Women Adventurers, 1750-1900 Mary F. McVicker, 2015-05-07 The past quarter century has seen a number of biographies and anthologies on women travelers but to date there has been little comprehensive reference work done on the travelers themselves Some of the women were eccentric many were very adventurous some were in search of a different world British women make up the largest portion of the book's focus these particular adventurers being backed in many cases by family money scientific inquiry and the ready availability of the British seafaring tradition Entries include the woman's family background her educational history and a summary of her world travels with in many cases evocative extracts from their writings many are literary gems

Romantic Love and Personal Beauty Henry T. Finck, 1887 Ghosts of the Belle Époque Andrew Edwards, Suzanne Edwards, 2020-04-16 The Grand Hotel des Palmes is an icon of Palermo life Its rooms and public spaces have witnessed the events that have shaped twentieth century Sicily everything from the suicide of a poet to political intrigues and a clandestine mafia meeting This hotel has a long and venerable history It started out as a private residence for the Ingham Whitakers the Anglo Sicilian family of marsala wine fame before being sold to the hotelier Enrico Ragusa in 1874 Wagner was one of the most eminent early guests looking for inspiration to finish his last opera Parsifal A few days after its completion a nervous Renoir arrived to paint his portrait Months later came Guy de Maupassant who asked to see Wagner's former suite so that he might detect a little of his personality The novelist and poet Raymond Roussel arrived in the 1930s but was destined to leave in a coffin Arthur Miller Sophia Loren and Maria Callas were all guests and when Visconti was filming The Leopard in Sicily the entire cast notably Burt Lancaster Claudia Cardinale and Alain Delon visited the hotel Lancaster even dined with a Baron who had made the hotel his home for reasons shrouded in mystery Less illustrious guests have included the occultist Aleister Crowley Lucky Luciano and other mafiosi Even Giulio Andreotti the former Italian Prime Minister who stood trial for complicity in the murder of a journalist and mafia association in the 90s opted for the hotel's Belle époque opulence Ghosts of the Belle époque showcases a richly researched history of this historic hotel with a cast of characters ranging from the good to the bad and the decidedly ugly Love Among the Ruins Angela Thirkell, 2024-03-07 You read her laughing and want to do your best to protect her characters from any reality but their own New York Times It's the summer of 1947 and peacetime has brought new challenges to Bassetshire Beliers Priory once a military hospital during the War has now become a flourishing preparatory school for boys run by Leslie and Philip Winter When Charles Belton is hired as the new school master six young people are thrown together in a web of flirtations and misunderstandings Charles and his elder brother Naval Captain Freddy Belton Susan Dean now Red Cross Depot Librarian and her glamorous sister Jessica an actress in thrall to the theatre pragmatic Lucy Marling and her brother Oliver And with the old social order in ruins the scene is set for a delicious summer of comic and romantic possibilities Love Among the Ruins is a delightful clever and wryly poignant classic and the 17th novel in Angela Thirkell's beloved Bassetshire series

Love Among the Aisles Jared Klev, 2024-05-17 Love Laughter and Wedding Bells A Perfect Match By Jared Klev Sarah Parker and Jack Morgan are the city's premier wedding planners known for their impeccable taste and flawless execution They're also known for their fierce rivalry With competing businesses and a shared history they've always been at odds But when a scheduling mishap forces them to work together on two high profile weddings their world is turned upside down Thrown into a whirlwind of floral arrangements cake tastings and seating charts Sarah and Jack must navigate the chaos of wedding planning while managing their growing attraction to each other From laugh out loud mishaps to touching moments of vulnerability their journey is a delightful mix of humor and heart Can Sarah and Jack put aside their differences to pull off the weddings of a lifetime And as they work side by side will they discover that true love might just be the perfect union of opposites Perfect for fans of romantic comedies and heartwarming love stories Love Laughter and Wedding Bells is a tale of unexpected romance second chances and the beauty of finding love when you least expect it The Norwich Book of Days

Travel Writing Peter Hulme, Tim Youngs, 2002-11-21 Table of contents      Love among the Bookshelves Ruskin Bond, 2014-04-18 Many readers have grown up with Ruskin Bond's stories. Now in an utterly delightful anthology he introduces you to the stories he grew up with. Part memoir, part anthology, Love among the Bookshelves is a glimpse into Ruskin's life through the books he has loved and an introduction to some forgotten classics      How to Climb Mt. Blanc in a Skirt Mick Conefrey, 2024-05-01 Which explorer found the lost site of Jesus' first miracle? Who was first to the top of the highest mountain in Peru? Who was the first Westerner to visit the Ottoman harem in Constantinople? Who held the world record as the only person to fly from Britain to Australia for 44 years? You'll find the answers to these questions and more in Mick Conefrey's charming new book. A hint: none of them had beards. In 1870 New York mountaineer Meta Brevoort climbed Mt. Blanc in a hoop skirt. Pausing at the summit only long enough to drink a glass of champagne and dance the quadrille with her alpine guides, she marched back down the mountain and into history as one of the first female mountain explorers. Here Mick Conefrey weaves together tips, how-tos, anecdotes, and eccentric lists to tell the amazing stories of history's great female explorers, women who were just as fascinating and inspiring as all the Shackletons, Mallorys, and Livingstones. Most were brave, some were reckless, and all were fascinating. From Fanny Bullock Workman, who was photographed on top of a mountain pass in the Karakoram holding up a banner calling for Votes for Women, to Mary Hall, the Victorian world traveler whose motto was "take every precaution and abandon all fear," How to Climb Mt. Blanc in a Skirt is uproariously funny and occasionally downright strange      The Experience of Idling in Victorian Travel Texts, 1850-1901 Heidi Liedke, 2018-08-02 This book brings together theories of spatiality and mobility with a study of travel writing in the Victorian period to suggest that idleness is an important but neglected condition of subjectivity in that era. Contrary to familiar stereotypes of the Victorians as characterized by speed, work, and mechanized travel, this book asserts a counter narrative in which certain writers embraced idleness in travel as a radical means to re-subjectification and the assertion of a late Romantic sensibility. Attentive to the historical and literary continuities between Romantic and Victorian, the book reconstructs the Victorian discourse on idleness. It draws on an interdisciplinary range of theorists and brings together a fresh selection of accounts viewed through the lens of cultural studies as well as accounts of publication history and author biography. Travel texts from different genres by writers such as Anna Mary Howitt, Jerome K. Jerome, and George Gissing are brought together as representing the different facets of the spectrum of idleness in the Victorian context      Dazzled and Deceived Peter Forbes, 2011-11-15 Nature has perfected the art of deception. Thousands of creatures all over the world, including butterflies, moths, fish, birds, insects, and snakes, have honed and practised camouflage over hundreds of millions of years. Imitating other animals or their surroundings, nature's fakers use mimicry to protect themselves, to attract, and to repel. To bluff and warn, to forage and to hide. The advantages of mimicry are obvious, but how does blind nature do it? And how has humanity learnt to profit from nature's ploys? Dazzled and Deceived tells the unique and fascinating story of mimicry and camouflage in science art warfare and the natural world Discovered in the 1850s by the young English naturalists Henry Walter Bates and Alfred Russel Wallace in the Amazonian rainforest the phenomenon of mimicry was seized upon as the first independent validation of Darwin's theory of natural selection But mimicry and camouflage also created a huge impact outside the laboratory walls Peter Forbes cultural history links mimicry and camouflage to art literature military tactics and medical cures across the twentieth century and charts its intricate involvement with the dispute between evolution and creationism

19th Century Female Explorers Caroline Roope, 2025-08-05 As any historian will testify a nineteenth century woman's place was very much at home Or was it For a lucky and plucky few who had a little determination and the ability to withstand lice infestations climbing mountains in corsets rascally guides and occasional certain death as well as the raised eyebrows of the society they left behind then the world really was their oyster In this lively retelling of twenty two extraordinary ladies who did just that Caroline Roope invites you to journey to the further corners of the earth along with them From humble missionary Annie Royle Taylor who knew God would keep her safe to the haughty aristocrat Lady Hester Stanhope who defied convention and dressed as a Turkish man including pistol knife and turban their collective voices still resonate hundreds of years later Drawing on their original accounts and archival sources this expertly researched book brings to light a wealth of stories that are full of grit sometimes literally courage and just enough humor to wish we'd been there with them on their adventures on the other side of the horizon So pack a suitcase along with a good thick skirt la Mary Kingsley and prepare to go beyond the garden gate
