The Contemporary Fantastic Amanda Vredenburg, 2024-11-19 In The Contemporary Fantastic Reimagining Reality in French Fiction Amanda Vredenburg identifies a contemporary shift in the use of fantastic modalities in French fiction no longer dominated by the desire to escape the disappointments of reality nor the reader's hesitation about the reality of the novel's events but by its innovative confrontation with the real What could bizarre uncanny or supernatural literary representations have to tell us about very urgent real issues like the environmental crisis racism migration and the formation of egalitarian communities Through close readings of a selection of novels by Marie Darrieussecq Marie NDiaye and Antoine Volodine Vredenburg argues that the ability to blur boundaries gives the fantastic both an emancipatory and reparative function in its engagement with contemporary political issues These authors complicate categories such as human nonhuman French foreign inclusion exclusion and individual community and shift the focus to the experiential and affective dimensions of these issues ultimately allowing us to better think and feel with those that are excluded Vredenburg concludes that this use of the fantastic has a specific ethical stance which encourages a community based approach founded on compassion and inclusion

Palestine in the World Sorcha Thomson, Pelle Valentin Olsen, 2023-02-23 The Palestinian national liberation movement or the Palestinian revolution as it is known in Arabic emerged during the 1960s as an iconic cause of the global Left This volume highlights the different practices of international solidarity that characterised this period and how they shaped and were shaped by the global trajectory of the Palestinian movement Bringing together scholars with versatile linguistic and interdisciplinary skills Palestine in the World puts the Palestinian movement into conversation with the models of transnational politics that emerged through the revolutionary period From participation in a vibrant sphere of intellectual and cultural production the work of travelling revolutionaries as delegates volunteers and militants and the connected mobilisations that took place in different corners of the world international solidarity with and from the Palestinian movement was integral to its ascendance on the global stage By treating the Palestinian revolution as a world phenomenon with cases from Cuba France the US the GDR Japan and more this volume reveals the forms of solidarity that shaped the rise of the movement and their afterlives today It illuminates the rich connected histories of international solidarity that positioned the Palestinian movement as an iconic anticolonial struggle

European-language Writing in Sub-Saharan Africa Albert S. Gérard, 1986-01-01 The first major comparative study of African writing in western languages European language Writing in Sub Saharan Africa edited by Albert S G rard falls into four wide ranging sections an overview of early contacts and colonial developments Under Western Eyes chapters on Black Consciousness manifest in the debates over Panafricanism and Negritude a group of essays on mental decolonization expressed in Black Power texts at the time of independence struggles and finally Comparative Vistas sketching directions that future comparative study might explore An introductory essay stresses the millennia of writing in Africa side by side with a richly eloquent and artistic set of vernacular oral traditions written and oral traditions have become interwoven in adaptations of imported forms and linguistic innovations that challenge traditional high literary norms G rard uses the mathematical concept of fuzzy sets to explain why the focus on Black Africa has led him to set aside for future analysis the literatures produced in North Africa which fall under the influence of Muslim civilization as well as the diasporic literatures of the New World Over sixty scholars from twenty two countries contribute specialized studies of creative writing by leading authors in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries such as Achebe Mphahlele Ngugi Senghor Soyinka and Tutuola Critical analyses are organized primarily around regions reflecting different colonial languages imposed through schools and other social institutions Some authors trace the adaptation of western genres others identify syncretism with folktales or myths The volumes are attentive to the heterogeneity of national literatures addressed to polyethnic and multilingual populations and they note the instrumental politics of language in newly independent states A closing chapter Tasks Ahead identifies areas for future scholars to explore

The False Traitor Albert Raimundo Braz, 2003-01-01 The nineteenth century M tis politician and mystic Louis Riel has emerged as one of the most popular and elusive figures in Canadian culture Since his hanging for treason in 1885 the self declared David of the New World has been depicted variously as a traitor to Confederation a French

Canadian and Catholic martyr a bloodthirsty rebel a pan American liberator a pawn of shadowy white forces a Prairie political maverick a First Nations hero an alienated intellectual a victim of Western industrial progress and even a Father of Confederation Albert Braz synthesizes the available material by and about Riel including film sculpture and cartoons as well as literature in French and English and analyzes how an historical figure could be portrayed in such contradictory ways In light of the fact that most aesthetic representations of Riel bear little resemblance not only to one another but also to their purported model Braz suggests that they reveal less about Riel than they do about their authors and the society to which they belong The most comprehensive treatment of the representations of Louis Riel in Canadian literature The False Traitor will be a seminal work in the study of this popular Canadian figure
