Moore, Linda Levitan, 2016-01-14 Answers to Some of the Most Commonly Asked Questions About the Deaf Community its Culture and the Deaf Reality      The Invention of Miracles Katie Booth, 2022-05-10 An astonishingly revisionist biography of Alexander Graham Bell telling the true and troubling story of the inventor of the telephone We think of Alexander Graham Bell as the inventor of the telephone but that's not how he saw his own career Bell was an elocution teacher by profession As the son of a deaf woman and later husband to another his goal in life from adolescence was to teach the deaf to speak Even his tinkering sprang from his teaching work the telephone had its origins as a speech reading machine And yet by the end of his life despite his best efforts or perhaps more accurately because of them Bell had become the American Deaf community's most powerful enemy The Invention of Miracles recounts an extraordinary piece of forgotten history Weaving together a moving love story with a fascinating tale of innovation it follows the complicated tragedy of a brilliant young man who set about stamping out what he saw as a dangerous language Sign The book offers a heartbreaking look at how heroes can become villains and how good intentions are unfortunately nowhere near enough as well as a powerful account of the dawn of a civil rights movement and the triumphant tale of how the Deaf community reclaimed their once forbidden language Katie Booth has been researching this story for over a decade poring over Bell's papers Library of Congress archives and the records of deaf schools around America But she's also lived with this story for her entire life Witnessing the damaging impact of Bell's legacy on her family would set her on a path that upturned everything she thought she knew about language power deafness and the telephone      Born in Cambridge Karen Weintraub, Michael Kuchta, 2022-05-03 Anne Bradstreet W E B Du Bois gene editing and Junior Mints cultural icons influential ideas and world changing innovations from Cambridge Massachusetts Cambridge Massachusetts is a city of firsts the first college in the English colonies the first two way long distance call the first legal same sex marriage In 1632 Anne Bradstreet living in what is now Harvard Square wrote one of the first published poems in British North America and in 1959 Cambridge based Carter's Ink marketed the first yellow Hi liter W E B Du Bois Julia Child Yo Yo Ma and Noam Chomsky all lived or worked in Cambridge at various points in their lives Born in Cambridge tells these stories and many others chronicling cultural icons influential ideas and world changing innovations that all came from one city of modest size across the Charles River from Boston Nearly 200 illustrations connect stories to Cambridge locations Cambridge is famous for being home to MIT and Harvard and these institutions play a leading role in many of these stories the development of microwave radar the invention of napalm and Robert Lowell's poetry workshop for example But many have no academic connection including Junior Mints Mount Auburn Cemetery the first garden cemetery and the public radio show Car Talk It's clear that Cambridge has not only a genius for invention but also a genius for reinvention and authors Karen Weintraub and Michael Kuchta consider larger lessons from Cambridge's success stories about urbanism the roots of innovation and nurturing the next generation of good ideas      The Worldwide History of Telecommunications Anton A. Sue A. Kohler,Jeffrey R. Carson,United States. Commission of Fine Arts,1978 To Conquer the Air James Tobin,2012-06-12

James Tobin award winning author of Ernie Pyle s War and The Man He Became has penned the definitive account of the inspiring and impassioned race between the Wright brothers and their primary rival Samuel Langley across ten years and two continents to conquer the air For years Wilbur Wright and his younger brother Orville experimented in obscurity supported only by their exceptional family Meanwhile the world watched as Samuel Langley armed with a contract from the US War Department and all the resources of the Smithsonian Institution sought to create the first manned flying machine But while Langley saw flight as a problem of power the Wrights saw a problem of balance Thus their machines took two very different paths Langley s toward oblivion the Wrights toward the heavens though not before facing countless other obstacles With a historian s accuracy and a novelist s eye Tobin has captured an extraordinary moment in history To Conquer the Air is itself a heroic achievement Heroines of Horticulture Stefan White,2024-10-28 A celebration and a salute to 100 brave determined creative women over the past few centuries who have shaped North America's heritage and landscapes through their horticulture work and contributions. Through tales of invention, creativity, dogged research, innovation, perspiration, and inspiration spanning from the early 1700s to the mid 1980s, Heroines of Horticulture offers readers insight into 100 influential women who met and overcame obstacles to contribute a horticulture legacy that has helped shape the land that surrounds us today in North America. Many of the featured women are unknown or forgotten figures of horticulture history, making this book an overdue opportunity to acknowledge their work and celebrate their achievements that have left a lasting legacy. Profiles include the following:

Martha Danielle Logan 1704-1779: An early American botanist who was instrumental in seed exchanges between Britain and the North American colonies. She wrote an influential gardening advice column and was a major collector of plants endemic to the Carolinas.

Annie Linda Jack 1839-1912: The first Canadian professional female garden writer. Upon her marriage, she had stipulated for 1 acre of land to be devoted to any department of horticulture; she chose the profits to be her own pocket money. She wrote about her experiences in the Rural New Yorker under the title "A Woman's Acre." The American horticulturalist Liberty Hyde Bailey referred to Annie Linda Jack's garden as one of the most original gardens he knew.

Mary Gibson Henry 1884-1967: An American botanist and plant collector from Lower Merion Township, Pennsylvania, near Philadelphia, who also served as president of the American Horticultural Society. The daylily Hymenocallis henryae is named in her honor.

Nelva Weber 1908-1990: An American landscape architect who wrote extensively about landscape design. She opened her practice in 1945 in New York City. Prior to that, she worked on the Palisades Parkway with C. C. Combs. She was also employed by the architecture firm Shaw Maess Murphy and later as a designer on city parks for the New York City Parks Department. And many more.

Heroines of Horticulture is the perfect addition to the shelves and coffee tables of gardening enthusiasts and women's history and feminist history readers and makes a great gift for anyone with a love of gardening or landscape design and history.

Virginia Beach Amy Waters Yarsinske, 2002

Few would guess from looking at the resplendent Virginia Beach shoreline—its stretches of fine sand, sloping dunes, and rolling waves—that the city has experienced anything but peace and tranquility since the history of its native Chesapeake tribe collided with the ambition and vision of new European settlers on the colonial coastline. But turmoil and conflict, as well as progress and achievement, are all a part of the area's unique story. Virginia Beach: A History of Virginia's Golden Shore brings to life the people, places, and events that contributed to the city's celebrated reputation. Through stories and memories, readers are introduced to the varied citizens who called this land home, including such characters as Sarah Offley, who married three of early Virginia's most powerful settlers, and to the city's illustrious visitors. This volume also details in both word and image the influential resort age which began in 1880 and saw the community flourish as people flocked to the Atlantic shore to dance, picnic, and enjoy the surf at the Princess Anne Hotel. Everyday vacationers mingled with notables such as Alexander

Graham Bell and John Lionel and Ethel Barrymore at the landmark hotel with the railroad at its front door Although little of the golden shore remains unchanged modern residents continue to preserve what they can especially their memories pride and love for the city      [Must Read Personalities] A life Story of Alexander Graham Bell InRead Team,2022-06-05
