L'univers Imaginaire De Robert Browning:

L'Univers imaginaire de Robert Browning Bernard Brugière, 1979 Héritier du romantisme anglais Browning est aussi un précurseur exceptionnel de la poésie moderne offrant un relais inattendu entre les poètes métaphysiques du XVIII<sup>e</sup> siècle d'une part et Eliot ou Pound de l'autre qui reprendront la forme et les techniques du monologue dramatique instrument poétique privilège dont s'était servi leur devancier avec autant de maîtrise que de subtilité pour donner la parole à ses dramatis personae Prophète voyant analyste délié des motifs et des signes humains Browning est un poète qui appuie son réalisme et son interprétation symbolique du réel sur une poétique de la modernité proche de Baudelaire Mais son exploration à la fois dialectique et mystique de l'univers constitue également un témoignage lucide des bouleversements et des mutations idéologiques qui ont secoué la période victorienne La présente étude retrouve les lignes de force la structure d'une thématique profondément conçue comme un réseau organisé de motifs récurrents ou d'images obsédantes elle reconstitue un univers imaginaire un paysage tout personnel de préférences et de répulsions pour certains éléments certaines matières certaines catégories et formes sensibles Mais s'il induit rêveries et sensations au sens bachelardien et richardien de ces termes l'univers imaginaire se conçoit aussi comme mise en scène et travail de desirs inconscients lieu d'une activité fantasmatique Psychobiographie et psychocritique se conjuguent ici pour aboutir au double dévoilement d'un mythe personnel et d'un ordre caché de l'art

Colour and Experience in Nineteenth-Century Poetry Richard Cronin, 1988-06-18 In this book colour words as used in the poetry of Keats Browning and Hopkins become crucial indicators of a way of looking at the nineteenth century world The author traces the forging of language that mediates between a system of values and the flux of experience

Vikram Seth's Poetics of Pastiche Mélanie Heydari, 2024-09-21 Vikram Seth is a critical enigma He is recognized as one of the most important Indian Anglophone authors of his generation his individual works have been widely reviewed yet his work has rarely been approached as a whole and remains surprisingly understudied Perhaps the chief reason for the paucity of critical response to the full compass of Seth's work is his disregard for intellectual fashion Indeed Seth is at once very popular and deliberately unfashionable His literary affiliations are conservative seemingly uninterested in any revisionary narrative he is equally unconcerned by the interpenetration of cultures in our globalized world representing assimilation rather than cultural difference He defies the expectations of both postcolonial and world literature therefore to discuss his critical neglect is to shed light on the limitations of these labels As the most thorough attempt to map a general poetics in Seth's work this study the first of its kind on this writer develops a new critical methodology to capture the nuances of Seth's literary strategies It provides scholars and students insight into the key features of Seth's work and uncovers a consistent authorial strategy running through his seemingly disconnected body of work namely a systematic use of intertextual practices rigueur et efficacité Passions Without a Tongue Jochen Haug, 2004 Robert Browning 1812-1889 is generally held to be one of the most important and most complex Victorian poets. His poetry balances a high level of intellectual sophistication with an acute awareness of physical materiality. This study analyses the depiction of the human body in Browning's work. Particular emphasis is placed on the dramatic monologue, the poetic form for which he is famous. The main part of the study consists of close readings of Browning's poems and situates his oeuvre in the context of Victorian thinking.

Bibliographies of Studies in Victorian Literature for the Ten Years 1975-1984 Richard Clark Tobias, 1991. Cahiers Victoriens & Édouardiens, 2004 Cumulative Bibliography of Victorian Studies, 1970 Poets Ian Scott-Kilvert, 1998. The Scribner Writers Series has set the standard for literary reference for more than 25 years. In addition to addressing the lives and careers of important writers, the articles discuss the themes and styles of major works and place them in pertinent historical, social and political contexts for today's readers. American and British answers the demand for affordable, accessible information on classic poets, lives and works. The 72 signed essays are drawn from Scribner's acclaimed American Writers and British Writers Series. This set is an invaluable alternative for librarians with limited budgets. Stages of Self Elisabeth A. Howe, 1990. The dramatic monologue has attracted considerable critical attention in English but is rarely considered relevant to French poetry and has generally been ignored in studies of comparative literature. In Stages of Self various poems by Jules Laforgue, Stéphane Mallarmé and Paul Valéry are analyzed to show that they conform to the norms of the genre even though they bear little surface resemblance to the dramatic monologues by Browning, Pound or Eliot. Traditionally a dramatic monologue is a poem spoken by an identified persona placed in a dramatic situation This description fits poems such as L'Après-midi d'un faune and La Jeune Parque though the persona and the drama are quite unlike those of English and American dramatic monologues The latter two tend to characterize the speaker fully and to place him/her in a well defined spatial and temporal context while the French poems ignore characterization and give very little contextual detail The figures of the Parque and the Faun are engaged in purely internal dramas which again distinguishes these poems from the Browningesque dramatic monologue they belong to the dramatic tradition of Racine rather than Shakespeare LaForgue's poetry constitutes an interesting half way point between the representational dramatic monologue typical of Browning which Laforgue ironically undermines and the more impersonal and universal though still dramatic monologues of Mallarmé and Valéry Howe seeks to redefine the scope of the term dramatic monologue which she feels is often unduly limited She notes that the term is frequently confined to the use of spoken colloquial language so foreign to Mallarmé Valéry or indeed Tennyson or the presence of a silent interlocutor However Howe contends that such narrow interpretations restrict the genre to Browning's monologues and not all of those Admitting that far more examples of the genre exist in English Howe attributes the scarcity to the differing assumptions on the part of French poets about poetic voice and about the nature of spoken as opposed to written language
