connections between particular events in their lives and the larger pattern of Christian salvation The texts reproduced here are united in the way they interconnect personal experiences and feelings with scriptural passages in an attempt to understand daily life in spiritual terms Almost all the women whose works appear in these volumes would have been considered religious radicals by their contemporaries Living through the turbulent times of the English Revolution 1642 1660 it is unsurprising that their life writings are marked by a sense of persecution Many of them spent time in prison Katherine Evans Sarah Cheevers and Barbara Blaugdane were all imprisoned for preaching the faith of The Society of Friends while Mary Rowlandson spent several months as a captive of North American Indians In her introduction to these writings Elizabeth Skerpan Wheeler provides brief biographical sketches of these writers together with details of the publication history of each text With the exception of Rowlandson s works the writings in these volumes are the first complete unabridged editions in modern times This is a short relation of some of the cruel sufferings (for the truths sake) of K. E. and S. Chevers in the Inquisition in the Isle of Malta. [Edited by D. Baker.] Katharine Evans, 1662

The Messenger, 1920
Chain of Peace Russell Scalia, 2008-06 The soulhell stirred within the dark recesses of the void that confined it as it began to feel its master s presence The creature did not wish its slumber to be disturbed because the void was cold and empty a formless cavity of blackness without sound or substance Soon it recognized the presence that reached out to it and it could not resist At long last someone had come to break the dreaded silence that had driven the creature mad At first the presence seemed merely an illusion and only slowly did the soulhell feel its full force It would live again Steal a soul so that it could walk once more upon the earth Sollyhnn awoke with a start unable to rid his mind of the nightmares that had haunted his thoughts for the last twelve evenings He slowly left his bed his mind still caught between dreams and reality and unknowingly began a journey that would take him through worlds he had never imagined existed and years to complete
