The Beloved in Middle Eastern Literatures Alireza Korangy, Hanadi Al-Samman, Michael Beard, 2017-05-30 In the long literary history of the Middle East the notion of the beloved has been a central trope in both the poetry and prose of the region This book explores the concept of the beloved in a cross cultural and interdisciplinary manner revealing how shared ideas on the subject supersede geographical and temporal boundaries and ideas of nationhood The book considers the beloved in its classical modern and postmodern manifestations taking into account the different sexual orientations and forms of desire expressed From the pre Islamic Udhri romantic unrequited love to the erotic same sex love in thirteenth century poetry and prose the divine Sufi reflections on the topic and post revolutionary love encounters in Iran Egypt and Saudi Arabia The Beloved in Middle Eastern Literatures connects the affective and cultural with the political and the obscene In focusing on the diverse manifestations of love and tropes of the lover beloved binary this book is unique in foregrounding what is often regarded as a taboo subject in the region The multi faceted outlook reveals the variety of philological philosophical poetic and literary forms that treat this significant motif      Seeking Wisdom in Adult Teaching and Learning Wilma Fraser,2017-10-24 This book concerns the pursuit of wisdom in education and the argument that wisdom personified here as Sophia is tragically marginalised or absent in current Western epistemological discourses It includes a review of key historical and classical framings which have lost much potency and relevance as certain cultural narratives hold sway these include the reductionist technicist and highly instrumentalist discourses which shape the articulation and delivery of much education policy and practice whilst reflecting similar troubling framings from broader neoliberal perspectives Fraser argues that wisdom s marginalisation has had and continues to have profoundly deleterious consequences for our educative practices Through a compelling combination of narrative and autoethnographic techniques while also drawing on philosophical and cultural traditions the book pushes at the boundaries of emerging knowledge including how knowledge is generated It will be of interest to those who facilitate the learning of adults in a variety of settings as well as to students and supervisors seeking exemplars and justification for working in non traditional ways      Imagery, Ritual, and Birth Anna M.
