Shared Wealth And Symbol:

Shared Wealth and Symbol Lenore Manderson, 1986-12-26 This 1987 volume brought together for the first time a range of essays on the anthropology of food in Oceania and Southeast Asia. The essays reflect research in the field primarily that undertaken by Australian scholars. The volume focuses on four main concerns: factors that influence the production of food and dietary behaviour; the way in which people think and speak about diet and nutrition; including concepts of hunger and the classification of foods; infant feeding practice including the promotion of bottle feeding and the roles of government agencies and multinational corporations. The regional focus of the volume also allows for discussion of common trends especially those that have arisen as a result of societies in the region having been incorporated into the world economy. Applicable elsewhere in the world, the volume offers a basis for a comparative analysis of food in culture and society. The Anthropology of Food and Body Carole M. Counihan, 2018-10-24 The Anthropology of Food and Body explores the way that making eating and thinking about food reveal culturally determined gender power relations in diverse societies. This book brings feminist and anthropological theories to bear on these provocative issues and will interest anyone investigating the relationship between food, the body and cultural notions of gender.

Shared Symbols, Contested Meanings Loretta Fowler, 2018-08-06 Fort Belknap reservation in Montana is home to both the Gros Ventre and Assiniboiné Indian tribes. The two thousand inhabitants of the reservation recognize an array of symbols, political ritual and sacred which have meaning and emotional impact for all, yet there is sharp disagreement between the two tribes and among the various age groups about the interpretation of these symbols. Anthropologist Loretta Fowler here examines the history and culture of the Gros Ventres over two centuries seeking to discover why the residents of Fort Belknap ascribe different and often opposing meanings to their shared cultural symbols and how these differences have influenced Gros Ventre identity.

The image-symbolic system of the novel "Oblomov" by Ivan Goncharov Vladimir Brajuc, 2024-04-21 This monograph deals with the figurative and symbolic system in the novel Oblomov by I. A. Goncharov. It presents different interpretations of the image of Oblomov, demonstrates its complexity, organic combination of the typical and the individual. The author reveals the most significant artistic techniques of creating characters typical for the novel and for the writer's individual style in general. The study gives aesthetic characteristics of the novel characters, defines their artistic role and reveals polysemanticism in the novel structure. The Supplement presents a reflective hero in Russian literature and Soviet cinema from Onegin and Oblomov to Zilov. The characteristic features of the literary type of superfluous person are highlighted in N. Mikhalkov's film A Few Days from the Life of I. I. Oblomov as well as in A. Vampilov's play Duck Hunting and in its film adaptation Vacation in September directed by V. Melnikov. The monograph is addressed to teachers and pupils, professors and students of philological faculties as well as to everyone who reads and loves literature.

American Babylon Robert O. Self, 2005-08-08 A gripping portrait of black power politics and the struggle for civil rights in postwar Oakland As the birthplace of the Black Panthers and a nationwide tax revolt California embodied a crucial motif of the postwar United States the rise of suburbs and the decline of cities a process in which black and white histories inextricably joined American Babylon tells this story through Oakland and its nearby suburbs tracing both the history of civil rights and black power politics as well as the history of suburbanization and home owner politics Robert Self shows that racial inequities in both New Deal and Great Society liberalism precipitated local struggles over land jobs taxes and race within postwar metropolitan development Black power and the tax revolt evolved together in tension American Babylon demonstrates that the history of civil rights and black liberation politics in California did not follow a southern model but represented a long term struggle for economic rights that began during the World War II years and continued through the rise of the Black Panthers in the late 1960s This struggle yielded a wide ranging and profound critique of postwar metropolitan development and its foundation of class and racial segregation Self traces the roots of the 1978 tax revolt to the 1940s when home owners real estate brokers and the federal government used racial segregation and industrial property taxes to forge a middle class lifestyle centered on property ownership Using the East Bay as a starting point Robert Self gives us a richly detailed engaging narrative that uniquely integrates the most important racial liberation struggles and class
