Hypertension Medicine Michael A. Weber, 2000-10-31 Michael Weber MD and a panel of distinguished authorities provide a comprehensive practical survey focusing on the key issues that determine the who, when, and how of hypertension management. Emphasis is given to the practical issues of management: how to select treatments that optimize results for even the most difficult to treat hypertensive patient and what to do about the major concomitant problems. Examined in detail are the principal underlying mechanisms of hypertension, particularly those that help explain treatment choices as well as the best techniques for successfully evaluating patients before treatment. Authoritative and eminently readable, Hypertension Medicine constitutes a highly practical account of the challenging issues faced daily by family physicians, internists, and general practitioners in the evaluation and optimal management of hypertension.

The ESC Handbook on Cardiovascular Pharmacotherapy Juan Carlos Kaski, Keld Per Kjeldsen, 2019-05-16 This European Society of Cardiology (ESC) Handbook on Cardiovascular Pharmacotherapy has been developed by experts from the ESC Working Group on Cardiovascular Pharmacotherapy. Its recommendations are aligned with the ESC Clinical Practice Guidelines and based on the most recent scientific evidence in cardiovascular pharmacology and pharmacotherapy. The Handbook provides up-to-date information on pharmacotherapy for cardiovascular disease prevention and treatment of cardiovascular disease, including ischaemic heart disease, heart failure, arrhythmias, and structural heart disease. The Handbook also deals with the important problems of cardiovascular pharmacotherapy in pregnancy and lactation, kidney insufficiency, and liver disease, as well as focusing on major drug interactions, a topic of extreme importance in clinical practice. Two large sections of the book provide a comprehensive A-Z formulary of cardiac and non-cardiac pharmacological agents with practical and accessible information on the most important pharmacological aspects of these agents and their use in clinical practice. The Handbook represents essential reading for cardiologists, general practitioners, internal medicine specialists, anaesthetists, clinical pharmacologists, geriatricians, obstetricians, and cardiovascular nurse consultants. Junior doctors and trainees in all these specialties are also likely to find this book of help. The print edition comes with full access to the online version that will be updated at yearly intervals to keep it up to date.

Community-based Maternity Care Geoffrey Marsh, Mary Renfrew, 1998-10-22 This important book makes the case for placing maternity care in the community. It has been written by a multidisciplinary group. The first section considers the role and function of the participants in community based maternity care the woman the midwife and the GP The second section discusses four major contemporary issues the radically changing social background the economics of care audit and education of the carers Next the major clinical challenges in maternity care are tackled how to reduce the differences in morbidity and mortality which are associated with differences in age social class and ethnicity the care of disadvantaged groups prematurity and low birth weight and their prevention technology used in childbirth and the fetal origins of adult disease Finally all aspects of the clinical care carried out by Gps and midwives are covered The editors hope that after reading this book midwives Gps and obstetricians should find the theory underpinning their work has been sharply defined and that their work will be more effective and evidence based The editors a GP and a midwife anticipate the resolution of the current tensions between midwife GP and obstetrician and look forward to a responsive effective and sensitive service for mothers and babies in the next millennium

Reviving Primary Care John Fry, Donald Light, Jonathan Rodrick, Peter Orton, 2018-05-08 The quality of health care in the US depends on the patient's ability to pay and his or her insurance cover at an annual cost of 3600 per head of population In the UK the quality of care costs less at an annual cost of 1000 per head of population although care is sometimes delayed through a lack of resources This book compares the two systems from the viewpoint of primary care identifying some models of excellence from which both can benefit It draws on the experience of the NHS reforms in the UK and the political imperative to control costs and improve the service in the US

Managing diabetes, managing medicine Martin D. Moore, 2019-03-01 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY open access license This book is available as an open access ebook under a CC BY NC ND licence Through its study of diabetes care in twentieth century Britain Managing diabetes managing medicine offers the first historical monograph to explore how the decision making and labour of medical professionals became subject to bureaucratic regulation and managerial oversight Where much existing literature has cast health care management as either a political imposition or an assertion of medical control this work positions managerial medicine as a co constructed venture Although driven by different motives doctors nurses professional bodies government agencies and international organisations were all integral to the creation of managerial systems working within a context of considerable professional political technological economic and cultural change

Third International Conference on System Science in Health Care W. van Eimeren, R. Engelbrecht, C. D. Flagle, 2012-12-06 In the early stages of planning the Third International Conference in System Science in Health Care the steering committee members most of whom had participated in the first conference in Paris 1976 and the second in Montreal 1980 made some basic decisions about organization of subject matter The earlier meetings had been very successful in bringing together specialists from the health professions and the traditional sciences In addition to physicians and nurses these were representatives of the disciplines of the behavioral sciences system theory economics engineering and the emergent fields of management science and informatics all concerned with the development of health resources in a broad system context The reported research and experience of the many disciplines represented had dealt with one or more of three concerns 1 a major health problem such as cardiovascular disease or an important population at risk such as the elderly or children or workers 2 some generic aspect of organization and decision making including trial and evaluation of innovative health strategies and 3 the methodology of research and analysis in system of health service The challenge to the conference organizers lay in the eliciting and arranging of experiences in such a way that the health services could be seen as purposeful living evolving systems
