spaces have also changed from being embedded in the social fabric of the city to being a part of more impersonal and fragmented urban environments Can making public spaces help overcome this fragmentation where accessible spaces are created through inclusive processes This book offers some answers to this question through analysing the process of urban design and development in international case studies in which the changing character level of accessibility and the tensions of making public spaces are explored The book uses a coherent theoretical outlook to investigate a series of case studies crossing the cultural divides to examine the similarities and differences of public space in different urban contexts and its critical analysis of the process of development management and use of public space with all its tensions and conflicts While each case study investigates the specificities of a particular city the book outlines some general themes in global urban processes It shows how public spaces are a key theme in urban design and development everywhere how they are appreciated and used by the people of these cities but also being contested by and under pressure from different stakeholders
