Know about State Repression Victor Serge, 2005 An expose of the methods of surveillance and harassment of political activists used by the Czarist police Serge's words read like a spy thriller but their message is real in the uncertain climate of a post 9 11 world political activists are facing a new wave of repression under coercive patriotism bills and racial profiling in the name of the war on terror Includes an introduction by Dalia Hashad Sacco & Vanzetti John Davis, 2004 Political activists Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti were framed and executed for murder in a wave of anti immigrant hysteria in Boston in the 1920s Their story is a salutary one illustrating the way in which anarchists and immigrants were painted as terrorists a grim reminder of the consequences of using fear as a political weapon Eventually pardoned in 1977 by Governor Dukakis Sacco and Vanzetti's case sparked an unprecedented international defence campaign backed by writers artists politicians and musicians It remains one of the most famous political trials in history Class War Mark Steven, 2023-05-09 large scale combat operations waged against capitalism's regimes and its interstate system. In our age of economic crisis, ecological catastrophe and planetary unrest, Steven tells the stories of those whose actions will help guide future militants toward a revolutionary horizon.

Exquisite Rebel Voltairine de Cleyre, Sharon Presley, Crispin Sartwell, 2005-02-10. Brings the writings of de Cleyre out of undeserved obscurity.

Helen Keller Helen Keller, 2003. A different portrayal of Keller who is usually remembered for her work aiding blind and deaf-blind people. Deaf and blind herself from the age of 19 months, Keller did indeed devote her adult life to helping those similarly afflicted; she was also a crusading Socialist championing the poor and oppressed from all walks of life and leading a fight against the less obvious evil of social blindness.

John Davis has collected her political writing and speeches including her arguments for women's suffrage, her opposition to the world wars and support for Eugene V. Debs.

Haydée Santamaría Betsy Maclean, 2003. Haydee Santamaria led a full and painful life. As one of the female leaders of the Cuban Revolution, she suffered horrible torture in Batista's prisons. After 1959, she established the world-renowned Latin American literary institution Casa de las Americas. She remained its director for 20 years, providing intellectual and physical refuge for artists and writers in exile from dictatorships.

Betsy Maclean has collected both Santamaria's own writings, including her poignant letter to Che on the news of his death, and tributes from others.

Le Sillon Linda Arbour, 2022-05-10. When Marc Sangnier died in Paris in 1950 and was buried in Notre-Dame, the streets nearby filled with people who could not get into the cathedral. Before his death, the French government awarded Sangnier the Legion d'honneur, pinned to his lapel by François Mauriac, a former silloniste who became a noted man of letters.

Le Sillon was a French political and religious movement founded by Sangnier, which existed from 1894 to 1910. It aimed to bring Catholicism into a greater conformity with French Republican and socialist ideals in order to provide an alternative to Marxism and other anticlerical labour movements.

This volume details the discovery of le Sillon as a lay movement in France that issued from the leadership of brilliant young students at the turn of the twentieth century. As they matured, so did the aims of the movement, and they became an educational force that encouraged both the privileged and worker alike to join together in playing leadership roles in unions then dominated by the anti-clerical left. Their activities brought them into conflict with the French hierarchy and the papacy itself, and matured into an expression of Christian economic democracy that challenged Catholic hierarchical norms.

Rebel Crossings Sheila Rowbotham, 2016-10-11. In a feat of extraordinary archival research, Sheila Rowbotham uncovers six little-known women and men whose lives were both dramatic and startlingly radical. Rowbotham tells a story that moves from Bristol, Belfast, and Edinburgh to Massachusetts and the wildernesses of California, showing how rebellious ideas were formed and travelled across the Atlantic.

Rebel Crossings offers fascinating perspectives on the historical interaction of feminism, socialism, anarchism, and on the incipient consciousness of a new sense of self so vital for women seeking emancipation. Their influences ranged from Unitarianism, High Church Anglicanism, and esoteric spirituality through to Walt Whitman, William Morris, Edward Carpenter, Eleanor Marx, Peter Kropotkin, Benjamin Tucker, and Max Stirner.
