Luxury Of Exile:

The Luxury of Exile Louis Buss, 1998 The Luxury of Nationalist Despair A.J. Simoes da Silva, 2021-11-01 This book offers a timely critique of the work of the Barbadian novelist George Lamming examining the ways in which his novels exhibit the luxury of nationalist despair and exploring the tensions between his strongly voiced anti colonialism and his ambiguously articulated politics of self. Although stressing the place occupied by Lamming and his work in the context of an anti colonial first generation of nation writing that has emerged in the formerly colonized world over the past half century the study also addresses the novelist's problematic reductive focus on a nationalist project that is ultimately deeply flawed in essence the result of an uneasy relationship between form and thesis. Lamming's continued struggle with the novel as a genre especially with its ability to get beyond the cultural and political baggage of colonialism demonstrates the power of one of his most poignant assertions the colonial experience is a continuing psychic experience that has to be dealt with long after the actual situation formally ends. Written from a postcolonial perspective the study draws also on contemporary feminist criticism in order to examine Lamming's characteristically simplistic depiction of female characters in terms of a greater willingness to embody the neocolonial. The book starts by addressing the place Lamming's work occupies both within postcolonial writing at large and specifically within Caribbean literature. Subsequent chapters provide close textual readings of Lamming's six novels paired in terms of their foregrounding of issues of race gender and class. Despite a clear shift in Lamming's thematic focus on the rewriting of Caliban's project with his last novel offering a basis for a re-imagining of the post colonial encounter there remains a perturbing inability to relinquish the privileged stance afforded the postcolonial intellectual in self-imposed exile cultural much more than geographical. The book represents an important contribution to criticism on the work of one of the most influential voices in postcolonial literature of the last fifty years.

Luxury After the Terror Iris Moon, 2022-04-01 When Louis XVI was guillotined on January 21 1793 vast networks of production that had provided splendor and sophistication to the royal court were severed. Although the king's royal possessions from drapery and tableware to clocks and furniture suites were scattered and destroyed many of the artists who made them found ways to survive. This book explores the fabrication circulation and survival of French luxury after the death of the king. Spanning the final years of the ancien régime from the 1790s to the first two decades of the nineteenth century this richly illustrated book positions luxury within the turbulent politics of dispersal disinheritance and dispossession. Exploring exceptional works created from silver silk wood and porcelain as well as unrealized architectural projects Iris Moon presents new perspectives on the changing meanings of luxury in the revolutionary and Napoleonic periods a time when artists were forced into hiding exile or emigration. Moon draws on her expertise as a curator to revise conventional accounts of the so-called Louis XVI style arguing that it was only after the revolutionary auctions liquidated the king's collections that their provenance accrued deeper cultural meanings as objects with both a royal imprimatur and a threatening reactionary potential. Lively and accessible this
