Peace, 2003-04-03 In our society the overwhelming majority of people die in later life They typically die slowly of chronic diseases with multiple co existing problems over long periods of time They spend the majority of their final years at home but many will die in hospitals or care homes This book explores the possibilities for improving the care of older people dying in residential care and nursing homes It argues that there are aspects of palliative care that given the right circumstances are transferable to dying people in settings that are not domestic or hospice based End of Life in Care Homes describes what happens in nursing and residential care homes when a resident is dying how carers cope and the practical health and emotional challenges that carers face on top of their day to day work Based on detailed research from both the UK and US the book shows how the situation can be improved Nursing and Nursing Education Division of Health Care Services, 1983-02 Results are presented of a study of nursing and nursing education that focused on the need for continued federal support of nursing education ways to attract nurses to medically underserved areas and approaches to encourage nurses to stay in the profession Findings are presented on whether the aggregate supply of generalist nurses will be sufficient to meet future demand and how changes that could occur in the health care system might affect demand. Attention is also directed to how the current and future supply of nurses may be influenced by the costs of nursing education and the sources of education financing and education for generalist positions in nursing. In addition, the supply and demand situation for nurses educationally prepared for advanced professional positions in nursing is examined. The influence of employer policies and practices in utilization of nursing resources on demand and supply is also addressed. Finally, areas in which further data and studies are needed to better monitor nursing supply and demand are identified. In addition to 21 recommendations, appendices include information on Nursing Training Act appropriations, state reports on nursing issues, certificates for specialist registered nurses, projections of registered nurse supply and requirements, and doctoral programs in nursing.

THE DEFINITIVE TEXT ON THE PRINCIPLES AND CLINICAL PRACTICE OF NURSING HOME CARE

Nursing Home Care is a practical textbook designed to serve as a rich evidence-based resource to provide physicians and other practitioners with the information and knowledge to advance nursing home care. It states and explains the principles underpinning safe, personalized, and dignified nursing home practice using an integrated cooperative approach. In addition, it provides the medical knowledge necessary to give quality care to nursing home residents. Nursing Home Care reflects the International Association for Geriatrics and Gerontology's conviction that nursing home practice is an interdisciplinary endeavor that requires a sound theoretical, scientific, and values base in addition to clinical expertise. Mindful of the influences of different culture and context, the premise of this text is that there is a shared and common knowledge base to guide nursing home practice and approaches to caring that are universal.

THIS UNIQUE TEXT IS LOGICALLY DIVIDED INTO FOUR PARTS:

- PART 1 covers the origins of the nursing home movement plus alternative approaches including aging in place and what older people are saying about nursing home life and culture change.
- PART 2 focuses on the fundamentals of working as part of a nursing home team, providing day-to-day care, and the leadership essentials to drive the quality improvement agenda.
- PART 3 addresses the most common conditions experienced by older nursing home residents.
- PART 4 is devoted to clinical and nursing aspects of specific disease management.

KEY FEATURES: Online supplemental material including 1,000 PowerPoint slides available to faculty plus Q&A available from the IAGGI. Over 150 multiple-choice questions. Key points for each chapter. An essential study guide for the IAGG certificate in nursing home care.

Improving Care in the Nursing Home Laurence Z. Rubenstein, Darryl Wieland, 1993-08-27

In recent years, the nursing home has emerged as the dominant health-related institution in U.S. health care. Yet the knowledge base regarding nursing home patients' care and outcomes is underdeveloped compared to that of acute and ambulatory care. Improving Care in the Nursing Home provides systematic reviews of the state of clinical and health services research in patient care problem areas pertinent to nursing homes. Each chapter defines progress on a specific clinical nursing home problem and provides a critical synthesis and review of research information.

Topics covered include medication use infection control pressure ulcers falls urinary incontinence and behavior problems This volume also includes sections on managing nurse aides clinical interventions for nutritional problems and clinical research on falls in nursing homes Improving Care in the Nursing Home is essential reading for those in the health professions interested in quality of care in the nursing home The language is clear and approachable without excess medical jargon The chapters are well organized self contained and easily digested reflective of a great deal of effort by both the authors and editors This book is a worthwhile addition to the libraries of academically oriented nursing homes and of researchers in the issues of clinical practice in the long term care setting Journal of the American Geriatrics Society
