Notre Dame H.S.

Mark Mathabane, author of the bestseller Kaffir Boy in America, grew up fearing and hating whites in a South African ghetto. Gail spent the first ten years of her life in lily-white communities in Ohio, and feared the people her Texas girlfriends casually called "niggers."

The two never dreamed of marrying outside their races. As many Americans gave up on the racial ideal of an integrated society, and two segregated, opposed, and hostile camps emerged — one black, one white — Mark and Gail fell in love.

Love in Black and White is the dramatic, revealing, and riveting story of how they overcame their own prejudices, society's disapproval, family opposition, and personal self-doubts to be together. Woven into their intimate account of falling in love, getting married, and raising children in the fishbowl of an interracial relationship are the beautiful, complex, and heartrending stories of other interracial couples in America and South Africa.

"A personal and candid account of what it means to break an intemperate taboo — and a heartwarming affirmation of love and commitment." — Kirkus Reviews

"Intriguingly structured with alternate accounts by husband and wife, Love in Black and White is a hymn of praise to the power of love in the face of deeply felt societal prejudices.... Highly recommended." — Library Journal

"The Mathabanes write well of the sweet, nervous first days of their love, and they don't flinch from the bad stuff.... As [they] show, all it takes is love, and defending yourself at nearly every turn." — front page, Washington Post Book World

"The honesty that is deeply rooted in every paragraph makes this book a moving one." — Newsweek

MARK AND GAIL MATHABANE live in Kennerlyville, North Carolina, with their two children, Bianca and Nathan. Mark is a much-sought-after lecturer on race relations and South Africa, where his family remains.

Navigating Interracial Borders Erica Chito Childs, 2005-05-24 One of the best books written about interracial relationships to date Childs offers a sophisticated and insightful analysis of the social and ideological context of black white interracial relationships Heather Dalmage author Tripping on the Color Line A pioneering project that thoroughly analyzes interracial marriage in contemporary America Eduardo Bonilla Silva author of Racism without Racists Color Blind Racism and the Persistence of Racial Inequality in the United States Is love color blind or at least becoming increasingly so Today's popular rhetoric and evidence of more interracial couples than ever might suggest that it is But is it the idea of racially mixed relationships that we are growing to accept or is it the reality What is the actual experience of individuals in these partnerships as they navigate their way through public spheres and intermingle in small close knit communities In Navigating Interracial Borders Erica Chito Childs explores the social worlds of black white interracial couples and examines the ways that collective attitudes shape private relationships Drawing on personal accounts in depth interviews focus group responses and cultural analysis of media sources she provides compelling evidence that sizable opposition still exists toward black white unions Disapproval is merely being expressed in more subtle color blind terms Childs reveals that frequently the same individuals who attest in surveys that they approve of interracial dating will also list various reasons why they and their families wouldn't shouldn't and couldn't marry someone of another race Even college students who are heralded as racially tolerant and open minded do not view interracial couples as acceptable when those partnerships move beyond the point of casual dating Popular films Internet images and pornography also continue to reinforce the idea that sexual relations between blacks and whites are deviant Well researched candidly written and enriched with personal narratives Navigating Interracial Borders offers important new insights into the still fraught racial hierarchies of contemporary society in the United States

Mixed Race Amnesia Minelle Mahtani, 2014-11-10 Mixed Race Amnesia is an ambitious and critical look at how multiraciality is experienced in the global north Drawing on a series of interviews acclaimed geographer Minelle Mahtani explores some of the assumptions and attitudes people have around multiraciality She discovers that in Canada at least people of mixed race are often romanticized as being the embodiment of a post racial future an ideal that is supported by government policy and often internalized by people of mixed race As Mahtani reveals this superficial celebration of multiraciality is often done without any acknowledgment of the freight and legacy of historical racisms Consequently a strategic and collective amnesia is taking place one where complex diasporic and family histories are being lost while colonial legacies are being reinforced Mahtani argues that in response a new anti colonial approach to multiraciality is needed and she equips her readers with the analytical tools to do this     A Study Guide for Mark Mathabane's "Kaffir Boy: The True Story of Black Youth's Coming of Age in Apartheid South Africa" Gale, Cengage Learning,2016 A Study Guide for Mark Mathabane s Kaffir Boy The True Story of Black Youth s Coming of Age in Apartheid South Africa excerpted from Gale s acclaimed Nonfiction Classics for Students This concise study guide includes plot summary character analysis author biography study questions historical context suggestions for further reading and much more For any literature project trust Nonfiction Classics for Students for all of your research needs     Fifty Years of English Studies in Spain (1952-2002) Asociación Española de Estudios Anglo-Americanos.
