Critical White Studies Richard Delgado, Jean Stefancic, 1997 No longer content with accepting whiteness as the norm critical scholars have turned their attention to whiteness itself In Critical White Studies Looking Behind the Mirror numerous thinkers including Toni Morrison Eric Foner Peggy McIntosh Andrew Hacker Ruth Frankenberg John Howard Griffin David Roediger Kathleen Heal Cleaver Noel Ignatiev Cherrie Moraga and Reginald Horsman attack such questions as How was whiteness invented and why How has the category whiteness changed over time Why did some immigrant groups such as the Irish and Jews start out as nonwhite and later became white Can some individual people be both white and nonwhite at different times and what does it mean to pass for white At what point does pride in being white cross the line into white power or white supremacy What can whites concerned over racial inequity or white privilege do about it Science and pseudoscience are presented side by side to demonstrate how our views on whiteness often reflect preconception not fact For example most scientists hold that race is not a valid scientific category genetic differences between races are insignificant compared to those within them Yet the one drop rule whereby those with any nonwhite heritage are classified as nonwhite persists even today As the bell curve controversy shows race concepts die hard especially when power and prestige lie behind them A sweeping portrait of the emerging field of whiteness studies Critical White Studies presents for the first time the best work from sociology law history cultural studies and literature Delgado and Stefancic expressly offer critical white studies as the next step in critical race theory In focusing on whiteness not only do they ask nonwhites to investigate more closely for what it means for others to be white but also they invite whites to examine themselves more searchingly and to look behind the mirror

Acevedo-Muñoz, 2025-03-18 Though Luis Buñuel one of the most important filmmakers of the twentieth century spent his most productive years as a director in Mexico film histories and criticism invariably pay little attention to his work during this period The only book length English language study of Buñuel s Mexican films this book is the first to explore a significant but neglected area of this filmmaker s distinguished career and thus to fill a gap in our appreciation and understanding of both Buñuel s achievement and the history of Mexican film Ernesto Acevedo Muñoz considers Buñuel s Mexican films made between 1947 and 1965 within the context of a national and nationalist film industry comparing the filmmaker s employment of styles genres character types themes and techniques to those most characteristic of Mexican cinema In this study Buñuel s films emerge as a link between the Classical Mexican cinema of the 1930s through the 1950s and the new Cinema of the 1960s flourishing in a time of crisis for the national film industry and introducing some of the stylistic and conceptual changes that would revitalize Mexican cinema

Plotting Women Jean Franco, 1989 Where is the common ground for feminist theory and Latin American culture Jean Franco explores Mexican women s struggle for interpretive power in relation to the Catholic religion the nation and post modern society and examines the writings of women who wrote under the shadow of recognized male writers as well as the works of more marginal figures In this original and skillfully written book Franco demonstrates the many feminisms that emerge in apparently rigid and adverse situations and provides the foundation for a more comprehensive less ethnocentric feminist theory

Mexican Cinema Carl J. Mora, 1989 The author s main reason for writing this book however is simply to provide an introduction to the Mexican commercial cinema for American and other English speaking readers Although the United States has been and continues to be a major foreign market for Mexican movies the overwhelming majority of Americans are unaware of them Mexican films are restricted to the Hispanic theater circuits and shown without English subtitles therefore anyone wishing to see a Mexican movie would have to be fairly fluent in Spanish Such a requisite effectively eliminates almost the entire general audience in the United States from exposure to Mexican cinema

Latin American Cinema Lisa Shaw,Stephanie Dennison,2014-10-01 Renewed interest in Latin American film industries has opened a host of paths of scholarly exploration Productions from different countries reflect particular social attitudes political climates and self conceptions and must be considered separately and as a whole The search for national identity is a key component of Latin American films in a time of decreasing cultural diversity and pressures to westernize Globalization and falling government support have fueled cross border collaborations calling into question the idea of a movie s nationality and leaving some nations film industries on the brink of collapse Whether thriving or barely surviving struggling to remain distinct or embracing globalization on its own terms addressing the government or society Latin American cinema remains vibrant offering a wealth of material to scholars of all stripes These collected essays explore important elements of Latin American cinema and its associated national film industries The first section of essays examines the impact of modernization on both Latin American screen images and the industry itself offering modern and historical perspectives The second section focuses on filmmakers who deal with issues of gender and sexuality whether sexual transgression the role of female characters or societal attitudes towards sex and nudity The final section of essays discusses the relationship between national identity and Latin American film industries how movies are used to create a sense of self Uruguay s ongoing identity crisis and Brazil s use of Hollywood s stereotypical depiction of the country to depict itself Photographs and an annotated bibliography accompany each essay and an index supplements the text Luis Bunuel Peter William Evans,Isabel Santaolalla,2019-07-25 This text ranges widely over key films and moments from stages of Luis Bunuel s career It locates and re appraises Bunuel s films with particular emphasis on the national cinemas and varied cultures with which he was identified Slums on Screen Igor Krstic,2016-04-26 Near to one billion people call slums their home making it a reasonable claim to describe our world as a planet of slums But how has this hard and unyielding way of life been depicted on screen How have filmmakers engaged historically and across the globe with the social conditions of what is often perceived as the world's most miserable habitats. Combining approaches from cultural globalisation and film studies, Igor Krstic outlines a transnational history of films that either document or fictionalise the favelas, shantytowns, barrios, poulares or chawls of our planet of slums, exploring the way accelerated urbanisation has intersected with an increasingly interconnected global film culture. From Jacob Riis' How The Other Half Lives (1890) to Danny Boyle's Slumdog Millionaire (2008), the volume provides a number of close readings of films from different historical periods and regions to outline how contemporary film and media practices relate to their past predecessors, demonstrating the way various filmmakers both north and south of the equator have repeatedly grappled with rejected or continuously modified documentary and realist modes to convey life in our planet of slums.

Animal Life and the Moving Image Michael Lawrence, Laura McMahon, 2019-07-25. From the proto-cinematic sequencing of animal motion in the nineteenth century to the ubiquity of animal videos online, the histories of animal life and the moving image are enigmatically interlocked. Animal Life and the Moving Image is the first collection of essays to offer a sustained focus on the relations between screen cultures and non-human animals. The volume brings together some of the most important and influential writers working on the non-human animal's significance for cultures and theories of the moving image. It offers innovative analyses of the representation of animals across a wide range of documentary, fiction, mainstream and avant-garde practices from early cinema to contemporary user-generated media. Individual chapters consider King Kong, The Birds, The Misfits, The Cove, Grizzly Man and Microcosmos, the work of Sergei Eisenstein, Robert Bresson, Malcolm Le Grice, Peter Greenaway, Carolee Schneemann and Isabella Rossellini, and YouTube stars Christian the lion and Maru the cat.

Mapping the Megalopolis Glen David Kuecker, Alejandro Puga, 2017-12-22. Mapping the Megalopolis: Order and Disorder in Mexico City brings the humanities and the social sciences into a conversation about Mexico City in its social, political and aesthetic manifestations. Through a shared exploration of the order and disorder that mutually constitute the city, contributing authors engage topics such as the privatization of public space, challenges to existing conceptualizations of the urban form, and variations on the flâneur and other urban actors. Mexico City is truly a city of versions, and Mapping the Megalopolis celebrates the intersection of the image of the city and the lived experience of it. Readers will find substantive entries on a great variety of Mexico City's monumental and counter-monumental spaces, as well as some of its pivotal contemporary debates and cultural products. The volume serves both as supplemental reading on the world city or the Latin American city and as a central text in a multidisciplinary study of Mexico City.
