Seductress Betsy Prioleau, 2004-10-26 In this road map to restoring feminine sexual power Betsy Prioleau introduces and analyzes the stories and stratagems of history's greatest seductresses. These are the women who ravished the world from such classic figures as Cleopatra and Mae West to such lesser known women as the infamous Violet Gordon Woodhouse who lived in a ménage with four men. Smarts, imagination, courage, and killer charm helped these love maestras claim the men of their choice and keep them fascinated for life. Through an exposé of their secrets, Seductress provides an authoritative empowering guide to erotic sovereignty.

Love and Soulmates Albert David Griffith, 2010-04-02 You wish to have love and to be happy. This book represents an attempt to give you love and happiness by showing you a view of what love really is and how peace, freedom, and security surely come with it. To help you to be happy, the book with your cooperation tries to sneak certain very desirable concepts past your conscious mind and into your subconscious mind. The sneaking is necessary because love, peace, freedom, and security can only be known in nonintellectual ways. You cannot think your way into them. It would be like your trying to learn how an orange tastes by reading about it when you know that the best way to learn that taste is simply to taste an orange. In the same way, you cannot learn about love by reading about it. You have to taste it. Here we try to help you to taste love. As part of that try, we describe what soulmates truly are because the most satisfying of all relationships is the soulmate relationship. So what would happen if you found your soulmate? Please help us to help you to be happy.

Hiroshima Ran Zwigenberg, 2014-09-15 In 1962 a Hiroshima peace delegation and an Auschwitz survivor's organization exchanged relics and testimonies including the bones and ashes of Auschwitz victims. This symbolic encounter in which the dead were literally conscripted in the service of the politics of the living serves as a cornerstone of this volume, capturing how memory was utilized to rebuild and redefine a shattered world. This is a powerful study of the contentious history of remembrance and the commemoration of the atomic bomb in Hiroshima in the context of the global development of Holocaust and World War II memory. Emphasizing the importance of nuclear issues in the 1950s and 1960s, Zwigenberg traces the rise of global commemoration culture through the reconstruction of Hiroshima as a City of Bright Peace, memorials, and museums, global tourism developments in psychiatry, and the emergence of the figure of the survivor witness and its consequences for global memory practices.

Musicological Identities Jacqueline Warwick, 2017-07-05 No music scholar has made as profound an impact on contemporary thought as Susan McClary, a central figure in what has been termed the new musicology. In this volume, seventeen distinguished scholars pay tribute to her work with essays addressing three approaches to music that have characterized her own writings: reassessing music's role in identity formation, particularly regarding gender, sexuality, and race; exploring music's capacity to define and regulate perceptions and experiences of time; and advancing new modes of analysis more appropriate to those aspects and modes of musicking ignored by traditional methods. Contributors include, in overlapping categories, many fellow pioneers, current colleagues, and former students, and their essays like McClary's own work address a wide range of repertoires ranging from the established canon to a variety of popular genres. The collection represents the generational arrival of the new musicology into full maturity, dividing fairly evenly between pre-eminent scholars of music and a group of younger scholars who have already made their mark in significant ways. But the collection is also and fundamentally interdisciplinary in nature, in active conversation with such fields as history, anthropology, philosophy, aesthetics, media studies, film, music studies, dramatic criticism, women's studies, and cultural studies.

Latina/o Sexualities Marysol Asencio, 2009-10-26. Latina/os are currently the largest minority population in the United States. They are also one of the fastest growing. Yet we have very limited research and understanding of their sexualities. Instead, stereotypical images flourish, even though scholars have challenged the validity and narrowness of these images and the lack of attention to the larger social context. Gathering the latest empirical work in the social and behavioral sciences, this reader offers us a critical lens through which to understand these images and the social context framing Latina/os and their sexualities. Situated at the juncture of Latina/o studies and sexualities studies, Latina/o Sexualities provides a single resource that addresses the current state of knowledge from a multidisciplinary perspective. Contributors synthesize and critique the literature and carve a separate space where issues of Latina/o sexualities can be explored, given the limitations of prevalent research models. This work compels the current wave in sexuality studies to be more inclusive of ethnic minorities and sets an agenda that policy makers and researchers will find invaluable. Booklovers Edition ... William Shakespeare, 1901

The Book Lover Warren Elbridge Price, 1899. Shakespeare and Quotation Julie Maxwell, Kate Rumbold, 2018-04-26. Shakespeare is the most frequently quoted English author of all time. Quotations appear everywhere, from the epigraphs of novels to the mottoes on coffee cups. But Shakespeare was also a frequent quoter himself of classical and contemporary literature, of the Bible, of snatches of popular songs and proverbs. This volume brings together an international team of scholars to trace the rich history of quotation from Shakespeare's own lifetime to the present day. Exploring a wide range of media, including Romantic poetry, theatre, criticism, novels by Jane Austen, Thomas Hardy, and Ian McEwan, political oratory, propaganda, advertising, drama, film, and digital technology, the chapters draw fresh connections between Shakespeare's own practices of creative reworking and the quotation of his work in new and traditional forms. Richly illustrated and featuring an Afterword by Margreta de Grazia, the collection tells a new story of the making and remaking of Shakespeare's plays and poems.

Sex, Love, and Friendship Adrienne Leigh McEvoy, 2011-08. The joke is that all the prostitutes go on vacation when the philosophers come to town. The reason that the other conventioners do it, philosophers just talk about it. And talk about sex and love and friendship is what the contributors to this volume do. They talk and argue, split hairs, and clarify, all trying to advance our understanding of this most interesting practice of the human species. Some of the best minds on three continents, from four nations, and eighteen of the United States, discuss such topics as adultery, commitment, cross-dressing, gender politics, date rape, family, friendship, friends as lovers, gayness, love, marital pluralism, marriage, prostitution, religiously motivated anti queer sentiments same sex marriage seduction and self respect Rather than preach participants probe our attitudes and practices involving these issues with the aim of better understanding the broad range of sexual practices of our species The result is a collection of stimulating essays that can enliven class discussions as well as provide guidance for the sexually perplexed The work is accessible to readers from high school through college and beyond Alone Together Henry Berlin,2021-07-05 Alone Together reinterprets the explosion of sentimental poetry and prose in fifteenth century Iberia
