Shattering the Silence Carley Dodd, Darryl Tippens, David K. Lewis, 1995-08-01 Sex, Religion, Media Dane S. Claussen, 2002-10-16 Each chapter in this unique volume explores intersections of sex religion and media in our society An interdisciplinary cast of contributors examines a wide variety of themes including entertainment producers roles in disseminating sexual and religious content news coverage of stories about sex and religion religious conservatives efforts to influence media coverage of sex and values and how religious consumers are influenced by and react to sexual content in media Shattering the Silence David K. Lewis, Student of Christ Church and Professor of Ancient History David Lewis, Darryl Tippens, Carley Dodd, 1990-02 "Same Is Better" Cari Myers, 2022-10-31 As younger generations drift away from evangelical churches the number of religiously unaffiliated young adults grows Is the drift because of politics personal morality rebelliousness culture wars or something else In this project 16 young adults from the Churches of Christ participate in qualitative interviews over a five year span They describe messages they learned about success and survival from their faith communities as children and how they have embraced and reinterpreted those messages into helpful life principles as adults The resulting study explores issues of ethnicity in evangelical borderland communities and contrasts Latinx narratives with white narratives in religious and educative contexts Findings also revealed gendered narratives class based narratives and the glaring absence of helpful narratives around sexuality filtered through the lenses of religion and education The central finding of the interviews is this participants experienced the Church of Christ as rewarding conformity with community a strategy when it works which secures the future of the denomination and cements a conservative doctrine in the next generation of leadership However the study concludes that true survival narratives were the narratives participants constructed in response to the narratives provided by Churches of Christ Shattering the Illusion Tracy J. Trothen, 2012-09-01 Shattering the Illusion is the first book to gather and comparatively analyze policies addressing child sexual abuse complaints in a selection of religious institutions in Canada Although there is a substantial body of literature regarding Christianity and sexual abuse very little of it focuses on religious institutions in Canada and their respective policies In the foreword Tracey J Trothen summarizes the Cornwall Inquiry out of which this book arose She then examines the Roman Catholic Church The United Church of Canada the Anglican Church the Mennonite Church Islam and the Canadian Unitarian Council Unitarian Universalist Association describing in detail the evolution and particular content of policies and procedures that address child sexual abuse complaints directed at paid and volunteer faith community representatives and or leaders She identifies differences and common themes among the approaches taken by the institutions and provides a summary table for an accessible comparative overview Child sexual abuse is not new but the emergence of policies to address abuse complaints within religious institutions is This book identifies significant and shared causal factors behind the emergence of policy and reviews their content carefully This review will serve as a significant tool
