Restorative Care Nursing for Older Adults Barbara Resnick, 2004-07-28 The purpose of restorative care nursing is to take an active role in helping older adults maintain their highest level of function thus preventing excess disability This book was written to help formal and informal caregivers and administrators at all levels to understand the basic philosophy of restorative care and be able to develop and implement successful restorative care programs The book provides a complete 6 week education program in restorative care for caregivers many suggestions for suitable activities and practical strategies for motivating both older adults and caregivers to engage in restorative care In addition the book provides an overview of the requirements for restorative care across all settings the necessary documentation and ways in which to complete that documentation

Geriatric Palliative Care Suzanne Goldhirsch, 2014-03-21 The growing geriatric population in the United States has created an increasing need for palliative medicine services across the range of medical and surgical specialties Yet palliative medicine lacks the resources to carry such a workload itself Geriatric Palliative Care addresses this need by encouraging individual specialties to own the management of elderly with the same vigor as they own other key management competencies within their specialty This clinically focused and highly practical handbook which compliments the more comprehensive text Geriatric Palliative Care by Sean Morrison and Diane Meier Oxford University Press 2003 encourages this process of learning and ownership across many medical specialties Designed to be readable and easily accessible to a range of health care providers Geriatric Palliative Care outlines specific strategies for caring for specific palliative care issues common in elderly patients The handbook also provides evidence based advice for helping patients relatives and staff cope with such issues as polypharmacy dementia and consent multiple pathologies home care elderly caregivers and supporting the elderly in the place where they would like to be National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1971 Public Health Reports, 1960 Handbook of Clinical Behavior Therapy with the Elderly Client Patricia A. Wisocki, 2013-11-21 Although we speak of the elderly as if there were one body of people with common characteristics older adults are more heterogeneous than any other population People over the age of 65 are also the fastest growing segment of the population in the United States currently numbering 25 million The majority of older adults reside in their communities a small fraction of them are cared for in institutions Most may expect to experience some kind of physical impairment Approximately a quarter of the population may expect to suffer a mental health impairment While traditional therapies have not been especially effective for older adults behavior therapy has shown exceptional promise as a treatment modality This book presents a comprehensive explication of the relatively new field of behavioral gerontology It was written for the clinician interested in the interaction of medical environmental and psychological variables and their effects on treatment of elderly clients and for the researcher who will be looking to extend knowledge about interventions with this population It will be useful for the graduate student in clinical psychology as well as the experienced clinician who will want to include the elderly in his or her therapeutic population
