Retrospective Prophecy and Medieval English Authorship Kimberly Fonzo, 2022-01-27 The prescience of medieval English authors has long been a source of fascination to readers. Retrospective Prophecy and Medieval English Authorship draws attention to the ways that misinterpreted proleptically added or dubiously attributed prognostications influenced the reputations of famed Middle English authors. It illuminates the creative ways in which William Langland, John Gower, and Geoffrey Chaucer engaged with prophecy to cultivate their own identities and to speak to the problems of their age. Retrospective Prophecy and Medieval English Authorship examines the prophetic reputations of these well-known medieval authors whose fame made them especially subject to nationalist appropriation. Kimberly Fonzo explains that retrospectively co-opting the prophetic voices of canonical authors aids those looking to excuse or endorse key events of national history by implying that they were destined to happen. She challenges the reputations of Langland, Gower, and Chaucer as prophets of the Protestant Reformation, Richard II's deposition, and secular Humanism, respectively. This intellectual and critical assessment of medieval authors and their works successfully makes the case that prophecy emerged and recurred as an important theme in medieval authorial self-representations. The Uniqueness of Western Civilization Ricardo Duchesne, 2011-02-07 This extensively researched book argues that the development of a libertarian culture was an indispensable component of the rise of the West. The roots of the West's superior intellectual and artistic creativity should be traced back to the aristocratic warlike culture of Indo-European speakers. Among the many fascinating topics discussed are the ascendancy of multicultural historians and the degradation of European history, China's ecological endowments and imperial windfalls, military revolutions in Europe, 1300-1800, the science and chivalry of Henry the Navigator, Judaism and its contribution to Western rationalism, the cultural richness of Max Weber versus the intellectual poverty of Pomeranz, Wong, Goldstone, Goody, and A. G. Frank, change without progress in the East, Hegel's Phenomenology of the Western Spirit, Nietzsche and the education of the Homeric Greeks, Kojève's master-slave dialectic and the Western state of nature, Christian virtues and German aristocratic expansionism. Against All England Robert W. Barrett, 2009 This book examines poems, plays, and chronicles produced in Cheshire from the 1190s to the 1650s that collectively argue for the localization of British literary history.
