Love And Politics In Outer Space:

Love and Politics in Outer Space Harvey Stein, 1986 To Seek Out New Worlds J. Weldes, 2003-05-01 This volume explores the science fiction world politics intertext Through detailed analyses of such texts as Blade Runner Stalker Star Trek and Buffy the Vampire Slayer the chapters in this volume examine the complex and sometimes contradictory relations between world politics both as discipline and as practice and discourses of science fiction Offering a novel combination of popular culture analysis with major theoretical and empirical issues concerning world politics Science Fiction and World Politics provides insights into the discursive constitution of both science fiction and world politics while highlighting the occasional challenges that the science fiction world politics intertext launches at our common sense Mobile Desires Liz Montegary, Melissa Autumn White, 2016-04-29 This book combines mobilities research with feminist and queer studies offering new perspectives on mobility justice It foregrounds academic activist and artistic work revealing state sponsored strategies for managing the mobility of people as mechanisms for aligning erotic and political desires with capitalist and nationalist interests The Politics and Perils of Space Exploration Linda Dawson, 2016-11-22 Written by a former Aerodynamics Officer on the space shuttle program this book provides a complete overview of the new U S space program which has changed considerably over the past 50 years The future of space exploration has become increasingly dependent on other countries and private enterprise Can private enterprise fill NASA s shoes and provide the same expertise safety measures and lessons learned In order to tell this story it is important to understand the politics of space as well as the dangers why it is so difficult to explore and utilize the resources of space Some past and recent triumphs and failures will be discussed pointing the way to a successful space policy that includes taking risks but also learning how to mitigate them

Challenging the Representation of Ethnically Divided Cities Giulia Carabelli, Aleksandra Djurasovic, Renata Summa, 2021-05-24 The book Challenging the Representation of Ethnically Divided Cities Perspectives from Mostar questions the existing overrepresentation of Mostar as an ethnically divided city While acknowledging the existence of internal borders the chapters in this book assert that they are not solid nor fixed and by exploring how they become material or immaterial the book offers a deeper understanding of the city s complex dynamics Accordingly the chapters in this book are attentive to how ethnic divides materialise or lose importance because of socio political contingencies Events groups and spaces that promote reconciliation from the bottom up are examined not necessarily to assess their success and failures but rather to look at how they create networks gain trust and form platforms that generate novel understandings of ethnic loyalties and party memberships Further and drawing both on the empirical data and theoretical reflections this volume contributes to broader debates about divided cities by suggesting the need to engage with these cities in their complexities rather than reducing them to their ethno national divisions The book engages with socio political and economic complexities in order to shed light on how ethnic conflicts and resulting spatial partitioning are often just the surface of much more complex dynamics that are far less easy to disentangle and represent The chapters in this book were originally published in Space and Polity Militarizing Outer Space Alexander C.T. Geppert, Daniel Brandau, Tilmann Siebeneichner, 2020-12-02 Militarizing Outer Space explores the dystopian and destructive dimensions of the Space Age and challenges conventional narratives of a bipolar Cold War rivalry Concentrating on weapons warfare and violence this provocative volume examines real and imagined endeavors of arming the skies and conquering the heavens The third and final volume in the groundbreaking European Astroculture trilogy Militarizing Outer Space zooms in on the interplay between security technopolitics and knowledge from the 1920s through the 1980s Often hailed as the site of heavenly utopias and otherworldly salvation outer space transformed from a promised sanctuary to a present threat where the battles of the future were to be waged Astroculture proved instrumental in fathoming forms and functions of warfare's futures past both on earth and in space The allure of dominating outer space the book shows was neither limited to the early twenty first century nor to current American space force rhetorics

Securing Outer Space Natalie Bormann, Michael Sheehan, 2009-01-30 The challenges that space poses for political theory are profound Yet until now the exploration and utilization of space has generally reflected but not challenged the political patterns and impulses which characterized twentieth century politics and International Relations This edited volume analyses a number of controversial policies and contentious strategies which have promoted space activities under the rubric of exploration and innovation militarization and weaponization colonization and commercialization It places these policies and strategies in broader theoretical perspective in two key ways Firstly it engages in a reading of the discourses of space activities exposing their meaning producing practices uncovering the narratives which convey certain space strategies as desirable inevitable and seamless Secondly the essays suggest ways of understanding and critically engaging with the effects of particular space policies The essays here seek to bring back space into the realm of International Relations discourse from which it has been largely removed marginalized and silenced The various chapters do this by highlighting how activities in outer space are always connected to earth bound practices and performances of the every day Securing Outer Space will be of great interest to students of space power critical security studies and IR theory
